Billy Hulen Says:

4 Tiger Athletes
Might Cast Lots
With O. S. C.

Things have a habit of occurring between spring and autumn to alter the best-laid plans of promising prep athletes concerning their future athletic activity in institutions of higher learning, but the way it looks now two of Medford high's star 1940 gridgers will move to Corvallis and Oregon State come September, and still another might cast his lot with the Beavers.

Jim Wallis, center, and Louis Blair, big flanker, who stood out with the Black Tornado's state championship runners-up, have signified their intentions of attending Oregon State. Louis Thurman, 200-pound blocking quarterback and three-year veteran, is vacillating between Oregon State and the University of Oregon. All three, no matter where they finally wind up, will take cracks at freshman football.

Those three grid hunkies aren't the only fine athletes from here that might choose Oregon State. Racin' Ray Johnson, perhaps the biggest "catch" of them all, also has leanings toward the Corvallis school, principally because of its school of engineering, a subject in which he intends to major.

Johnson, after that exhibition of quarter-milling he turned in at the Compton invitational meet, can just about write his own ticket at any of the coast's major colleges and universities, despite Ed Atherton. Dean Cromwell, U. S. C. track mentor, told Bill Bowerman after the race that Johnson was a sweetheart. Racin' Ray undoubtedly could make Southern Cal his alma mammy without half trying, and they have a very fine engineering school there, too, too.

Junior college coaches, unhampered by coast conference rules prohibiting proselytizing, "swarmed all over Johnson" following the 400-meter race in which he finished fifth but was unofficially timed in 48 seconds flat, Bowerman said. Of course, Cromwell and the other coast conference track tutors could only bestow on Ray a friendly smile, but not so the junior college mentors. They were free to talk proposition in no uncertain language, and they did. Johnson told them all he would be glad to consider anything they might say, and that's just about as far as it will go. Ray, with his great promise of becoming a champion collegiate quarter-miler, and his honest desire to get a good education, won't end in a junior college when he can take his pick of the coast's major universities.

As for the race itself, won by Grover Klemmer of California in 46.5, Johnson made a mistake in the first 220 yards, according to Bowerman. Never having raced in that sort of company, the best in the world, Johnson ran too slow in the first 220 and found himself in last place at the halfway mark, Bowerman recalled. "He was almost in a daze because of the excitement, thrill and perhaps a little bit of stage fright," Bowerman related, "and when he discovered he was trailing for the first time in his

Portland All-Stars to Get Thorough Trials — Tilt
at Fairgrounds at 8:30

With six youthful Portland high school all-stars slated to receive thorough trials under fire, the Medford Craters will try for their fifth consecutive victory against Northern California league opposition when they clash with Red Tailor's Dorris Lumberjacks in an exhibition game starting at 8:30 tonight at the floodlighted fairgrounds park.

All told, seven new Crater ball players will be making their first 1941 appearance before the home folks in the game against one of the Northern California loop's best clubs. The other is Billy Calvert, fresh from a great season of catching for the University of Oregon varsity, northern division champions.

Although Manager Lou Sauer of the locals was not certain who would start on the pitching mound, he intimated that Jack Brown, 17-year-old righthander from Portland's Franklin high, would see plenty of service. The Craters' other hurlers are Bob Fox, Willard Smith and the veteran Freddie Roberts, who might be a surprise starter.

Youthful Lineup
Calvert and Frank Roelandt, of Franklin, will probably divide the catching duties, with Spike Johnson from Jefferson high on first base, Bobby Volk from Washington on second, Del Schroer on short, Bob Churchill from Franklin on third, Al Lightner in left, Sauer in center and big Harold Martenson from Jefferson in right. Joe Gray and Al Fleishman, regular center-fielder and first baseman, were to be given a night off, Manager Sauer said.

Tonight's contest will be the last for the Craters prior to their two-game series with the powerful Klamath Falls Pelicans here Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, one of which will be a regular State league contest. The Pelicans are in second place in the State circuit.

career and had to increase his pace, he was too far behind to overtake the leaders.

Starting the final 220, with Klemmer about 25 yards in front of him, Johnson went into high and "picked" Johnny Watchler, national junior college champ, and Colored James Herbert of New York, both on the turn. Bowerman said. At this point, with the track only four lanes wide, Johnson was confronted with what Bowerman describes as a "solid wall of runners," as Klemmer, Cliff Bourland and Hubert Kerns, both of U. S. C., and Gene Little of Nebraska raced into the stretch. With these four runners taking up all the cinder space in front of him, Bowerman explained, Johnson was unable to break through and finished about 12 to 15 yards back of Klemmer, 10 yards behind Bourland, seven behind Kerns and five arrears Little. Trailing Racin' Ray was Watchler, by some five yards, and Herbert by about 10. Bill recalled,

REICH HOMER IN 11TH
GIVES BEAVERS 2 TO 1
VICTORY OVER ANGELS

By the Associated Press

San Francisco slammed out a 15-hit, 10 to 3 win over Seattle last night—but it was their most expensive victory in the Coast league this season because of the loss of their crack third baseman. Ted Jennings made his final exit from the playing field for the season on a stretcher in the second inning. The slugging third sacker shattered the bones in his right ankle when he slid into second base on the force end of a double play.

Hit-happy Sacramento pounded out a 10 to 3 victory in winning over Hollywood.

San Diego took a firmer grip on second place by defeating Oakland 5 to 2. Portland came through with a 2 to 1 win over Los Angeles when Herman Reich slammed out a home run in the eleventh inning to break up a pitchers' duel between Whitey Hilcher of Portland and Southpaw Ray Prim of Los Angeles.

Yesterday's scores:
Portland 8, H. E. 0
Los Angeles 1, 6 2
Hilcher and Annunzio; Prim, Stine (11), and Collins. (11 innings.)

WARNEKE PITCHES
ONE-HIT BALL TO
TRIM PHILS, 3-0

By Judson Bailey

(Associated Press Writer)
Lon Warneke, the lean veteran of the St. Louis Cardinals, shut out the Phils 3-0 yesterday. The only blow off him was a single by Emmett Mueller, the home club's first man up in the opening inning.

There was some other fine pitching yesterday. Bob Feller achieved his 13th victory of the season and eighth straight by holding the Washington Senators to four hits while the Cleveland Indians slapped out a 4 to 1 decision.

Steve Peck, Rookie knuckleballer of the New York Yankees, had a one-hitter going into the ninth inning against the Chicago White Sox. He weakened to allow five singles and three runs in that frame, but the Yankees won easily, 8-3.

Tommy Bridges, the little veteran of the Detroit Tigers, put on a strikeout show against the Philadelphia Athletics, fanning 14, but tired badly in the late innings and had to be rescued by big Al Benton as Detroit won, 4-3.

The Brooklyn Dodgers cut short their slump with a 4-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Johnny Vander Meer achieved his sixth success of the season by scattering nine hits as the world champion Cincinnati Reds beat the Boston Braves, 4-3, for their ninth conquest in 11 games and took over third place. Frank McCormick, gradually breaking out of his prolonged batting slump, hit three doubles to figure in all the Reds' runs.

Vern Olsen pitched the Chicago Cubs to an 11-0 shutout of the New York Giants.

HANEN QUALIFIES IN TITLE FLIGHT
Portland, June 11.—(P)—This may be the year for Harold Salvador to break the jinx that has barred him from the Oregon amateur golf championship.

The Portland ace drew a favored position in match play opening on the Oswego Lake Country club course today after tying Marty Lepick, Portland, for medal honors yesterday with 147.

Lou Jennings, defending champion, faced Eddie Beck in the first round. Lepick played Dr. O. F. Willing, Portland, while Salvador drew Joe Ahern.

Following the medalists were Matt Hatala, Portland, with 159 and Bob McKeenolds, Portland, and Jim Johnson, Eugene, 152.

Men's pairings and qualifying scores included:
Championship flight — Dick Hanen, University of Oregon, 152, vs. M. Campbell, The Dalles, 158; Jim Johnson, Eugene, 152, vs. Bob Bronson, Portland, 157.

Revisions in "Purity Code" Up for Conference Debate

By Gail Fowler

Seattle, June 11.—(P)—Without voting themselves any time and a half, Pacific Coast conference graduate managers, athletic directors and faculty representatives went into their first day of overtime today to decide on revisions in the Atherton code.

Originally scheduled for two days, the conference conferees opened their third day with suggestions on changes in the "purity code" promulgated by Conference Commissioners Edwin Atherton.

Action taken yesterday included:
1. The conference sustained and adopted Atherton's recent report under which 22 freshman athletes at five schools were barred from further competition at their respective schools.

2. Graduate managers and athletic directors issued a statement condemning professional baseball practice of campus "cradle-snatching."

3. All hands gathered around the table in a joint meeting to air suggestions on "purity code" changes before retiring to separate sessions to draw up recommendations.

4. Rules covering five minor sports were modified, and seven minor sports were designated as not coming under conference rules.

5. Faculty men worked last night on adoption of a reclassification of conference rules.

NAG MEET OPENS K. FALLS TODAY

Featuring pari-mutuel wagering under license by the Oregon State Racing commission, the Klamath Falls Jockey club will present its annual eight-day race meeting in Klamath Falls starting today. Races will be held on the nights of June 11, 12, 13, 18, 19 and 20, starting at 8 o'clock, and on the afternoons of June 14 and 21, starting at 2 o'clock.

Purses totaling $6,000 will be distributed during the race meeting, and reports from "over the hill" are to the effect that scores of fine nags are on hand for the meet.

Ties Complicate Piedmont League Pennant Battle

Charlotte, N. C., June 11.—(P)—That Gordian Knox had nothing on the Piedmont league today.

Charlotte, Richmond and Norfolk were all tied for first place. Next in a triple tie were Asheville, Portsmouth and Durham. Then came Winston-Salem and Greensboro, the other two clubs, who were tied, too. And the season is 44 games old.

FIGHTS ENLIVEN CONTEST IN WIL

By the Associated Press

The Salem Senators climbed into fourth place in the Western International league by taking both ends of a doubleheader from the Tacoma Tigers in Salem by identical scores of 4-3 last night.

The first game was enlivened by two fist fights. Roy Heiser won his seventh straight and starred in a short fight. When Tiger twirler Holmes tossed a
