

SPATZ BROTHERS OBTAIN CONTROL BARNEBURG FARM

Crystal Springs Packing company, owned and operated by Maurice and Ward Spatz, yesterday announced purchase of the 500-acre Barneburg ranch from Fred Barneburg. The property is part of the original Barneburg homestead farm. The price was not divulged.

The ranch is on Barneburg road and has a considerable frontage on Bear creek. It includes all of Barneburg hill just back of CCC headquarters detachment and Maurice Spatz indicated that the hill site would be available in future for possible real estate and building development.

The ranch, a stock farm, has about 100 acres under cultivation. The Spatz brothers will continue to operate it as a stock ranch in conjunction with their orchard which adjoins it on the west side, Maurice said.

Charles E. Soderstrom stated yesterday that he had given E. H. Judd an option to purchase the Riverside apartments, 217 South Riverside avenue. The building contains between 20 and 25 apartments. Mr. Judd is secretary-manager of the Medford and the Rogue River Irrigation districts.

J'VILLE BOY GIVEN HIGH ESPEE POST

D. J. Russell, who recently was appointed assistant to the president of the Southern Pacific company with headquarters in San Francisco, is a native of Jacksonville, son of Josephine and the late Donald Russell.

The father died when his son was only about a year old. The boy's mother also is a native of Jacksonville, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Nunan, pioneers in the town which once was the seat of Jackson county. Jerry Nunan was a prominent merchant in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Russell now resides in Santa Barbara, Cal. Her son will take over his new duties with the railroad company July 1. He is now superintendent of the company's Los Angeles division and formerly was superintendent of the Portland division. Mr. Russell will succeed Frank Mulks, who recently retired because of ill health after 36 years' service.

WILSON BROTHERS RETURNED SOUTH

Daniel Welch Wilson, 39 and his brother, Clovis Leo Wilson, 31, wanted in Stockton, Cal., on forgery charges, started back to the California city yesterday in custody of two San Joaquin county officers after Gov. Charles Sprague of Oregon signed extradition warrants for the pair.

The two Stockton officers arrived here Friday afternoon and continued on to Salem, where they obtained the extradition papers. The Wilsons, who were arrested here by city police last Wednesday night, had refused to waive extradition.

Police said they had been informed that the two brothers were wanted in Stockton on bad check charges.

PUBLISHERS NAME HERB GREY HEAD

Gearhart, Ore., June 14.—(AP)—The Oregon Newspaper Publishers' association voted today to recommend that "voluntary censorship practiced in past wars be the practice adopted in the present emergency."

The publishers' resolution urged the government to recognize the press' ability to censor itself on all matters not revealing military or naval secrets.

The resolution also asked that the "constitutional provision for freedom of the press be not encroached upon by bureaucratic interference."

Publishers pledged the press to support all voluntary defense projects and programs.

Herbert Grey of Medford was elected president for 1941-42 at the final business meeting. Jack Bladine, McMinnville, became vice president; Palmer Hoyt, Portland, treasurer; M. R. Chessman, Astoria; E. A. Brown, Salem; Sheldon Sackett, Marshfield; Giles French, Moro; C. L. McKinley, Albany; Douglas Malarky, Burns; Dean E. Wallen, Eugene, directors.

GIRL SCOUT CAMP DAYS SCHEDULED

Among activities planned for participants in Day Camp held on Bear creek for all Girl Scouts, Brownies and other interested girls in the community will be story book day and circus day. Day Camp, an annual affair, is sponsored by the Medford Girl Scout council and girls who have not attended are urged to do so for the remainder of the month.

Campers are grouped into units according to their year in school for the morning period. During the afternoon girls choose two activities, classes lasting 45 minutes. Classes offered are archery, weaving, first aid, dramatics, photography, outdoor cookery, sketching and crafts. Girls are requested to bring their own lunch.

Wednesday has been designated as story book day for Brownie campers and girls will wear a costume representing a favorite book character. Girls owning Brownie uniforms are asked to wear them.

Circus day for older girls will be Friday. The eighth grade unit will be in charge of the tent and program arrangements. Each unit will present a number or individual groups may act.

Each unit and activity group are preparing special numbers for the closing day when the entire community will be invited.

TALENT WILL GET NEW POSTMASTER

P. L. Dunham, postoffice inspector on the Portland staff, will check L. W. Tame out as postmaster at Talent today and turn over the postoffice to Jay Terrill, recently appointed acting postmaster pending the holding of a civil service examination. Mr. Tame resigned some time ago to retire to his farm.

Mr. Dunham, postoffice inspector here until his recent transfer to Portland, is continuing in charge of this district until his successor is named. He arrived here yesterday to take care of the Talent postmaster-ship transfer at the mid-month calculation date.
