

BUSINESS WOMEN GIVE STYLE SHOW FOR 4-H GIRLS

Four-H club girls, their mothers and leaders, were entertained and instructed at the second annual style show held by the Business and Professional Women's club in the courthouse auditorium, Wednesday evening. The colorful event, supervised by Mrs. Jacque Lenox, chairman of the B.P.W. club committee, displayed four groups of costumes which coincided with the four advanced divisions in the 4-H clothing project. They were the school dress, street dress, best dress and formal party dress.

Costumes for the style show were furnished by the Jacque Lenox Dress Shop and the M.M. Department store. The latter, under direction of Miss Jane Hanson, Lenox shop models were Carlyn Hill, a member of the B.P.W. club, and Barbara Brewer. The M.M. Department store models were Ann VanValzah and Mabel Winningham.

The group was entertained prior to the program and during the intermissions by Eve Prentice's accordionists under direction of Robert Wenk.

Miss Laura York, also a member of the B.P.W. club, furnished piano music during the modeling. Commentator for the style show was the county home demonstration agent, Jacqueline B. Jones.

Following the show a social period was held. Refreshments were served by the club and the local leaders association.

The style show, which was the second one of this kind sponsored by the B.P.W. club, gives the 4-H girls suggestions and ideas for designing and making their costumes for their projects, showing them the essentials of proper color harmony and dress design, as well as the current trend of styles, and gives the girls instruction in modeling costumes for a style revue, enabling them to participate more successfully in their own style revue which is held as a part of the county 4-H home economics fair.

Ward Prize

Almost every bicycle rider in Jackson county is expected to participate in the big parade to promote safer bicycle riding on Saturday, June 14, under sponsorship of Montgomery Ward & Co.

Prizes will be awarded for the best and most originally decorated bicycles. H. L. Brown, manager of the Medford Montgomery Ward store, is providing a handsome fully equipped Hawthorne bicycle as grand prize and a large number of valuable merchandise prizes for the runners up. All prizes will soon be on display in the window of Ward's store. A duplicate of the grand prize bicycle will be on display in the foyer of the Rialto theater.

There will be no registration fee of any kind. A set of colorful wheel discs and a list of safety rules will be given to each rider at the time of registration. Any bicycle rider, young or old, may enter this parade by filling out an entry blank in the sporting goods department of Montgomery Ward & Co.

Three prominent local citizens will be chosen as judges for the contest. The parade is scheduled to start at the city park at 10 a. m. Saturday, June 14, and will proceed down Main to south Central then right to Eighth street; left on Eighth to Bartlett; down Bartlett to Sixth; left on Sixth to Central; left on Central to Main and right on Main to Park where the judges will select the winners and award the prizes.

GIANT PIPELINE TO LINK SOUTH

New York, May 29.—(P)—Award of contracts for the construction of two gigantic pipelines to supply all the deep south with gasoline and natural gas—probably before the end of the year—was announced today by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., constructing engineers.

The gasoline pipeline, to connect refineries in Louisiana with Greensboro, N. C., and to supply all the army camps and industrial centers in between, will cost about $15,000,000 and will be one of the largest lines in the world, about equal in size to the famous Iraq crude oil line.

The natural gas distributing system will run from the Monroe field, Louisiana, through the steel industrial area of Birmingham, Ala., and serve Atlanta and much of eastern Georgia. It will be a hookup of existing facilities and will cost between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000.

PORTLAND MILK PRICE MAY RISE

Portland, May 29.—(P)—Producers said an increase in milk prices might be ordered as a result of the Oregon milk control board's hearing on production and distribution, which ended here yesterday.

Spokesmen for producers said that if testimony favoring a reduction in cream prices was accepted, it would partly offset the probable milk increase, which was rumored around one cent per quart.

A chain-store request for a differential in the price of milk bought on a cash-and-carry basis might leave store prices at their present level despite a raise, the spokesmen added.

WORK STARTS ON REDMOND AIRPORT

Redmond, Ore., May 29.—(P)—Construction of Redmond's $717,000 class IV airport, the largest under CAA regulations, started here today under authorization from President Roosevelt.

The airport will be the main control point for military planes flying the north-south route east of the Cascades and is expected to be central Oregon's principal field for commercial and private craft.

Mayor W. F. Hardison said an official start-work celebration would be held June 25 while Portland Chamber of Commerce members are here on a good-will tour.

GOOD PRICE FOR WASCO CHERRIES

The Dalles, Ore., May 29.—(P)—Returns from Wasco county's 1941 cherry crop probably will be the largest in years, growers said yesterday.

Royal Anne prices have been set at 6 cents per pound for canning, 5½ cents for barreling. Black cherries put on the market before June 7 will command 7¼ cents per pound, decreasing later.

He said that the 82-year-old exiled German sovereign had been suffering since Sunday from an intestinal disorder, the exact nature of which is not yet clear to his physician, and that he understands the patient's strength is being sustained by artificial feeding.

A report from Wilhelm's refuge in German-occupied Holland said he had been ill for several weeks.
