Zacharias Flies for Four-Yard Gain

Henry Zacharias, University of California halfback, made four yards on this second period play, but most of it was made through the air. The gentleman under him who seems to be sitting in mid-air is Martin Chaves, Oregon State guard. Oregon State won the game, played at Berkeley, Calif., with a last quarter touchdown, 8 to 0.

Football Briefs

(By Associated Press)

Pullman, Wash., Nov. 18.—(P) Mindful of years past when the Bulldogs from little Gonzaga university have spoiled what might otherwise have been a successful football season, the Washington State college Cougars plugged today against Gonzaga formations in preparation for Saturday's game against the Bulldogs in Spokane.

Before yesterday's workout Coach Babe Hollingbery gave his "giant killers" a skull session which included a restudy of the W.S.C.-Gonzaga game last year and an outline of the Gonzaga formations this season.

All of the Washington State players, with the exception of Stan Depke, guard, came through the Stanford game without injury. Depke hurt a knee and will be rested for the Texas A. & M. game December 6, unless an "emergency" arises, Hollingbery said.

Corvallis, Ore., Nov. 18.—(P) Oregon State Coach Lou Stiner parried numerous queries today over the Beavers' Rose bowl chances and prospective opponents.

"We're happy to be in the thick of the fight, but we're not losing sight of the fact that we have two games to play. The immediate problem is Montana," Stiner said.

The Beavers, who lead the Coast conference race, play Montana Saturday and Oregon the following week-end.

Seattle, Nov. 18.—(P) Hard, personal contact workouts are scheduled today for the University of Washington football squad as Coach James Phelan begins the final four days workout of the team in preparation for the battle here with Oregon Saturday.

Used extensively in practice workout against Oregon plays and apparently favored to start.

Secretarial Science Course Is Authorized For Ashland Normal

Southern Oregon College of Education, Ashland, Nov. 18.—(Sp)—The Oregon state board of higher education at its October meeting in Ashland, authorized the Southern Oregon College of Education to inaugurate a two-year secretarial science course to begin the winter quarter this year.

Since 1932 there has been an ever wider range of junior college subjects offered at the Southern Oregon College of Education to the youth of southern Oregon. All during this time college authorities have been endeavoring to provide greater service through a wider range of subjects in the lower division of liberal arts and sciences. The granting of secretarial science fulfills a long-felt need on the part of educators and students alike for a two-year terminal course in the field of general business training.

Enrollment in this new secretarial science course is expected to be extremely heavy this year owing to the heavy demand for trained stenographers and bookkeepers.

HIGH COURT NULLS DIVORCEE'S CLAIM

(By Associated Press)

Salem, Nov. 18.—(P)—A Bend divorcee who sued after her ex-husband's death to have the divorce decree set aside so she could claim his $10,000 estate lost in state supreme court today when the court reversed the late Circuit Judge T. E. J. Duffy, who had ordered the decree set aside.

Jack Cook sued his wife, Maria Jane Cook, for divorce in 1924 and was granted the decree. A year later he remarried, but again was divorced. He died in Bend in 1939 without heirs.

The first wife, contending she had not been notified that she had been divorced, brought suit after Cook died to have the decree held invalid. Judge Duffy held in her favor, effect of his decision being to make her Cook's widow and heir to the estate.

Under today's decision in which the court said that Mrs. Cook knew she had been divorced, the money goes into the school fund.

Six Elderly Patients Die in Hospital Fire

Amityville, N. Y., Nov. 18.—(P)—Six elderly patients—three men and three women—lost their lives early today in a fire which destroyed a building of a private sanitarium here. Thirty other persons, most of them bedridden, were rescued.

Dr. Gonvas L. Markham, superintendent of the institution, the Brunswick home for the care of diabetic and nervous cases, said that, while a majority of the patients were incurably incapacitated, so far as he could determine those rescued had suffered no ill effects other than shock.

MEXICO, GERMANY SALEM MAN DIES AT LOGGERHEADS OF BATH SCALDS

Mexico City, Nov. 18.—(P)—Germany and Mexico were at odds diplomatically today over the execution of hostages in axis-occupied lands, Mexico City refusing a Berlin request for withdrawal of a formal protest.

The foreign office disclosed the Mexican position last night, saying Berlin warned that "nothing but a disagreeable answer" could be expected.

The chamber of deputies was stirred.

"In view of Hitler's insolent reply," declared one deputy, Cesar Garizurieta, "there is only one significant course: expel the representatives of Hitler's government in Mexico."

Deputy Jose Gomez Esparza said "the murder of peaceful hostages cannot be justified under the most elementary principles of humanitarian laws."
