Church Group Holds Homecoming At Methodist Parlor

Members of the W.S.C.S. of the First Methodist church enjoyed homecoming Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church parlors. An interesting program under direction of Miss May Phipps was presented followed by a social hour arranged by members of the Queen Esther circle.

Mrs. W. W. Walker called the meeting to order; Mrs. Martha Hill led devotions. Mrs. Hill sang an old-time Wesleyan hymn especially arranged with another hymn as the chorus.

A temperance reading was given by Jim Tucker, after which 17 members of the "Singing Grandmothers," led by Effie Herbert Kurtz sang, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Marguerite Conrad.

The study, "Investing Our Heritage," was led by Miss Phipps with several members of the society assisting. The ladies told of various phases of the work as conducted by the W.S.C.S.

Preceding the homecoming, members of the society's executive board met in the ladies' parlor for luncheon and business session. The month's business consisted mainly of preparing reports and finances of various organizations for conference reports.

At each party two or three tables of cards were in play, or the afternoon was spent sewing. Due to the fact that much interest was shown in the neighborhood parties, it is probable that the fifth Thursday of coming months will see a repetition of the idea.

U.S. Navy Needs More Men
To the Editor:

Thirty-five thousand additional men are urgently needed for the U. S. navy by June thirtieth.

Selective service does not apply to the navy. The navy depends upon voluntary enlistments entirely. The term of enlistment in the regular navy is still six years for all men over eighteen and under thirty-one years of age. For all men between the ages of 17 and 18 the enlistment is for minority, or until the boy attains his twenty-first birthday.

For the man who does not want to obligate himself for six years, the naval reserve offers an attractive proposition. He may enlist in one of the many classes of the naval reserve and be released from active duty upon the termination of the present emergency. He may enlist for certain designated duties and if qualified will be sent to service schools to prepare him for these duties, and as stated before, he will be released from active duty when the emergency is over.

Anytime after the recruit's indoctrination training he may, if he so desires, transfer to the regular navy and the time spent in the reserve will be computed in the time necessary for retirement.

In other words, he obligates himself only for the duration of the emergency and at the same time finds out if he is cut out to be a navy man. When that is decided he may transfer to the regular navy.

Any publicity your newspaper could give the subject will be appreciated by the naval recruiting service.
