Fibber McGee And Molly With Betty Grable At Rialto

Fibber McGee and Molly, Betty Grable, Mary Livingstone, Ned Sparks, Buddy Rogers and many other favorites are featured performers in the lighthearted comedy-musical, "This Way Please", showing today and Monday at the Rialto theatre.

Several years ago, when the picture was first shown here, Ned Sparks and Buddy Rogers were about the only ones who were very well known. Fibber McGee and Molly had just started getting popular with radio fans; Betty Grable was known only as one of the best looking girls in Hollywood with a flair for dancing; Mary Livingstone was becoming popular on Jack Benny's radio show. Now Fibber McGee and Molly are among radio's top favorites; Betty Grable has become one of the screen's most popular young stars and Mary Livingstone has grown in popularity as Benny's show has moved to top position on the air and Benny himself has become one of the screen's ranking favorites.

It was due to the cast, and the snap with which they performed their parts in the show, that resulted in the re-booking of "This Way Please". To many theatre fans, it will be a surprise to think they missed the picture when it was first shown here, doubly so when they discover the enjoyable entertainment with which the picture is endowed.
