

COUSINS REUNITED BY BUSINESS SIGN ON SIDE OF TRUCK

Charles Niedrich, 34 Williamette street, is positive that "it pays to advertise." For having his name and address on the side of his truck brought about the first meeting in 30 years between Niedrich and his cousin, C. E. Dorsch of Portland.

Mr. Dorsch, traveling for Libby, McNeill and Libby company with headquarters in Portland, was enroute to San Francisco Tuesday morning while passing through Medford he happened to read the name Charles Niedrich on the side of a truck parked near the Fluhrer construction work on North Holly street where Mr. Niedrich is employed.

An inquiry by Mr. Dorsch reunited the two men and during their visit they discovered that Mr. Dorsch had been residing in Portland for a number of years. The Niedrichs have lived in Medford since 1929, Mr. Niedrich being employed in cement work. The last visit between the cousins was 30 years ago in Staunton, Ill. Mrs. Niedrich said that she and her husband had motored to Portland numerous times but did not know that Mr. Dorsch resided there. Mr. Dorsch said that he was under the impression that the Niedrichs still resided in Illinois.

CHEESE FACTORY
Salem, Ore., Sept. 17.—(P)—Paving the way for opening of a cheddar cheese factory that will produce 1,500 pounds of cheese a day for Britain, the Dairy Cooperative association signed a year's lease yesterday on the cheese department of Capital Dairies.
