

CROP, FEED LOANS NOW AVAILABLE TO COUNTY FARMERS

Application Forms And Information Available At County Agent's Office.

Emergency crop and weed loans are now available to farmers in Jackson county, and applications are now being received at Eugene, Oregon, by V. N. Freeman, field supervisor of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan section of the Farm Credit Administration.

The loans will be made, as in the past, only to farmers whose cash requirements are small and who cannot obtain a loan from any other source, including production credit associations, banks, or other private concerns or individuals.

Money loaned will be limited to the applicant's necessary cash needs in preparing and cultivating his crops or in purchasing or producing feed for his livestock. Borrowers who obtain loans for the production of cash crops are required to give as security a first lien on the crops financed or, in the case of loans for the purchase or production of feed for livestock, a first lien on the livestock to be fed.

Cash crop loans mature on August 31, 1942, and feed loans mature October 31, 1942. Rate of interest in either case is 4% per year.

Application forms and full information are available at the office of R. G. Fowler, county agent, at the court house in Medford.

Harris, 24-year-old shipyard worker, bent over the idle machine yesterday to pick up a tool, and as he stood erect again, it somehow started whirling.

He remained conscious long enough to stop it, but not before part of the augur's two-foot length had dug into his body.

Ike Staple's low handicap crowd beat down Gene Thorndike's high handicap, close-fitting outfit 7½ to 4½ at the Rogue River Valley Golf club yesterday afternoon.

The winners were out-generated and out-fought before the match began but at the close of play the picture was different. Thorndike, captain of the losing team, was under the strain of too much banking pressure to play and the losers based their excuses for defeat on his absence.

The team play score:
1½ Staples Meyers 1½
3 Clark Cupp 0
3 Price Clay 0
0 Porter Hammond, Sr. 3
7½ 4½

KLAMATHITES GIVE ROTARIANS REVIEW OF HELP FOR 4-H

Just how the Rotary-sponsored Four-H club livestock show in Klamath county is conducted was outlined at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the local Rotary club by Tom Waters, Klamath Falls business man, and Charles Henderson, Klamath county agriculture agent. A number of Four-H club youngsters attended the meeting, held at the Hotel Medford, and Bren Starcher, chairman of the Rotary Four-H committee, outlined plans for the livestock show and auction now under way at the Jackson county fairgrounds.

Both Klamath Falls speakers stressed importance of cooperation on the part of city people with Four-H club activities as a means of building good will between business and farming groups. Cordial relations with farmers is a definite asset to merchants and professional men, Waters emphasized.

Twelve hundred people attended the last Rotary club barbecue at Klamath Falls, an annual event which precedes the livestock show and auction, the Klamath Rotarians told their local audience. Sponsorship of this activity has three-fold advantage—encourages Four-H boys and girls, stimulates interest in rural problems and provides pleasure and inspiration to participating Rotarians.

BOARD TO ORDER ONE CENT BOOST IN MILK PRICES

It was also stated that after the milk control board had ruled on the matter, a provision on bottle caps would be embodied in the ordinance in accordance with the board's findings. Under the "proposed" ruling, however, the council might require lip-protecting caps, in which event no extra charge would have to be made, or it might not require such caps, in which case an additional cent would have to be charged for any special tops.

An exception in the case of school cafeterias is made in the minimum price of half pints which, though priced at five cents retail, may be delivered to the schools at 2½ cents, the proposed order sets forth.

Under the proposed order pints of four per cent milk are raised from seven to eight cents, quarts from 11 to 12 cents and gallon lots in cans from 40 to 48 cents. Pints of premium or five per cent milk are increased from eight to nine cents, quarts from 12 to 13 cents and gallon lots in cans from 44 to 52 cents.

Half pints of light cream remain at 15 cents retail, pints go up from 23 to 27 cents and quarts from 45 to 50 cents; heavy cream prices are raised from 18 to 19 cents a half pint, 33 to 35 cents for pints and 60 to 65 cents for quarts.

Production Costs Up

From its hearing here the board found that there had been substantial increases in the wage scale paid labor by milk producers in the past year and that there had been varying degrees of increases in the cost of feed, farm equipment and supplies and transportation. The distributor-producers here submitted evidence to show that feed costs had risen 25 per cent and labor from 20 to 25 per cent in the past year, emphasizing that the milk price increase sought was only about 10 per cent.

Few Boos Punctuate Address by Wheeler In Seattle Theater

Seattle, Sept. 24.—(P)—A definitely sympathetic audience, with only an occasional boo from the galleries, heard Isolationist Senator Burton K. Wheeler defend his views last night and reiterate that he was trying to help President Roosevelt "keep promises he made the American people" to keep America out of war.

Forty policemen were assigned to the meeting, which was transferred to the Metropolitan theatre after the Eagles lodge refused the America first committee use of their auditorium. The theatre, filled to capacity with 1,700 people, and an overflow audience of 8,000 outside heard him lash out early at the opposition against his coming here.

"I began to think that instead of going over to Europe to fight for the four freedoms we ought to come to Seattle and fight for the four freedoms here," he said.

"When the veterans of foreign wars wanted to get the bonus back a number of years ago, who did they come to?" he asked. "They came to me," he added.

MOTHER FAILS IN RESCUE ATTEMPT

Stockton, Calif., Sept. 24.—(P)—Mrs. Bernadine Dougherty, 29, slashed her arms on broken window glass and suffered burns on her face and head but still failed in her frantic effort to rescue two small daughters from the blazing family home.

Alone with the children, Mary, 2, and Peggy, 3, when a kerosene cooking stove set the small dwelling aflame last night, Mrs. Dougherty rushed to the window of the girls' bedroom and broke out the pane with her fists.

She succeeded in reaching one child, but because the broken glass had severed tendons in both her arms, she could not pull the baby to safety before the searing heat drove her back.

Fancy Bartlett Pears FOR CANNING

We have in Medford Ice & Storage several hundred small boxes of excellent quality Bartlett pears. These boxes weigh between 23 and 25 pounds net, or about half the size of a regular standard wrapped and packed box. They are all large sizes, ideal for canning. These pears have been washed, graded and sized exactly the same as pears going into our standard boxes that we ship to the eastern markets.

For those who would like a few pears for canning purposes we would recommend their purchasing one or more of these small boxes, priced at $1.00 Box at Medford Ice & Storage Co.

Each pear should be in suitable condition to can, not like the loose pears you buy in field lugs, or culls.

Bartletts in this type of package are very limited here in the district and just a tip to those who like fruit during the winter months—canned Bartletts, as well as canned peaches and other soft fruits, will be quite expensive later, and for economy's sake you should can a few Bartletts and save some money.
