

Pelicans Pulverize Craters for 12-7 Oregon State Loop Victory

FOX SHELLED TO SHOWERS IN 8TH; BROWN FINISHES

Bill Hanauka Goes Route for Winners; Klamath Hits 8 Doubles and a Triple

The Klamath Falls Pelicans concluded their decisive conquest of the Medford Craters yesterday, following up their 13 to 7 Saturday night victory by unleashing a thunderous batting attack that produced eight doubles, a triple and eight singles good for a dozen runs and a 12 to 7 win in a regular Oregon State league contest.

The Pelicans, paced by Manager Ernie Bishop, who belted four singles and a double in six trips, and Paul Crapo, who blasted out three doubles, hammered Bob Fox, Medford's starting hurler, for 16 hits and 11 runs before he retired in favor of young Jack Brown with one out in the eighth. Brown, 17-year-old kid from Portland, yielded one hit and one run from then on.

Bill Hanauka, 18-year-old righthander from Willamette university, went the route for the Pelicans and gave the Craters 11 blows. He scattered them effectively, however, and was especially tough in the clinches. An example of this occurred in the sixth inning, when the Craters loaded the bases with none out and then failed to score a run as Spike Johnson fanned, Volk forced Joe Gray at the plate and Fox whiffed for the third out.

Start Early
The Pelicans started early to make life miserable for Fox, whose performance yesterday marked the first bad game he has flung this season. The visitors tallied twice in the first inning and once more in the second to take a 3 to 0 lead. The Craters made an attempt to get in the ball game in the third by registering twice on Volk's double to left, Del Schroer's triple to right and an outfield fly, but that was the closest they came to catching the high-flying Pelicans.

Klamath went to work again in the fourth to get a run on Bishop's single and Crapo's double, and added three more in the seventh on Crapo's third double, a single by Gross and two-base clouts by Rhiney and Hanauka, making the score 7 to 2. The Craters came back with one in their half of the seventh, but Klamath promptly exploded for five in the eighth to place the game beyond reach. In Klamath's big eighth, Bishop doubled, Crapo walked, Eye-stone and Gross singled and Rhiney tripled to chase Fox to the showers. Wahner, first man to face Brown, was hit by a pitched ball; then, Rhiney and Wahner pulled a double steal, the former scoring.

Rally Too Late
That ended the Pelicans' scoring for the afternoon, and though the Craters scored once in their eighth and three times in the ninth the lead was too great for them to overcome. Martenson and Gray singled and Manager Sauer doubled in the last of the ninth for two tallies, and Sauer scored on an error to wind up the locals' run production.

Hanauka had the situation in hand at all times. He showed the Craters a smoking fast ball and a curve that dropped off the table. He fanned eight. Sauer, Gray, Calvert and Schroer each managed to connect safely twice, while the other Craters were more or less handcuffed by the stocky pitcher's fast one.

Al Lightner, Crater left fielder, came up with one of the finest fielding plays of the season in the fifth inning. With Gross on first base, Lightner flagged Rhiney's scorching drive to deep left-center and fired a tremendous strike to first base that doubled Gross off the bag.

The two teams will play an exhibition game here next Wednesday night.

DUCKS LOSE TWIN BILL TO ANGELS

By the Associated Press
Sacramento, winning Coast league baseball games with a ho-hum regularity, knocked over Hollywood in two games yesterday, 5 to 4 and 2 to 1, to make a clean sweep of the seven-game series.

San Francisco and Seattle split their doubleheader, the Seals taking the first game, 8 to 5, and losing the second, 6 to 5. San Francisco won the series, four games to three.

Los Angeles won the doubleheader from Portland, 5 to 4 and 2 to 0, although the Beavers out-hit them in both games. The Angels took the series four games to three.

San Diego dropped a doubleheader to Oakland yesterday but managed to nose out the cellar-dwelling Oaks by copping four games of the series to Oakland's three.

The Oaks blasted four San Diego pitchers in the opener for an easy 12 to 2 victory. The Padres held a five-run lead going into the seventh when the Oaks unleashed a terrific batting barrage to score eight runs on seven hits and won the nightcap, 9 to 6.

HUSKY CREW WINS FROM WISCONSIN

Chicago, June 16.—(AP)—Washington's crew rolled on toward Poughkeepsie today after showing Chicago rowing fans the fine points of oarsmanship in a king's x exhibition with the University of Wisconsin.

Using borrowed equipment, including a reverse rigged shell, the varsity finished about half a length ahead of Wisconsin after the coaches had instructed their coxswains that the mile row was just for exercise and the entertainment of some 15,000 spectators. Washington's shell moved along with power at a 24 and 26-to-the-minute stroke.

ROGUES DROP 6-5 TILT TO C. CITY; HOFFARD PITCHES

The Medford Rogues, with Manager Paul Hoffard doing the pitching, lost their first Southern Oregon league game in five starts yesterday when they were nosed out by the Crescent City Merchants, 6 to 5, in a nip and tuck contest at the coast town.

Hoffard was forced to take the mound when Paul Hess, regular Rogue finger, failed to show up for the game. An Ashland newspaper quoted Hess as saying that he "will no longer be on the roster of the Rogues" because Steve Crippen instead of himself was allowed to pitch against Grants Pass June 8.

The ageing Rogue manager turned in a very creditable twirling job, letting Crescent City down with six hits, but errors at crucial moments combined to nullify his good work. He fanned three and walked none.

Yammer, Crescent City pitcher, also yielded six blows. He walked eight and fanned seven.

The Rogues scored twice in the second and once each in the third, fifth and seventh, while Crescent City tallied once each in the first and third and twice each in the fifth and sixth.

Coach Calls Harvard Crew "One of All-Time Greats"

By Bill King.
Boston, June 16.—(AP)—Having wrought what is considered a rowing masterpiece in his unbeaten 1941 Harvard varsity crew, the modest and scholarly Tom Bolles confessed today that he was unable to give an accurate measurement of its greatness.

Since it never was closely pressed by a rival eight, all Bolles can say about the most successful boat in Harvard's 79 years' rowing history is that it is "one of the all-time great college crews."

"But I never expect to have another crew like it," he admits. "It could space as perfectly at a 44-beat as it could at 30 and even while going as high as 48 strokes a minute, its progress continued rhythmic."

Bolles' fifth Harvard season since he came from the University of Washington in September 1936, was climaxed by the Crimson's fourth clean-sweep of the four-event regatta with Yale at New London last Saturday. Since he became commodore at the Newell boathouse, his five varsity eights have lost but three of their 32 starts, twice to Cornell and once to Navy in sprinting events.

The rangy 38-year-old Tom, a keen student of Latin-American history, astounded most of his colleagues with his optimism and frankness when he came east after a decidedly successful nine years' tenure as tutor of the Washington freshman eights, four of which were Poughkeepsie victors.

"Eastern rowing material is as good as any to be found in the far west," he proclaimed, "and all I teach oarsmen to do is work hard while doing things unable to give an accurate mea-

Bob W. Every entrant in the tournament, one of a nation-wide series, was awarded a golf ball and a greens marker.

Leland Clark and Ike Stapfies tied for low gross score with 73's, while Ben Trowbridge had the low net score, a 56. Club Pro Laddie Selkirk said the tournament was "a big success."

The annual Barker Palm Beach tournament neared its conclusion, with the champion to be determined in play this week.

Eddie Simmons defeated Leland Clark in the finals of the championship flight, 2 and 1. Jack Horner trimmed Ben Trowbridge, 2 and 1, in the first flight, and will play Dave Irving for the right to meet Simmons.

In the lower half of the bracket, Ed Nichols defeated Max Pierce, 2 and 1; C. M. Kidd downed Gain Robinson, 1 up, and Nichols then defeated Kidd, 2 and 1, to earn the right to meet John Cupp. Cupp defeated Justin Smith, 1 up, in the third flight finals.

This week's schedule in the consolation flight pits Vern Robinson against Al Littrell, Bill Davidson against W. Kincaid and Sebastian Apollo against Vern Rolfe or Roy Donelson.
