

LOCAL and PERSONAL

New Residence—E. G. White and Son applied at the city building inspector's office yesterday for a permit to construct a new residence and private garage at 2319 Hillcrest road at a stated cost of $4,000.

To Rainier—Ed Fox, 339 South Central avenue, left last night for Rainier where he has accepted a position with the Oregon state highway department survey crew. En route north he planned to visit his mother, Mrs. Eva Fox, at Salem. Mr. Fox has been employed for the past year at the Hotel Jackson.

Returns Home—Miss Dorothy Rogers returned today to her home, 108 South Holly street, from Sacred Heart hospital where she has been confined for the past three months with a broken back. Her condition was reported improved. She was hurt in a fall from a horse.

Officers Return—Vern L. Drager, state liquor law enforcement officer, and Paul Hanlin, U. S. deputy marshal, returned last night to Medford in Mr. Drager's car from Klamath Falls where they transacted official business. Mr. Drager went to Klamath Falls on September 29. Mr. Hanlin went over yesterday morning.

Arrives—T. M. Flick of Kingman, Kas., arrived by train yesterday for a short visit at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Scripser, 60 Rose avenue. Mr. Flick, an attorney, may open a law office in the northwest and plans a trip to Portland and Seattle. He is a former partner of the U. S. attorney for Kansas.

Fire in Store—The fire department's chemical crew was called at 9:25 this morning to put out a blaze on the mezzanine floor of Jarmin's Penny-Wise drug store, 323 East Main street, but the fire had been put out when the firemen arrived. Some waste material was ignited by the furnace pipe against which it rested, firemen reported. There was no damage.

Son Born—Word was received here today of the birth of a son, Fredrick Manville, to Mr. and Mrs. George M. Watson of Boyes Hot Springs, Cal. The baby was born September 30 at Burndal hospital, Sonoma, Cal., and weighed seven pounds and 10 ounces. Mr. Watson, the son of Mrs. Thomas Williams, 116 Chestnut street, is well-known here. He was formerly employed on the Mail Tribune, later joined the navy and is now employed in the shipyards at Vallejo, Cal.

Plane Passengers—Leaving by United Mailline this forenoon were D. Dearocher and E. Dearocher, to Los Angeles, and J. Selvaige, to San Francisco. O. Earlandson departed for Fargo, N. D., early this morning. Mrs. T. Sammons arrived last night from Oakland, Cal. Arriving early last night were A. Pierce and C. M. Hurd, from Portland. R. Robbins departed for Los Angeles on the same plane. Leaving for Portland late yesterday afternoon were R. Nickelson and H. Dorman. Mrs. L. Jungstrom arrived from San Francisco yesterday noon. Hurd left for Portland on the same plane.

Guest From Salem—Mrs. Sylvia Shreve of Salem is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Van R. Gilbert, 133 North Holly street. Mrs. Shreve, well known in Medford through her former residence here, is on an extensive trip that will include visits with relatives and friends in a number of states, including California, Iowa, Nebraska and Ohio. She arrived Tuesday and planned to continue her trip within the next few days. Her late husband, Roy Shreve, was once a partner with Sam G. Colton in the Office Stationery & Supply company.

Still Here—William M. Daws, technical sergeant in charge of the army air corps detachment at Medford municipal airport who was to report on transfer at Stockton, Cal., October 1, was still here today. He had sold his home at 26 Kenwood avenue, was all packed up for the move and was actually on his way by car when he stopped at the postoffice to make one last look for mail. He found army orders directing him to remain on duty here until further notice. Daws is still under treatment for the accidental rifle wound he suffered on the first day of the hunting season when his gun discharged and shot off the first joint of his left thumb. Staff Sgt. Elroy A. Martin, ordered to replace Daws here, has returned to his former post at Boeing field, Seattle, for 10 days after spending a week at Medford airport.

Business Trip—Frank Hull and his son, Frank W. Hull, 517 South Grape street, plan to leave by car tomorrow morning on a business trip to San Francisco. They expect to return Tuesday night.

Minor Accidents—Elson Frost of Hickman Mills, Mo., and Everett Martin of 18 North Front street drove cars involved in a slight mishap on the Crater Lake highway 60 miles from Medford yesterday afternoon, a report on file said today. Machines operated by Irvin Leroy Orr of Medford and John A. Carter of 1111 Reddy avenue were involved in a minor accident at Eighth street and Central avenue last evening, according to a report on file today.

Here For Meeting—F. C. Hogue, general traffic manager for the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad company with headquarters in Denver, H. A. Robertson, assistant freight traffic manager from Denver, N. K. Lockwood, western traffic manager from San Francisco, and W. M. Dodge, traveling freight and passenger agent from San Francisco, are in Medford today to attend a dinner-meeting at the Hotel Medford tonight. Pictures on winter conditioning of pears will be shown pear men and lumbermen of southern Oregon. The colored pictures were taken last year by the railroad company, a number of the reels showing orchards surrounding Medford. The pictures have also been shown in the east to educate handlers as to proper methods in storing pears.

Benny Funniest in Sunday Hit

Jack Benny has the greatest—and funniest—role of his laugh-laden career in the hilarious Brandon Thomas comedy, "Charley's Aunt," which comes to the Craterian theatre Sunday and will stay for a full week's engagement.

A special short subject program has been added to make the entire bill one that is expected to be one of the most popular ever shown here.

Cowboy Sleuth

Franchot Tone plays an Eastern detective sent out West to track down a gang of rustlers in "Trail of the Vigilantes," which plays tonight and Saturday at the Roxy theatre with Peggy Moran opposite as a frontier rancher who befriends the marshal. Others in the large cast are Mischa Auer, Warren William, Andy Devine and Brod Crawford.

"Across the Sierras," starring "Wild Bill" Elliott, plays as the companion Western with "Trail of the Vigilantes."
