

MODEL AIRPLANES WILL VIE SUNDAY ON AGATE DESERT

Medford Prop Nuts Sponsor
Year's Largest Contest—
Many Prizes For Winners

The fourth and largest gas model airplane meet of the year will be held Sunday starting at 10 a. m. on Agate desert, 1/2 mile south of Bybee bridge, by the Medford Prop Nuts Gas Model Airplane club.

With a prize list of over $50 besides several specialty prizes, the local club is putting on the biggest contest ever held in southern Oregon. Contestants are expected from Portland, Salem, Eugene, Klamath Falls, Crescent City, Rogue River, Ashland and the local club to compete for the prizes in three classes.

The tiny ships vie in three classes—A, B and C—according to the displacement of the motor. "A" class is any motor up to .199 cubic inch displacement; B—200 to .299, and C—300 up to 1.125. The A class consists of ships up to about 42 inch wingspan; the B class 40 to 54 inch and C class from 54 inches to 8 and 10 feet.

The contest Sunday will be held under Academy of Model Aeronautics official rules. The AMA is the national governing body of all model aviation and has a set of rules for all types of model aircraft. Under these rules the little ships take off and fly for 20 seconds under power, the motor to be cut off at this time by an automatic switch. The remainder of the flight is a glide and if the ship is built and balanced correctly it will fly for several minutes, the local record being a little over 28 minutes.

The club will parade their ships with motors running Saturday afternoon on the downtown streets.

The prize list is as follows:
A Class
1—Mercury gas kit and ignition unit.
2—Ignition unit.

GLAMOUR IN GLASS

Miss Madelyn Crane is seen holding the beautiful glass Refrigerator Set offered by the Sego Milk Company. Also pictured are the colorful 9-oz. glass Tumblers which they are giving away to Sego Users.

3—Set of model knives.
4—1 dozen propellers.
5—1 pair of air wheels.
6—Tool kit.

B Class

1—American Ace gas kit and ignition unit.
2—Ignition unit.
3—Set of knives.
4—1 dozen propellers.
5—1 pair of air wheels.
6—Tool kit.

C Class

1—Sailplane gas kit and pair air wheels.
2—Ignition unit.
3—Set of model knives.
4—1 dozen propellers.
5—1 pair of air wheels.
6—Tool kit.

Special prizes are being awarded by Mann's store, Littell Parts, Montgomery Ward, Sims Bros. and the Ideal Bicycle Shop.

There will be no admission charge for entrance to the field for spectators.
Cold drinks will be sold at the field, and Fluhrer's Bakery have donated the use of their public address system to announce the winners and outstanding flights.

Eagle Point

Eagle Point, Sept. 26.—(Spl.) Sam Coy has practically completed two small new houses on the south side of the creek. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pettegren and family moved into one of them last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ensminger, managers of the local phone office, recently purchased the King property and are having the house remodeled and painted and the rest generally renovated.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Nettek of the Long Mt. district called on Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Henderson last Tuesday evening.

Calvin Spencer, formerly manager of the Ala Vista orchards here, was a caller in Eagle Point Wednesday. He has sold their property near Central Point recently but is undecided yet as to where they live in the future.

H. E. club entertained the upper Rogue H. E. club in the local Grange hall Wednesday.

Miss Joan Holmes went to Ashland Monday where she will attend the State Normal this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Gosnell, who are living in Sams Valley now and where Mr. Gosnell is teaching, called on Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ashpole last Tuesday evening on their way home from attending the funeral of Mr. Gosnell's father at Ashland. The sympathy of their friends here is extended to them in their bereavement.

Mrs. Art Kent of Antelope spent last Tuesday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Houston of this place.

Mrs. Alice Andrews of Nevada City, Calif., arrived in Eagle Point last week and will spend a month with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wisdom and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wisdom are enlarging their house here by building on another bedroom, bath room and kitchen.

Roland Wisdom, who has been visiting his parents here, while on a 35-day furlough, will leave Sunday on his return to Camp Lewis.

WEATHER

Northern California Fair tonight, but cloudy on the coast; fair over the weekend with lower temperatures over the interior; gentle northwest wind off coast increasing Saturday.
