

MARY SMITH HIT BY AUTOMOBILE ON NORTH HOLLY

Mary Smith, 55, of 812 Cedar street, struck by an automobile at Holly and Haven streets about 6 p. m. Thursday, was confined in Sacred Heart hospital today with a broken left arm near the shoulder, abrasions of the head, a cut on her right hand, bruises and a back injury, the extent of which had not yet been determined.

The attending physician said her injuries were probably not serious, but that she would be forced to remain in the hospital for some time. X-ray pictures were being taken of her injured back today.

The automobile, according to city police, was operated by John Spackman, 51, of 620 Oak street. Following the accident the driver stopped, took the victim to his own home and then went to the police station and called a doctor, who took the injured woman to the hospital.

Spackman told police that he was driving north on Holly street, and that as he made a left turn into Haven street the left headlight of the car struck the southbound pedestrian as she started across Haven street. He told police he didn't see the woman in time to stop or swerve his car to avoid striking her.

Opposes Arming Ships

Chairman David I. Walsh (D-Mass.) of the Senate Naval Affairs committee, came out flat footed against pending legislation for neutrality act revision. He demonstrates the gesture he used as he told his colleagues that to arm American merchant ships now would "weaken our navy" at a time when, in his opinion, the nation was almost certain to be involved in war.

MIDWAY WORKER CHARGED AS SPY

Honolulu, Nov. 7.—(P)—A 46-year-old war veteran who worked as a chef at Midway island the past year was held today for the federal grand jury on a charge he had attempted to send two maps showing vital defenses of the mid-Pacific outpost to his wife in San Francisco.

The man, Edward John Coquelle, testified before the U. S. commissioner yesterday that his nephew, Alfred Muson, had inadvertently put the maps in a suitcase while helping him pack.

Lieut. Wendell F. Brooks of the Midway base, a witness at the hearing, said the maps were issued to Coquelle as a member of the volunteer fire department, and show complete details of the naval station as well as bomb sight locations, gasoline storage tanks, water wells and other details.

The maps were found in Coquelle's luggage when it arrived here two weeks ago. Coquelle was arrested upon his arrival Tuesday.

STATE COLLEGE IS HELD IN LINE FOR RETURN OF SCHOOL

Restoration of Commerce Department Seen Complying With Board Policies

Corvallis—(Sp.)—In asking the restoration at Oregon State college of the school of commerce, lost in the reorganization of 1932, the college is again seeking to comply with the policy of the state board of higher education as established at the recent Ashland meeting, says Dr. F. A. Gillfillan, acting president.

"Oregon State college was a firm supporter of the plan of co-ordinated major curricula whereby all institutions together provided Oregon's youth with a full choice of degree work without duplication in the major fields," said Dr. Gillfillan.

"With the abandonment of this policy for that of a federation of complete institutions, as definitely stated at Ashland, Oregon State college is duty-bound in conformity with this new policy to bring its offerings in line with the needs of Oregon students under the new higher education program. Restoration of the school of commerce will be a first step toward this end.

Less Expense Cited
"This institution had been led to believe that funds were not available for the support of two complete institutions in the traditional sense but the action at Ashland, effective next fall, completes the restoration of the University of Oregon of all its degree work offered there prior to 1932 plus some degree work formerly given here," Dr. Gillfillan continued.

"While no appropriation was made at the time for this expansion, approval was given the university statement that it could resume degree work in science at a cost not to exceed $10,000. The college similarly is now asking only the authority to resume degree work which is far less expensive than that in science.

Plan Called Sound
The report of the curricula committee adopted by the board stated that "if and when the state college or the colleges of education present requests to the curricula committee for curricular expansion or changes, the committee pledges its most earnest effort to arrive at a decision that is educationally sound and free from the taint of appeasement or trading."

"The college is prepared to establish beyond question the educational soundness of restoring degree work in commerce and other fields of a land grant college under the new policy of a federation of complete institutions."

More Coin Ordered Portland Shipyard

Washington, Nov. 7.—(P)—The maritime commission said today it had authorized an expenditure of $442,000 for additional facilities at the Oregon Shipbuilding corporation, Portland, Ore.

The commission said there would be no increase in the plant's ways, which number 11, but that additional facilities, such as shop, welding, and fitting, out, were needed.

The company now has contracts for the construction of 43 emergency cargo ships, two of which are for delivery this month.

Approximately 125,000,000 separate shipments are handled annually by the railroads.

SMITH TAKEN TO KLAMATH HEARING

Eugene Smith, 29 year-old Medford service station employee who has been held here since his arrest Saturday on a charge of failure to stop at the scene of an accident in connection with the mysterious death of Marie Russell, 17-year-old Klamath high school girl, was removed to Klamath Falls today by a state policeman to have a preliminary hearing.

Miss Russell was discovered fatally injured on The Dalles-California highway October 25. She died in a Klamath Falls hospital October 31.

Smith was arrested here by state police on information furnished by a Klamath Falls citizen, who jotted down the license number of a car whose driver apparently invited a girl for a ride on October 25.
