Billy Hulen Says:

I. Pickem Picks
Upset, 11 Other
Football Winners

Professor I. Pickem, still a little bloated in the cranium after correctly picking 12 winners in 12 games last Friday, approaches this week-end's dozen with sublime confidence.

The peerless prognosticator is so certain of his prowess, in fact that he plans to actually improve on the 1,000 mark. Prof. Pickem will not only again call the turn on 12 contests, he will put the finger on a nice, big, luscious upset.

Those of you who are in the habit of placing a potato or so on your favorite grid teams are warned to "get on" this form reversal Prof. Pickem will mention by name further down this pillar. Due to personal financial difficulties, the good professor will be unable to "get on" it himself, but he is glad to provide free of charge the upset information to this paper's readers.

Here are the dozen:

MEDFORD-GRANTS PASS Prof. Pickem will make himself highly unpopular with the Medford high coaching staff by predicting the Black Tornado will win its first conference game by anywhere from five to umpty-umpty touchdowns. The Cavemen just won't have what it takes to stop the locals. Let's call it a duplication of the Corvallis score: 41 to 0.

KLAMATH FALLS - DUNSMUIR. The California club lost by only a 6 to 7 count to Chico, which was beaten by the Pelicans, 19 to 13. It looks like a Klamath victory by 20 to 0.

ASHLAND - COQUILLE. The Grizzlies, with apparently one of their best teams in years, will travel to Coquille and hang up a 14 to 0 conquest.

OREGON - IDAHO. Francis Schmidt will find to his disgust that the Coast conference is about as tough as the Big Ten. The Webfoots to do it by 35 to 0.

OREGON STATE - WASHINGTON. The upsets are you looking, folks? The Beavers of O.S.C., spotted seven points by the "yellow sheet," will come up with a 7 to 6 victory over a Washington eleven battered and weary by that terrific Minnesota outfit.

CALIFORNIA - W.S.C. The game is at Pullman, which will help the Cougars, but Cal appears to have too much power. 21 to 7, favor the Bears.

STANFORD-U.C.L.A. Driving for another Rose Bowl engagement, the T-formation Indians will hurdle the Bruins by 20 to 6.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA-OHIO STATE. This looks like a tossup in almost every respect, but because the game is in L. A. Professor Pickem will take El Trojan by 14 to 13.

DUKE-TENNESSEE. The Blue Devils from Duke look the best, by a hair. By 7 to 0.

PENNSYLVANIA - HARVARD. Ye editor wouldn't appreciate the professor picking Penn, so he'll take ye editor's "alma mammy," 13 to 6.

NOTRE-DAME-INDIANA. The Irish should continue to win under new coach Leahy, this time by a score of 14 to 7.

FORDHAM - SOUTHERN METHODIST. The Rams are reputedly on their way to the Rose Bowl, so Pickem'll string along until it is proved otherwise and predict S.M.U. to drop this one, 20 to 12.

SACS, RAINIERS COLLIDE TONIGHT

Seattle, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The waning Pacific Coast league baseball season opens its final bid for attention tonight with a "revenge series" for the finale.

Sacramento, the team that led the league by a wide margin through most of the 1941 season, will clash with Seattle, the three-time champion who came from behind to snatch the flag, in the President's cup play-off.

While the Sacs are seeking to avenge Seattle's theft of the pennant, the Rainiers have an account of their own to square. They have smarted under the Sacs' 15 victories in 24 games with the Rainiers.

Hal Turpin will start on the mound for Seattle, with Tony Freitas expected to pitch for Sacramento in a duel of veterans.

Seven "B" Schools Stage Six-Man Grid Jamboree Tonight

SQUADS DIVIDED INTO TWO GROUPS FOR ANNUAL SHOW

Each Team Will Play Two Six-Minute Quarters—Four Games On Schedule

Seven Jackson county class B six-man football teams, including the 1940 state champion Jacksonville Redskins, will stage their annual grid jamboree at the Medford senior high school stadium tonight at 8 o'clock sharp.

The teams have been divided into two groups, the West and the East. Playing for the West will be Eagle Point, Gold Hill, Rogue River and Prospect, and for the West, Phoenix, Talent and two Jacksonville sextettes.

West teams will be pitted against East outfits in four games to consist of two six-minute quarters, with the cumulative score determining victory for one of the two groups.

The order of games follows: Eagle Point vs. Phoenix. Gold Hill vs. Jacksonville. Rogue River vs. Jacksonville. Prospect vs. Talent.

Stephen Epler of Southern Oregon College of Education, inventor of six-man football, will be one of the officials, and an added feature will be the performance of Talent, Phoenix and Jacksonville drill teams between halves.

BEARCATS CRUSH PORTLAND 26-0

Portland, Oct. 3.—(AP)—It was all Willamette university in the opening and closing minutes of the football game against Portland university at Multnomah stadium here last night and the Bearcats walked away with a 26 to 0 decision.

Throughout much of the second quarter and all of the third the teams played on even terms. But a six-minute burst by Willamette in the opening period sealed the Pilots' doom. Al Walden streaked through the center of the line on the second Bearcat play for 30 yards to the Portland two from where he scored. Soon after that Gene Stewart intercepted a Portland pass on his own 35 and behind good blocking moved all the way to pay dirt. Jim Fitzgerald converted on the first score and Bill Reder on the second.

MarineLand, Fla., the state's smallest incorporated town, claims to have the smallest telephone directory in the world. It measures three and a half by five inches and has eight pages.

First Half of Double Play

Tommy Henrich of the Yanks was forced at second on this play by Joe DiMaggio's grounder to Pee Wee Reese in the first inning of the second world series game yesterday and here Billy Herman is firing the ball to first to nip DiMaggio and complete a double play. The game, played at the Yankee stadium, was won by the Dodgers, 3 to 2. (Photo by wire and air mail to Mail Tribune.)

MEDFORD JUNIORS BATTLE ASHLAND TO 6-6 DEADLOCK

Outplayed throughout the first half by a bigger Ashland junior high eleven, the Medford juniors came back in the third period to score a touchdown on a pass from Bob Watson to Earl Barnhart and earn a 6 to 6 deadlock in the opening Southern Oregon junior high conference football game at Ashland last night.

Medford's scoring play was a 12-yard shot from left halfback Watson to right halfback Barnhart, who scampered 12 more yards into the end zone. The locals failed to add the extra point when Stead, quarterback, dropped a pass over the goal line.

Ashland scored in the first period and led at halftime, 6 to 0. Clarence Marquess, former Medford boy now attending the Ashland school, tore off a 20-yard end run from his fullback position for the home team's touchdown, but a running play failed to add the extra point. Marquess, a powerful runner, was the outstanding back on the field.

It was not until the third period that the Bulldogs started rolling. Several T-formation plays produced three first downs to set up the scoring play.

Next Thursday night the locals will play the Grants Pass

TORNADO LINEUP IS REVAMPED FOR CAVEMEN TONIGHT

Medford's Black Tornado, with a slightly revamped starting lineup made necessary by injuries to a pair of regulars, travels to Grants Pass tonight to open defense of its Southern Oregon conference championship. The game starts at 8:00 o'clock sharp.

Another change will find Jimmy Glenn starting at fullback and Wesley Davis opening in Billy Hillenband but this corner can't see Indiana upsetting the Notre Dame apperact. The Irish seem to have the greater versatility and the greater all-around strength.

Louisiana State-Texas: Until events prove it is a mistake, the secretary is empowered to cast one steady ballot for Texas. West Virginia-Navy: Spot for a surprise, for West Virginia is loaded. A wavering vote for Navy.

Purdue-Pitt: Tough choice. Figuring the Panthers are bound to win somewhere along their stiff schedule and this may be it, Pitt.

U.C.L.A.-Stanford: A fat vote for Stanford's defending champions.

Harvard-Penn: What to do? It usually is a mistake to expect a Harlow-coached team to win in October. If it be a mistake, then make the most of this vote for Harvard.

Virginia-Yale: Spike Nelson's debut at Yale may be spoiled by Bill Dudley and the Cavaliers. Timidly, Virginia.

California-Washington State: Looks like California really has it.

Washington-Oregon State: Not easy. Still, Washington.

Two southpaws, Verne Olsen, Cubs, and Ed Smith, Sox, will oppose each other on the mound, according to pre-game announcements.

Yesterday's game was rained out after three scoreless innings. The Sox won the opener, 4 to 1.

Barker Likes Duke to Beat Vols, Trojans Over State

New York, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Taking a full, and possibly futile swing at this week's football attractions (brother, don't throw those fast balls low and on the outside):

Duke-Tennessee: If Duke gets past this one, the Wade men may well wind up the season unbeaten. Duke uncorked plenty of scoring punch against Wake Forest. Tennessee's strength still is problematical but the Vols have at least one extremely dangerous back in Johnny Butler. Reserving the right to second-guess this selection, Duke.

Southern California-Oregon State: The Trojans may not be a major factor in the coast conference race this season but that seems to go doubled in spades for Ohio State in the Western conference. Taking the home club, Southern California.

Fordham-Southern Methodist: The Mustangs and Rams and the only thing sure is that this should be one of the day's best ball games. We'll take Fordham.

Indiana-Notre Dame: Bo McMillin has a great running back in Billy Hillenband but this corner can't see Indiana upsetting the Notre Dame apperact. The Irish seem to have the greater versatility and the greater all-around strength.

Louisiana State-Texas: Until events prove it is a mistake, the secretary is empowered to cast one steady ballot for Texas.

West Virginia-Navy: Spot for a surprise, for West Virginia is loaded. A wavering vote for Navy.
