

U.S.A. MUST LEAD RECONSTRUCTION STATES DR. MUNK

Reed Professor Sees No Lasting Peace Unless U.S. Willing to Take Helm

America must lead the world in the new order to come out of the close of World War 2, Dr. Paul Munk, Reed college faculty member said Friday evening when he addressed a large gathering of Medford citizens at the county court house auditorium. Millions of silent Europeans, said the speaker, lost in the darkness and apparent hopelessness of a rising totalitarian flood see the light of U. S. ideals as their future.

Dr. Munk maintained that there could be no lasting peace or satisfactory world reconstruction unless the United States is willing, not only to collaborate, but take the leadership in peace and "pay the bills." He urged all democracies to unite and cooperate in the fight for freedom if there is to be any hope of a successful outcome.

Speaking of democracies, the Reed college faculty member explained that it is in a certain sense more difficult to be a citizen of a democracy than a "slave" in a totalitarian country, "because free men have to make up their minds." There is no way for democracy to survive unless citizens are willing to impose the task upon themselves and accept sacrifices that this imposition necessitates.

Freedom Earned
America has achieved the greatest political freedom and highest standard of living, happiness of security and freedom of democracy by first suffering and tolling for these ideals. He said that modern educators of democracies had undoubtedly erred in educating youth too much to a life of peace when they should realize that peace can be guaranteed only by the will to defend it from hostile aggression.

Dr. Munk, an economist, opened his talk by stating that one of the most pressing needs of the moment is stoppage of price increases. He said he was glad to see government agencies already taking steps to halt such increases because it would be fatal to let the economic structure get out of hand during the vital "battle of production."

"National unity is a raw material indispensable for a victory," the speaker said, "more important even than money and military machines." He said he believed the American people have a feeling of national unity and eventually would become united, but there is still a long way to go.

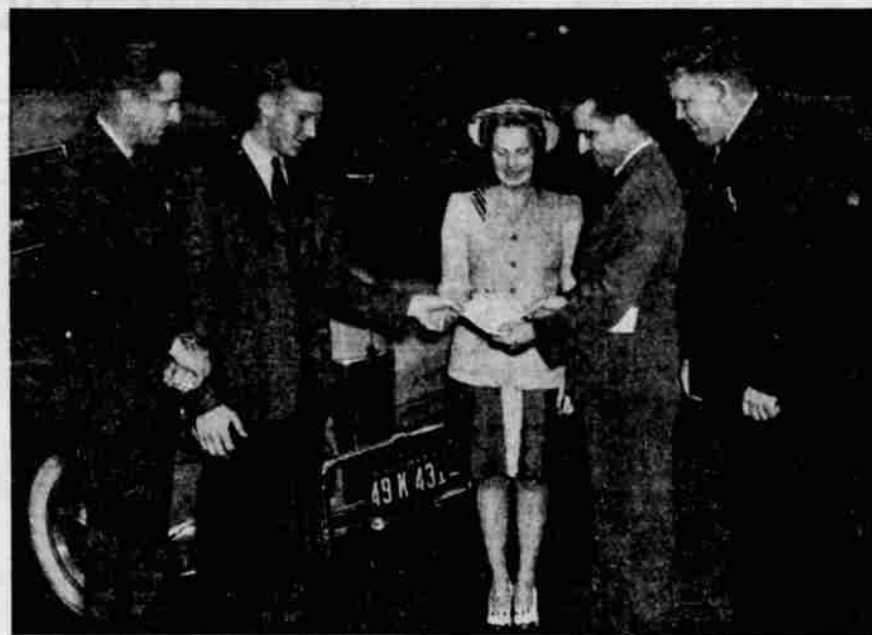

Hitler Aims Twofold
Urging Americans to realize that Hitler's war on Russia was launched for more than oil and wheat, Dr. Munk said he felt that the main objective was to divide the world and particularly American public opinion. For by this sudden attack on his former associate, Hitler meant to confuse the American public and divert possible aid to remaining democracies by capitalizing on hatred of Russian communism. He warned his hearers that the time may come, unless the Nazis are checked, when America will awaken to the startling fact that Hitler has taken Siberia and is a neighbor just 20 miles away from Alaska and the U. S. A.

Other points urged by Hitler in gaining his objectives, were mentioned as, one, enemy softening up or immobilization by propaganda; two, isolation as a prelude to war, notably in the case of Russia and Turkey; three, creating of dissension among enemies real and potential; four, sudden blitzkrieg, and five, final enslavement.

Hitler unfortunately has always had the initiative the speaker pointed out, because the world was not united, lacked foresight, did not think he would take the next step. Therefore, unless democracies stop waiting for Hitler's next step neither military, psychological or economic wars can be won—the offensive must be taken by the democracies, and Hitler, by superior force, overthrown.

Reconstruction Map Given
For reconstruction of the world at the close of present difficulties Dr. Munk suggested an International Reconstruction authority with the U. S. taking the leadership. This authority would reconstruct the world economically by outfitting countries with farm machinery and necessary equipment, a just division of raw materials, and through this action, bettering the lot of the common man. Some such step is necessary to prevent another devastating depression, the consequences of which might paralyze if not destroy the capitalistic system.

Two Winners Here In Ford Good Driving Contest

Miss Neva M. Croucher, route 2, Medford, and Homer C. Young, associated with Copco here who resides at 311 South Oakdale avenue, were winners in competition sponsored by the Ford Good Drivers' league recently and will compete in Portland for national honors July 1. The accompanying photograph shows Dean Lippl, Ford official, presenting credentials to Miss Croucher and Homer Young at the local sales room of Crater Lake Motors, Ford Mercury and Lincoln-Zephyr dealers of this city.

Twenty-four Oregon young people were selected from literally hundreds of youthful drivers throughout the state, to compete at Portland, Tuesday, for the coveted title of safe driving champion of Oregon. The contest is one of nearly 50 being held in cities throughout the country. The Ford Good Drivers' league, formed by Edsel Ford, seeks to encourage good driving on the part of America's young people.

The 24 state finalists, who were chosen by a nationally-known board of judges on their showing in actual road tests as well as in written examinations, will be put through an exacting series of "on the spot" driving maneuvers in the forthcoming state competition.

The boy and the girl rated best by the safety experts who are to act as judges will compete in the national finals at Dearborn, Mich., August 21-25. Each of the 48 states and the District of Columbia will be represented in the finals.

University scholarships will be awarded each of the 98 contestants in the finals. The scholarships, identical for boy and girl divisions, are: First prize, $5,000 scholarship; second prize, $2,000 scholarship; third, fourth and fifth prizes, $500 scholarships, the remaining 44 in each division, $100 each.

More than 170,000 young drivers enrolled this year in the Ford Good Drivers' league. The state finalists are chosen by a board composed of: J. Stannard Baker and Miss Marian Telford of the National Safety Council; Elmer P. Grierson, co-publisher of The American Boy; Mrs. Mildred Y. McKay, director of adult education; the Cleveland Automobile club, Louis R. Morony, manager, field relations department, Automobile Manufacturers' association; Dr. F. R. Noffsinger, educational consultant, American Automobile association, and Ray W. Sherman, author.

fallen back to new positions (on the northern front) after inflicting heavy losses on German columns driving on Minsk.

That sounds more credible. No one is yet ready to believe the red army has mastered the new German technique of advance.

THE German purpose is to encircle, demoralize and destroy the Russian armies, as the French armies were encircled, demoralized and destroyed.

The Russian job is to ESCAPE the encircling German pincers, either by fighting off the Germans or by withdrawing in reasonably good order to the interior wastelands of Russia where they can remain as a threat to Hitler's future.

That is what the Chinese have so far been able to do to Japan.

THE British today claim to be winning the battle of the Atlantic with the help of long range planes and "corvettes."

The corvette is a mass-production, awkward-looking ship, capable of being turned out rapidly from the shipyards and said to be heavily enough armed to master a destroyer if need be.

After a submarine has been spotted by the cruising planes, the corvettes do the dirty work of dropping depth bombs.

More significant is the fact that she hasn't yet tackled the Russians in eastern Siberia.

WHAT does it mean? It MIGHT mean anything.

It could be dust thrown in the eyes of the German people to conceal from them the fact that Hitler isn't getting any nearer to London. It could also be a bid to Britain and the United States to join in the job of saving the world from the communist terror.

It is obviously a new propaganda line. It is put out for a purpose, Hitler isn't telling us what his purpose is.

ANOTHER straw:
The Turks grant permission for evacuation of Vichy French forces from Syria through Turkey. For the present, at least, Hitler seems to be giving up the war in Syria.

Why? We'll have to wait and see.

THERE is no further light today on the Russians' claim that they have been able to bite off the German panzer thrusts. Instead we hear from Moscow that "the Russian armies have

WAR AND JITTERS SLOW UP WALL ST.

New York, June 28.—(P)—The stock market finished a fairly successful week, with considerable hesitancy today as war worries combined with a slump in recently buoyant commodities to put brakes on buying sentiment.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 41.7 but up .3 of a point on the week. Transfers of 139,550 shares compared with 125,200 a week ago, which was one of the smallest turnovers in a year.

Emerging with moderate advances were Canada Dry, which edged into new high ground for the year; American Can, Pennsylvania, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry, Goodyear, General Motors, Bethlehem Steel, American Telephone and Johns-Manville.

On the losing side fractionally were U. S. Steel, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, Glenn Martin, Phelps Dodge, Standard Oil (N. J.), Texas Corp., Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Du Pont and Eastman Kodak.

IN the war winds today (Friday) this straw appears:

Hitler is calling on continental Europe (composed of his slaves and his stooges) to rise in a holy war against communism.

SPAIN reports that he has DEMANDED a "token" anti-communist force from each nation of the Nazi-planned new Europe. A Spanish legion is being recruited in response to the demand.
