SPEDING BLAMED IN FATAL SMASHUP SOUTH OF PHOENIX

District Attorney George W. Neilson, explaining that facts in the case clearly indicated that Kieren was responsible for his own death, due to the terrific rate of speed at which he was driving, he added that there would be no inquest. He added that deputy sheriff from now on would keep close surveillance in the highway through Phoenix in an attempt to eliminate "speed maniacs" through that town, and that state police would increase their vigilance on the highways outside towns.
