in other words

by JOHN CLUNTON

Well, with my neighbor, the slightly absent-minded professor, life is never dull. He's always forgetting something. Like a famous vaudeville performer, if he has a piece of rope in his hand, he's never sure whether he's found a rope or lost a horse!

He used to get stranded without money to buy gas till I got him a Union Oil credit card. And he never had his car lubricated till the Minute Men came after it regularly every thousand miles.

I was just beginning to relax when it happened! His battery went dead while he was driving. So he left it at a gas station, and drove on with a rental battery.

A week later his wife asked him if he had picked up the re-charged battery. He looked startled. He forgot where he left it!

Well, the Minute Men even straightened that out for him, too. They asked him what route he took to town, then asked him if he'd used his Union Oil credit card in the transaction. Yes, come to think of it, he had! So they called all the Union stations on his route—found the right one, and even picked up his battery for him!

Now, when his battery needs charging, they are to take it out on the spot...recharge it...and put it back next time he comes in! I suggest you get a Union Oil Credit Card. You never know just how handy they'll be! Ask any Minute Man for an application.

Thorndike-Wood Rites Read At St. Mark's Church

St. Mark's Episcopal church was the scene of the wedding yesterday of Miss Elizabeth Ann Thorndike, daughter of Eugene Thorndike, 617 Dakota avenue to Berwick Lewis Wood of Klamath Falls, son of Mrs. S. L. Damon of Portland.

The service was read at 4 p. m. by the Rev. Herald G. Gardner, rector of St. Mark's, in the presence of friends and relatives of the couple. The church was decorated with cream, yellow and peach gladioli with lighted white tapers.

Mrs. Eva Hazelrigg Marsh played traditional wedding music as the wedding party entered the church. George Maddox sang "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk jersey wedding gown fashioned with a train and tight fitting girdle and bodice with a yoke of Irish lace. Long sleeves were caught at the wrist with Irish lace, and she wore a finger tip veil with a halo of orange blossoms. A single strand of pearls worn by the bride were a gift of the bridegroom. Her bridal bouquet was fashioned of white pompon chrysanthemums and baby breath.

Miss Catherine Ford, maid of honor, wore a tea rose taffeta princess style gown with elbow length sleeves and a matching polk bonnet. Miss Catherine Smith of Portland was bridesmaid and wore an identical costume and also carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

Lieut. Gordon Scott of Fort Lewis, Wash., was best man. Ushers were Bud Mercer of Portland and William Gilbert of Bend.

A small, informal reception followed in the lounge of the Hotel Medford. The three-tiered wedding cake was cut first by the bride. Assisting about the lounge were Mrs. Wright Scoville, Mrs. Robert Riley of this city and Mrs. William Gilbert of Bend.

The couple left on a wedding trip to the south and upon their return will make their home at Klamath Falls where Mr. Wood is employed with the army engineers.

For traveling Mrs. Wood chose a gold suede jersey dress with brown accessories and a green orchid shoulder corsage.

Mrs. Wood is a graduate of Medford high school and Oregon State college where she was affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma social sorority. She has been employed in the office of Gov. Charles Sprague in the state capitol. Mr. Wood also attended Oregon State college.

Among out-of-town guests at the wedding were members of the wedding party and Major and Mrs. S. L. Damon of Portland; Mrs. Gordon Scott of Fort Lewis, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gandy of Tigard; Miss Jean Ingles of Cottage Grove; Miss Mary Louise Oliver of Salem; Roy Rickey of Portland.

Turners Leave For Montana
Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Turner and son Robert left Saturday for their home in Helena, Mont., after a short visit in this city where they attended the wedding of their daughter Elsie Margaret Turner to Joseph Schaff Saturday morning.

While here they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Walker, 1120 Reddy avenue. Robert, who has composed several music selections, appeared on a local radio program Saturday morning. Mr. Turner, construction engineer for NYA for the state of Montana, reported that they were pleased with southern Oregon and plan to return again in the near future. Enroute home they planned to stop in Portland to visit Mr. Turner's brother, John Turner, a member of the Portland police department.
