

COUNTY OFFICERS MAKE ROOM FOR FEDERAL COURT

Fall Term, Oct. 1, Will Find Federal Men Scattered Through Court House

Federal agencies will be spread around several parts of the county courthouse when U. S. district court is convened here for the fall-term October 1.

With its own quarters unavailable because of remodeling of the federal building, district court will be held in the county courthouse through the courtesy of Judge H. D. Norton and several department heads who have relinquished parts of their quarters. Postponing circuit court, Judge Norton relinquished his court room and chambers and the two jury rooms. Others gave up one or more rooms of their suites for the U. S. attorney and his staff, clerk of the court, U. S. marshal and his staff and other associates of the federal court.

McColloch to Preside

It is expected that Judge Claude McColloch will preside. The case of Rediske versus Montgomery Ward will probably be called first, it is understood here. The case of the United States versus Georgianina Kettle is scheduled for pre-trial. Other cases on the calendar include Steele versus Preble and the farmer-debtor case of John L. Niles on an application to enforce a mortgage.

As a grand jury is to be sworn in, it is considered probable that any cases resulting from its deliberations will also be disposed of during the court session here. According to informal information received from Portland, there will also be tried four cases brought by the government to forfeit automobiles assertedly used in violation of the internal revenue laws.

Thirty five men were called for grand jury and 25 for trial jury service.

Jury Lists Drawn

Drawn for the grand jury were:

NLRB PERMEATED BY FIFTH COLUMN MINING MEN TOLD

Ex-Counsel for Congress Probe Group Cites 'Un-American Ideas' of Board

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Edmund M. Toland, formerly general counsel for the congressional committee investigating the national labor relations board, suggested today that any "fifth column" search "might very well start in the NLRB."

In an address prepared for the metal mining convention of the American Mining Congress, Toland declared, "the hint of radicalism permeates a great part" of the board's personnel.

Findings of the so-called Smith investigation committee, he said, "would seem to warrant the conclusion" that any "fifth column" search should begin in the NLRB.

Vital Defense Link

Toland said the board, "because it has been given jurisdiction over disputes between capital and labor, is one of the most vital links in our defense program."

He cited examples of what he called evidence of "how utterly un-American ideas" permeate the board structure.

He reported that Edwin S. Smith, a board member, served as United States secretary for the league against war and fascism.

Toland said Earl Browder, United States communist chief, described this group, later known as the American league for peace and democracy, as a "transmission belt for communism."

Toland also contended there was a "close and intimate connection" between Smith and Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader.

Law Aides Favor Reds

He declared that a "large number" of the board's legal staff were members of the National Lawyers Guild, described as "not prepared to take any stand which conflicts with the communist party line" by A. A. Berle, assistant secretary of state, in his letter of resignation from the guild.

The NLRB employees union, Toland said, contributed $400 to the American friends of Spanish democracy, and contributed also to CIO union organizing drives, but not to AFL unions.

The board's "latest act of insolence," Toland said, was its refusal to abolish its division of economic research, headed by "Russian-born David J. Saposs," when it was "the intent of congress to abolish the division."

FIVE MORE BOYS FROM THIS AREA ENLIST IN ARMY

Five more youths from the Medford area were among the 199 enlisted at Portland in the regular army so far this month, Staff Sgt. Willis S. Estep, commander of the recruiting station in city hall here announced today.

The five youths who were accepted tentatively by Sgt. Estep and were formally enlisted at Portland were Clifford L. Corn, Selma, for the 78th anti-aircraft artillery at March field, Riverside, Cal.; Henry L. Stubbs, Murphy, for the medical department, Chilkoot Barracks, Alaska; Bernard J. O'Brien, Rogue River, for the coast artillery, Philippines department; Norman C. Flaherty, Central Point, for the quartermaster corps, Fort Mason, Cal.; and Robert E. Morey, Glendale, for the medical department, Presidio of Monterey, Cal.

All volunteers for military service, Estep emphasized, will be taken into account when district quotas are set up for conscription and districts with a high percentage of voluntary enlistments will not be obligated for drafting so many men as districts with a low percentage.

Recruiting is being continued in the Oregon district this month without change, Sgt. Estep said, and qualified men are being accepted for three-year enlistments in most branches of the service, the infantry offering choice selections at present, he stated.

INVADENORWAY FACING FAMINE

Portland, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Nazi-occupied Norway faces a famine this winter and undoubtedly will need relief for several years, E. B. Hauke of Minneapolis, supreme president of the Sons of Norway, told interviewers yesterday.

Slackers—Congressmen and Others

To the Editor:

If Nero was condemned for fiddling while Rome burned, what penalty should be meted out to a congress that fiddles and haggles and delays action for defense when the world is on fire? Censure, of course, should not go to congress as a whole, but to the obstructionists, the isolationists and slackers who refuse to fight the fire they themselves helped to kindle.

For isolationists and pacifists, no matter how good their intentions, are actually responsible for this, the second world war. In 1918 they should have known what everyone knows now, that outlaw nations, like outlaw individuals, can be controlled only Uncle Bob Work isn't speakin' to Aunt Esther Work until she changes her new hair-do.

When I visited Cousin Martha I played safe and took my own LIPTON'S TEA. "Well," she scolded, "you're not the only one that knows LIPTON'S makes the smackingest best tea that ever poured out of a pot."

Back in Grandma's day, it used to be easier to get company to go home early. They just naturally get wore out slidin' off the horse-hair sofa.

As I recall it, my sister-in-law has never praised but one thing in her life—and that's the flavor of LIPTON'S TEA. It'll please you, too—try it. It doesn't cost but half a cent a cup.

OIL SUITS SEEN DEFENSE THREAT

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The defense commission was reported today to have criticized a proposed anti-trust suit against the big oil companies on the ground that it threatened delay to the preparedness program by disrupting tentative plans and discouraging cooperation by industry.

The commission has communicated its opinions to Attorney General Jackson after a study of the contemplated civil action against 22 major oil companies and about 300 subsidiaries, Jackson requested the defense group's views last July 26 before deciding whether to file the suit.
