

HALF OF QUOTA IN U.S.O. DRIVE RISED BY NOON

$500 Reported by Solicitors
—Boys Mow Lawn to Get Money for Contribution

Approximately $500, or half the local quota, had been raised by noon today by workers who have thus far reported to chamber of commerce headquarters of the Medford committee of the United Service Organizations for National Defense, Inc., according to Ralph Sweeney, treasurer of the committee.

Mr. Sweeney explained that many solicitors in Medford and in the outlying districts hadn't yet reported their success, and expressed the opinion that when all workers checked in at the chamber either tonight or tomorrow, Medford's quota will have been reached.

Indicative of the fine response the public was showing solicitors was noted in the case of two small, very small, boys. Wanting to do their part, they mowed a lawn for 50 cents and promptly turned the money over to Capt. Charles Cox of the Salvation army, secretary of the Medford committee. In another case, an aged man left 25 cents at the chamber of commerce with the remark that "I'd like to give more, but that's all I have."

Religious Program

June 6, 7 and 8 has been set aside by the U. S. O. as an occasion for a nation-wide religious festival, in support of the organization's program of spiritual and recreational welfare for America's defenders. Walter Hoving, U. S. O. president, declared in a press release the observance would emphasize the basically religious character of U. S. O. member agencies and will stress the inter-faith aspect of the organization in which Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders are working closely and harmoniously.

In many churches throughout the land special sections will be set aside for men in uniform. Opening observance will be held in Orthodox Jewish Synagogues Friday evening. On Sunday, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish groups will continue the celebration.

Frank Bacon has arrived from Vancouver Barracks, Wash., where he was on the auditing staff of the general hospital, to become field auditor here. He is residing at 215 North Peach street, where he will be joined later by his family, now in Portland.

Both Mr. Wade and Mr. Bacon are civil service employees, Capt. Bean stated.

Lieut. Emil F. Gehrl, who has worked with Capt. Bean before, is now here to serve as supervisor of construction work in the field. At present he is engaged in paper work at the armory. He has taken up residence at 1306 Reddy avenue. His family will come to Medford in the near future.

Gehrl, a first lieutenant in the quartermaster corps, came here from Vancouver Barracks. He has also served as construction engineer at Grand Coulee.

The architectural and engineering staffs at the armory are increasing daily, Capt. Bean said. There are now about 80 employed on the cantonment planning, he stated.

BRIDGES WITNESS GAVE DEPOSITION WHILE ON SPREE

Cannalunga Changes Statements—Not Sure of Anything, He Tells Defense

San Francisco, June 5.—(AP)—Irate attorneys defending labor leader Harry Bridges in deportation proceedings directed a protracted barrage of cross-examination today at Morris Cannalunga, will o' the wisp witness who has made signed statements for both prosecution and defense, but who now appears to be on the government side.

Yesterday Cannalunga appeared in a surprise move by the government as a rebuttal witness, and repudiated a deposition he had given defense attorneys in Portland, Ore., early in May. The deposition retracted statements previously made to the federal bureau of investigation branding Bridges a communist.

He was drunk when he made the deposition, he said.

Celebrated Birthday
Richard Gladstein, defense attorney present in Portland when Cannalunga made his pro-defense statements, took the witness over and over the ground of that meeting, seeking to win an admission the retraction had been in good faith.

But Cannalunga insisted he was so drunk May 3 and 4 he was "not sure of anything." May 3, Saturday, was his birthday and he began "biting the bottle" in the morning. The next day he downed two quarts of rum, he said.

With much waving of arms he gave such vague and indefinite answers to Gladstein that Trial Examiner Charles B. Sears occasionally took a hand in the questioning. But all he could get was, "Well, you see, your honor, it's like I told you. Things were very hazy."

M'CHORD FIELD ASKS MEDFORD PORT DATA

Jackson County Chamber of Commerce was in receipt today of a request from M'Chord field, Wash., air base headquarters for data to make up a survey of Medford and the municipal airport. It was believed the information was wanted for routine file records.

The information desired included data on eating and sleeping accommodations at the airport and in the vicinity of the airport, population of Medford and transportation facilities between Medford and the airport.

Wall St. Report

New York, June 5.—(AP)—While there was far from a bull stampede in today's stock market, recovery forces continued to extend their positions on various fronts.

Transfers of around 600,000 shares were the largest in about a month.

Stimulants were found in mounting defense spending and the belief that a certain amount of inflation was likely because of climbing prices of goods and almost daily wage hoists.

Glendale, Ore., June 5.—(AP)—Undiscovered for 17 years, a can containing $440 was found yesterday by Jess Tevebaugh of Glendale while engaged in cleaning the farmhouse formerly occupied by his parents near Olalia.

The can, hidden away on top of a cupboard on the back porch of the home, contained $405 in gold coins and $33 in currency.

A note, in the handwriting of his mother, who died 17 years ago, directed that Mr. Tevebaugh should have the money.
