"Petticoat Fever" Cast Selected by Director Stedman

Robert Stedman, director of the all-community play, "Petticoat Fever," today announced the cast which he selected after two tryouts held Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The cast follows: Dascom Dinsmore, James Boyle; Sir James Fenton, Don Darnelle; Komo, Don Shanahan; Captain Landry, Don McKenzie; Scotty, Bob Childers; the Rev. Arthur Shapham, Glenn Linn; Ethel, Jean Schuler; Clara, Shirley Lawrence; two Eskimo girls, Dorothy Lee and Barbara Koehler.

The majority of the cast is known to Medford audiences. James Boyle was prominent in University of Washington dramatics and also appeared in "Hay Fever," presented here last fall under the capable direction of Mr. Stedman. Don Darnelle will be remembered for his excellent portrayal of the father in "You Can't Take It With You," and for his work in "Hay Fever." Don Shanahan has appeared in Shakespearean Festival plays and also in local high school events.

Don McKenzie's dramatic ability had its first chance in "Hay Fever." He carried out the part of the rather stupid Englishman to perfection. Bob Childers has also appeared in Shakespeare and high school plays and Glenn Linn, new principal of the junior high school, will be new to Medford audiences. He, however, has had much experience in community dramatics. Jean Schuler is a veteran Shakespearean and Shirley Lawrence has had experience in high school plays. Dorothy Lee has appeared in Southern Oregon College of Education productions and Barbara Koehler will have her first part in local plays.

Mr. Stedman today issued a call for technical staff workers. So far, only Mr. Childers and Miss Lee have been selected for this important work. Others interested are to contact Mr. Stedman. Initial rehearsal will be held this evening at 7:30 in the high school auditorium. Lavon Davis will be the book holder and will assist Mr. Stedman in other ways.

The director said today that he expects to produce another play in the spring and that those not receiving a part in "Petticoat Fever" will have an opportunity then.

"Petticoat Fever" will be presented at the high school auditorium October 25 and 26, Mr. Stedman revealed today.

Many Anticipate Countess' Talk in City Monday

Residents of southern Oregon are anticipating with interest the appearance here next Monday evening of the Countess Morag Zamoyska and Mrs. Ivison Macadam, both refugees from the European war, who will speak at the high school auditorium. The countess, a former Polish resident, will speak on "The Destruction of Warsaw," and Mrs. Macadam, who formerly resided in London, will speak on "England at War."

Both Mrs. Macadam and Countess Zamoyska have made a number of lecture appearances in the northern part of the state and their first-hand accounts of the war are said to be most vivid. Mrs. Macadam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Corbett of Portland. She returned to this country last June from London, bringing with her a group of refugee children, among them her own two children.

Countess Zamoyska, who lived through the terrible siege of Warsaw, escaped last fall to England and this summer came to this country, accompanied by her small daughter. The Countess is a Scotchwoman by birth and her Polish husband is in a German concentration camp. "With such widespread interest in the war, and generally with the foreign policy of this country, the lecturers come at an especially timely moment," says Mrs. Justin Smith, head of the foreign policy department of the Jackson County League of Women Voters, sponsoring group for the lectures.

"The League of Women Voters has recognized for many years that the power and importance of the United States make it a factor in world affairs. The league has also recognized that conditions in other parts of the world affect the well-being of the United States. The league has therefore urged that the influence of the United States be used to promote peaceful relations among countries and to discourage aggression. Before and after the outbreak of hostilities in Europe it supported legislation to permit aid to the Allies as the victims of aggression, knowing that the interests of the United States would best be served if no war occurred or if the Allies were victorious. It has worked for legislation to promote a freer flow of international trade. It has supported efforts to promote close cooperation among the Americas. It has supported the efforts of the administration to stop aggression in China. The league continues to support the principles underlying these specific actions."

The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock. A small admission charge will be made to cover expenses.

Wenonah Club Will Convene
Members of the Pocahontas lodge enjoyed cards and other games after their recent business session. Refreshments were served by Gladys Ramm in, Georgia Burnham, Eva Waldron and Helen Keese.

Wenonah club will have a dessert bridge party Thursday at the lodge hall at 1:30. Laura Wicker and her committee will be in charge.

Historic Church Scene of Wedding

The historic and picturesque Methodist church in Jacksonville was the scene of the wedding, September 13, of Evelyn Hamaker and Walter LeRoy Hubbard. The impressive ceremony, read by candlelight, was performed by the Rev. E. N. Malley.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard left on their wedding trip to the coast and later will be at home to their friends in Jacksonville.

The bride chose her birthday as her wedding date.

Ernest Smith Is Feted at Party

Ernest Smith, well-known Medford boy who plans to leave Sunday for University of Oregon in Eugene, was honored at a surprise party last evening when members of the senior accorcion band entertained at the home of the director, Mrs. Harry Prentice on Newtown street.

Twenty-two members of the band from Ashland, Talent and Medford gathered for the pleasant affair. Mr. Smith is a member of the band. Accorcion solos and other forms of entertainment were enjoyed and refreshments were served during the evening.

Whitneys Hosts To Visitors

Jacksonville, Sept. 18—(Spl.)—Mrs. J. E. Walton and Mrs. Henry Sellers of Los Angeles were recent visitors at the H. C. Whitney home. Mrs. Walton is a sister of Mr. Whitney.

While visiting here they enjoyed a visit to the Snowy Ridge chrome mine, now in operation, which is jointly owned by H. C. Whitney, Lloyd Whitney, Arley Beasley and Art Kleinhammer.

The couple planned to visit the world's fair in San Francisco en route to their home.

Reservations for the B. P. W. second district conference of the Oregon Federation to be held at Timberline lodge at Mt. Hood September 28 and 29 are to be made with Mrs. Winnie Weishaar as soon as possible.

Miss Holmes Will Become Job's Queen

Job's Daughters will hold installation ceremonies Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Temple.

The following officers will be installed by Ruth Nordwick: Queen, Nanette Holmes, senior princess, Patricia Dippel; Carol Tengwald, junior princess; Joan Aya, guide; Beverly Brooks, marshal.

The ceremony is open to the public with parents, Masons and Eastern Star members especially invited to attend.

Phoenix Society Will Convene
Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church in Phoenix will meet in the church parlors at 2 p. m. Thursday. Miss Cora Morgan and Mrs. J. O. N. Poling will present the subject, "Alaska." All women of the community are invited.

Mrs. Obye Gives Luncheon for Club

Mrs. H. C. Obye entertained members of her regular bridge club yesterday afternoon with a luncheon at the Hotel Holland.

Those enjoying the affair were Mesdames William M. McAllister, Chester Hubbard, Dwight Findley, Karl Janouch, Bayard Getchell, Kenneth Denman and Jack Porter.

Following the luncheon, bridge was played at the Obye home on East Main street.

Mrs. Willett Opens Music Studio Here

Rosa Blackmore Willett opened her pianoforte studio yesterday in Baldwin Piano shoppe. Mrs. Willett has a fine international background as a musician, having been a student of the Leipzig Conservatorium under Teichmuller, a world-renowned master.

Mrs. Willett frequently receives communications congratulatory to her training, from colleges where her pupils later attend. She has several students now attending Mills.

Miss Whitney Home by Plane

Miss Valeria Whitney of Roy-alcrest orchard returned last evening by plane from San Francisco especially to try out for "Petticoat Fever" in the Medford high school.

Miss Whitney accompanied her uncle, Irving Miller, to the Bay City. He also returned by plane last evening. The plane was late in arriving so Robert Stedman, director of the play, held a special trout for Miss Whitney.

Donald Price Visits Parents

Donald Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Price of Portland is visiting here at the home of his parents on Sunset avenue.

Mr. Price, who will vacation here a week, is employed in the control room of station KOIN in the New Heathman hotel in Portland. He arrived here last evening.

CONNECTICUT GOP PICKS EX-AD MAN FOR SENATE RACE

New York Labor Right Wing-ers Hold Margin Over Leftists in Early Returns

By the Associated Press
Connecticut Republicans selected an ex-advertising man today to run for the United States senate against the Democratic incumbent, while returns from yesterday's primaries confirmed, in the main, trends established in early counts.

Paul L. Cornell, now owner of a preparatory school, was choice of the Connecticut Republican convention. He will oppose Senator Francis T. Maloney in November.

In New York, so-called "right wing" of the American Labor party supporting President Roosevelt won 53 congressional and state legislative offices to 50 for opposing "leftists." One independent came out the winner in the first 94 or 131 contests to be settled.

Wisconsin G. O. P. Wins
The double defeat of former Representative John J. O'Connor of New York and strength shown by Wisconsin Republicans were other highlights.

O'Connor, whose defeat for the Democratic renomination was successfully advocated by administration forces in 1938, lost out in efforts to win both Republican and Democratic nominations in Manhattan's 16th congressional district.

In Wisconsin, meanwhile Democrats who have been critical of President Roosevelt were well out in front of an administration supporter for the party's nomination for U. S. senator. The gubernatorial contest was a nip-and-tuck affair. A Roosevelt supporter took over the lead for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination after trailing a critic of the administration throughout the early count.

Count Slowed
A delay in the count of New York's American labor ballots slowed up returns on the intra-party strife between the so-called pro-Roosevelt right wing and the anti-third term left wing. The outcome of this battle was patched closely for possible clues to sentiment on the third term, for AP votes added 275,000 to Mr. Roosevelt's state totals in 1938.

Early returns, all from New York and vicinity, gave a slight lead to the faction supporting Mr. Roosevelt.

Among congressional incumbents to win renomination in New York was Rep. Hamilton Fish, who was again the Republican choice in the 26th district which he has represented since 1916. The president's Hyde Park home is in the district.

The Massachusetts primary's outstanding contest was for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination and Attorney General Paul D. Dever, one of the party's best vote-pullers in the state, won it handily over Francis E. Kelly, former lieutenant governor. For the U. S. senate nomination, Senator Walsh, the incumbent, was unopposed on the Democratic ticket, and Henry Parkman, former Boston corporation counsel, was the unchallenged Republican choice.
