KLONDIKE KATE
Bend, Ore., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. John Matson of Bend, known as Klondike Kate in the Alaskan gold rush days, will fly to New York today to appear on a radio program.

DAHLIA DISPLAY AT HOTEL TODAY

Medford residents interested in dahlias have an opportunity this evening to attend the dahlia exhibit in the lobby of the Hotel Medford, sponsored by the Medford Garden club. The exhibit is presented by E. J. Hamilton of this city. Over 100 varieties are displayed.

One table is devoted to large dahlias including informal formal, cactus, semi-cactus and straight dahlia, the largest being the Mrs. George Boutellier, 14 inches in diameter. A table of miniatures and pom-pom dahlias completes the display. The public is invited. The exhibit opened at noon today and continues until 10 p. m.

QUEENIE GIVES UP MOTHERHOOD JOB

Oklahoma City.—(AP)—It's a sad day for animal trainers, Hollywood and the circus. Queenie the lion isn't going to have any more cubs.

The word comes from Leo Blondin, park zookeeper, who says Queenie has done her bit in giving birth to 49 cubs. Queenie is 11, too old to safely experience motherhood again, Blondin says.

Nearly all of Queenie's cubs have been noted for their intelligence. She gave the world its first wire walking lion and supplied many more trick animals to trainers. Many of Hollywood's lions are her offspring. A few years ago she caused excitement by giving birth to quintuplets. Four usually are the maximum.

ELKS FOR STRIKE BAN
Long Beach, Calif., Sept. 19.—(AP)—California Elks, meeting here in their 27th annual convention, demand that the government halt strikes and lockouts in defense industries "so long as there remains in the military service . . . a single draftee."

Wall St. Report
New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Maybe it was sun spots. Maybe it was the war, taxes, price controls, business or just general contrariness. Anyway, most stock market leaders today went into a slow decline.

Negatively constructive, from the standpoint of analysts, was the fact that offerings never were urgent. Transfers were around 550,000 shares.
