

U. S. Expedition to Guiana Cause of Angry Outburst In German, Italian Press

By DeWitt MacKenzie
(Associated Press Analyst)

Herr Hitler's camp would appear from Nazi and fascist newspaper comment to be as much exercised over the American occupation of Dutch Guiana as any other recent development—and taking the long view of the war situation perhaps the wisest of the axis are right.

No clearer indication of the powerful moral effect of this move could be had than has been evidenced in the angry outburst of the German and Italian press. That moral effect, which reaches round the world and touches not only the axis and its supporters but their enemies, would seem to be more important at this juncture than the military consideration.

We have a striking demonstration of the determination of the United States to protect not only its own interests but those of other nations in this hemisphere. We also have a display of Pan-American cooperation in Brazil's quick approval, and that's of vast importance to the outcome of the war.

The general effect must be to impress all nations with the idea that Uncle Sam means business. One would expect it to encourage Pan-American solidarity, to raise the morale of the allies and their friends, and to provide food for reflection among those nations like Turkey which are trying to tread a straight path of neutrality.

This sending of Yankee troops into Surinam might even have a salutary effect on the American-Japanese crisis. By an association of ideas Tokyo will be unable to escape the thought that Dutch Guiana is a sister colony of the Dutch East Indies, which figure so prominently in the far eastern imbroglio.

Last but far from least—and this likely is what worries Hitler most—the American move is calculated to have a restraining influence on the Vichy government which just now is under heavy pressure to make more concessions to Germany. Among the things which the fuhrer desires most is use of French colonies for military and submarine bases, and the occupation of Dutch Guiana next door to French Guiana is bound to make the French government pause for consideration.

One purpose of sending our troops to Guiana presumably is to be in position to keep the Germans out of the French colony. That might provide the Nazis with a useful submarine base, especially if the Nazis should force Vichy to give them Dakar, across the way on the western hump of Africa.

It is to be hoped, however, that it won't be necessary for any of our boys to be sent into French Guiana. It is a filthy, stinking spot which festers with disease under the killing equatorial sun. I've seen a lot of hell-holes in various parts of the world, but French Guiana heads the list. The notorious Devil's Island, which is part of this colony, is a paradise compared with the mainland.

CARE IN MAILING URGED BY P.M. AS CHRISTMAS NEARS

Wrap Securely, Address Fully, Mail Early, Again Besought by F. DeSouza.

Wrap securely, address fully, mail early.

Yes, Christmas is getting near. Postmaster Frank DeSouza today issued his annual appeal for public cooperation so that the postoffice department might be of greater service to its patrons in delivering Yule packages promptly and in good condition. Here are some of the postoffice department's recommendations:

Addresses should be typewritten or written by hand plainly in ink. Complete addresses should be given, including street and number or rural route and box number. Return address should be placed in the upper left hand corner of the address side. Tags should not be used.

Parcels containing perishable matter should be so marked. To encourage early mailing the postoffice department permits use of the admonition "Do Not Open Until Christmas" on the outside of the parcel. Christmas seals or stickers should not be placed on the address side. By paying an additional charge, patrons may obtain "special handling" to expedite transportation of packages. Special delivery may be used to speed delivery at point of destination. Valuable parcels should be insured.

If packages are intended for delivery in foreign countries, inquiry at the postoffice should be made first to determine whether or not mail to the particular foreign nation is being handled. Patrons should also ask about quarantine regulations of states if plants or shrubs are to be mailed.

The main thing, however, is to wrap securely, address plainly and fully and mail early!

EPISCOPAL RECTOR CITES WORLD WOE IN ROTARY TALK

A thought-provoking Thanksgiving season address was delivered before the Medford Rotary club at the Hotel Medford Tuesday noon by Father Herald Gardner, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church here.

"We are passing on to our children and grandchildren a world in debt, bristling with military armament, filled with racial prejudices and national jealousies and suspicions. We are being more and more regimented," Father Gardner reminded, "our thoughts and actions follow a set pattern. There seems little left of individual responsibility. The church remains the only institution of individual thought and for this we may be thankful," he said.

We may also be thankful for America, the bulwark of democracy, for our schools and other typically American institutions and freedoms, the speaker told his Rotary audience.

"There is a tendency to observe a planned period of thankfulness but Thanksgiving should be observed throughout the year—it should be spontaneous and spring from the heart."

This is an unhappy generation, the speaker continued. We have designed engines of destruction and have placed them in the hands of those who have little reverence of human life. There is also an obvious lack of spiritual reserve.

"If you love freedom, support your church" was Rev. Gardner's final admonition.

Frank J. Newman was program chairman for the Tuesday meeting.

MOUNTAIN YOUTH STARVES SELF TO SAVE FOR FAMILY

Pit'ful Story of Ozarks Revealed By County Physician—Boy Pellagra Victim

Monett, Mo., Nov. 26.—(AP)—There was so pitifully little to eat that George Walker Gordon, 19, wouldn't sit at the table with his parents and seven brothers and sisters.

George died yesterday. Dr. Elburn A. Smith, Barry county physician, said he had starved himself to death that the others might eat.

The family of 10 lived in a one-room cabin in the Ozarks, remnant of a house partly destroyed by fire. They were discovered recently when a neighbor noticed a little girl walking to the burned hulk.

Red Cross Paid Union

The family had hoed straw berries, picked fruit and done odd jobs. Recently the American Red Cross paid union initiation fees for George and his father, J. W. Gordon, 52, so they could try for jobs at Camp Crowder. George wasn't able to stand heavy work. He collapsed on his way home two weeks ago, carrying home what groceries he had been able to buy with his meager pay.

Dr. Smith was called three days later. George was beyond saving, a victim, Dr. Smith said of pellagra.

One of the fishways has been completed and is in use. The other will be finished next spring when the present high water subsides. The fishways were built under plans approved by the state game commission.

Tomato Bread Is Talked for Army to Give Vitamins

Seattle, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Tinted tomato bread may soon be an innovation in the army.

Officials at the army general depot here reported experiments are under way to inject more vitamins into the staff of life with tomato juice or canned tomatoes. It tastes pretty good too, they say.
