

ERNEST W. WINKLE NEW COMMANDER OF LEGION POST

Ray E. Wright First Vice Commander, Virgil Ballantyne Elected Second Vice

Ernest W. Winkle was elected commander of Medford Post No. 15 of the American Legion at the annual election meeting held at the armory last night. Prior to the balloting, the withdrawal of Ray Wright, candidate for commander, and Dr. Charles Kunz as first vice commander, were accepted by the post.

Other results of the election were: First vice commander, Ray E. Wright; second vice commander, Virgil Ballantyne; adjutant, Fritz Nissen; chaplain, Alfred J. Anderson; executive committee, R. R. Ebel, Joseph Fliegel, Earl York, James Collins and Elmer Wilson; delegates to state convention, E. W. Winkle, Fritz Nissen, R. R. Ebel, Joseph Fliegel and Lloyd Williamson; alternates, Earl York, J. Edward Russell, Frank Kurtz, Elbert Lenox and Virgil Ballantyne.

A report on the Beaver Boys state to be held at Oregon State college June 22-29 was made by Chairman Ebel who advised that Medford Post will be represented by 27 boys, greatest number ever sent from Medford, and said to be the best showing made by any Legion post in the state this year.

Commander Williamson reported on the local Disaster Preparedness company and stated that the next mobilization would provide plenty of interest and action. It is planned to give each platoon a problem to work out during the evening on an emergency basis, these problems to cover transportation, supply, shelter, communication, utility service, first aid, etc.

A report on the Curtis campaign, currently sponsored by the Legion, was made by Horace Bromley who stated that the plan is making good progress and it is hoped that Medford Post will realize a substantial profit to apply on the local community service activities.

Robert Ebel announced that Legion Junior baseball was under way and that the first turnout was held the first of the week under direction of Coach Riney Cook.

Main feature of the evening's program was an informal talk on army cantonments by Mayor H. S. Duell who covered his recent trip to California where he visited a number of army camps in company with other local civic leaders for the purpose of studying the effects on civilian life in cities adjacent to these cantonments. Mayor Duell, who is a past commander of Medford Post, told his comrades many interesting details of the problems which have confronted other communities in this regard.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the members of the auxiliary.

Food Psychology
Fort Worth, Tex. (U.P.)—Col. Otto Lange of Camp Wolters explains: "Soldiers might stray apart, particularly at night. The army has found out the best way to bring them together is to fry liberal quantities of onions and hamburger meat and let the aroma ferret out the men."

Pennies Buy Bonds
Guyton, Okla. (U.P.)—Three men helped Grover Owen carry his money to the bank to buy $103.35 worth of national defense savings bonds. Owen's money weighed 70 pounds, and the cashier spent the biggest part of the afternoon counting it. Owen had saved 10,335 pennies.

Sweden possesses enormous sources of high grade peat but no method has been found to make this product competitive with coal, according to the department of commerce.

Legion Leader

Ernest W. Winkle (above) is the new commander of Medford American Legion Post. He was elected last night to succeed Lloyd Williamson who has guided the ex-service men's organization during the past year.

BROTHERS NABBED BY LOCAL POLICE; WANTED IN SOUTH

Daniel Welch Wilson, 39, and his brother, Clovis Leo Wilson, 31, wanted in Stockton, Cal., on felony warrants charging forgery, were in custody here today following their arrest last night by city police. The former was in city jail and the latter in county lockup.

The elder Wilson was quoted by city police as refusing to waive extradition, and Sheriff Martin Ambrose of San Joaquin county has been notified. The specific charge against the two brothers was not known, as both have declined to talk, police said. Police said that machinery undoubtedly would be put in motion to have them extradited, as a circular from Sheriff Ambrose indicated that both were badly wanted in Stockton. The circular, which led to their arrest, stated that "both were equally guilty" and that San Joaquin county would extradite.

Daniel Welch Wilson was arrested in a local service station where he was waiting for his automobile, a 1939 Ford, to be serviced. With him was Maynard Charles Cody, 31, who had not registered for the selective service draft and who told police he had been in the Los Angeles county jail from October 1, 1940 to May 28, 1941, serving part of a sentence for being involved in the circulation of petitions to recall Gov. Olson of California. Cody was released this morning after being taken to selective service draft headquarters to register. He told police he had been paroled to come to Oregon, and that he had a job thinning fruit here.

Clovis Leo Wilson was arrested in a South Front street rooming house after his brother and Cody had been picked up. The two Wilsons told police they had been here since May 26 and had recently obtained fruit-thinning jobs.

Crab in Lettuce
Manchester, Conn. (U.P.)—When housewife Mrs. Antoinette Stearns purchased a head of lettuce she didn't know she was getting a whole crabmeat salad. As she started to clean the lettuce she discovered a fiddler crab ensconced in the middle. The result: fresh crabmeat salad for dinner.
