Billy Hulen Says:

Grizzlies Have
4 Regs Returning
For Gage Quintet

Losing only one regular from last year's club, which many believed was the best in the loop despite its final finish below Roseburg and Medford, this season's Ashland high basketball quintet figures to cut plenty of capers in district action and will undoubtedly go to the post a heavy favorite to capture the crown and earn a state tournament berth. . . only Jim Smith, big center, will be missing from the team which last year was noted out of the title by an inspired Tiger five, which in turn was beaten in the playoff game by Roseburg's giants. . .

Returning to make Coach Jerry Gastineau's heart happy are Charlie Jandreau, Bud Provost, Bill Elam and Chet Fowler, all regulars from the 1940-41 outfit. . . Grants Pass also has a bunch of lettermen returning and will prove mighty tough, with a fast break offense under New Coach Arnold Bernard, who succeeded George Hibbard, now mentoring in Portland. . . the other two district teams, Medford and Roseburg, will have to be rebuilt almost from the ground up. . . more about Medford when Mr. Russell Acheson returns from The Dalles. . .

Matty Mathews, Portland U. grad mentor, picks Stanford and Oregon State to win their Saturday contests with California and Oregon, respectively. . . here's what Matty says of the two: "A traditional impossible to figure. The Albert and Kmetovic factors should give Stanford a win" . . . and, "All the chips down, Oregon State hasn't the wonderful performers, but their seasonal team play has been good. Oregon won a tough battle last Saturday, and Oregon State had a good workout. Oregon State to win."

Buck Hammer will have four 1941 regulars returning for his next year's Klamath Falls football team. . . they are Bill Christensen and Don Mast, halfbacks; Neil Mayfield, end and the gigantic Phil Blohm, 200-pound center. . . Mal Stevens, the New York university coach, remarks: "I'd like nothing better than to hire the pro Giants and go run Fordham out of the stadium Saturday, but that isn't the university's policy."

Fred Hampson of the A. P. writes that Pendleton writers and coaches are blasting The Dalles coaching staff for that 40 to 0 drubbing the Indians handed the Buckaroos on Thanksgiving day. . . they think, says Hampson, that The Dalles rubbed it in unnecessarily and should have used reserves earlier. . . we do not think the Indians will "rub it in" against the Black Tornado come tomorrow eve. If Oregon State beats Oregon and gets the Rose Bowl berth, rumor has it that the Beavers will attempt to get Notre Dame to change its mind about post season games. . . The Irish are on record as opposing such contests. . . incidentally, Notre Dame's only Rose Bowl appearance was in 1925 when Stanford and the Seven Mules, 27 to 10.

Bobby Riggs, Frank Kovacs Sign Pro Tennis Contracts

BOTH SWITCH TO PROS WHEN USLTA SUSPENDS KOVACS

Amateur Tennis Now Without a Defending Champ—Team With Perry, Budge.

New York, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Two amateur tennis thrones of the United States stood empty today after the abdication of both the outdoor and indoor rulers to search for the gold that lies in the trail of the touring professionals.

National Outdoor Champion Bobby Riggs and Frank Kovacs, the court jester who wore the indoor crown, switched from amateurs to pros less than 24 hours after Kovacs was suspended on a charge of trying to mix the two.

Now the United States Lawn Tennis association, which accused Kovacs of having more than one tennis racket, faces 1942 with the problem of staging both its major amateur tournaments without a defending champion in the men's division.

U.S.L.T.A. Won't Talk
No one could be found among the officials of the U.S.L.T.A. who wanted to discuss the situation today, but Riggs and Kovacs had their say—from opposite sides of the country.

Riggs, who signed his professional contract here, was asked what he thought the reaction of the U.S.L.T.A. would be. "They probably will feel that it's a good riddance," said Riggs, "they're getting rid of a couple of headaches."

At his home in Oakland, Cal., Kovacs predicted that amateur tennis would be "all washed up," and added, "without me, they won't have any gate attraction."

"I was sick and tired of taking orders from the brass hats," said Frank, never one to be bashful. "They'll have to get off the gravy train now." Actually, Kovacs said, he came out $2.35 in the hole on his expenses this year.

Kovacs and Riggs signed contracts with Alexis Thompson, owner of the Philadelphia professional football club, for a series of matches with Fred Perry and Don Budge, who joined the pro ranks several years ago.

WOMAN TUMBLES FROM LOW FLYING AIRPLANE

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Don Emmons is in a critical condition in a hospital at Kotzebue after surviving a plunge from her husband's low-flying airplane near the Arctic circle.

Information received here said Mrs. Emmons hurtled from the plane when it was flying about 20 feet above the ground about 90 miles an hour and received leg and arm fractures and a concussion.

Washington Pass That Went Astray

Tom Roblin of the University of Oregon (lower right) took a nose dive after intercepting a University of Washington pass in a Pacific Coast conference football game at Seattle. Roblin went 12 yards on this second quarter play. Oregon overcame an early Washington lead to win the game 19 to 15.

LUTES END YEAR AGAINST PACIFIC

Tacoma, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The tommygun man, Mary Tommer-vik, was given orders today to shoot until his last bullet pass is spent in Pacific Lutheran's closing battle with Amor Alonzo Stagg's College of the Pacific Tigers here Saturday night.

This command by Coach Cliff Olson, Lute field general, and word from doctors that Capt. Marvel Harshman will be able to suit up for his last game pumped additional interest into the tilt. Jean Paul King, Red Cross game committee chairman, said advance sales indicate a "whopper turnout," attracted both by the first appearance here of "Grand Old Man" Stagg and the final showing of Pacific Lutheran's "Marvelous Marvs."

DUKE NEXT BEST OFFENSIVE TEAM

Seattle, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The rise of Duke's Blue Devils to a point just a couple of whiskers below Arizona in total offense was the chief feature of American football statistical bureau national team rankings released today.

The Blue Devils closed their season with a one-sided rout of North Carolina State, 55-6, and thus boosted their rushing and passing average to 372.2 yards per game, Arizona, idle last week, leads with 373.5.

Another change saw Texas Tech drop from first to sixth in rushing defense, while Texas A. & M. for the last two years the nation's outstanding rushing defensive club, moved back into its old spot at the head of the list.

Meet Stated Dec. 3 To Form Cage League

A meeting to form an independent Jackson county basketball league and arrange a schedule will be held in the Southern Oregon College of Education gymnasium at 8 p. m., December 3, and all team managers and others interested are urged to attend, according to word received from Ed Ellertsen, Prospect coach.

SKID IS FATAL
Hood River, Ore., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Isabel Armstrong, 60, of Estacada, was killed instantly today when an automobile driven by her husband, William, skidded on ice near Wyeth and plunged 20 feet from the Columbia river highway to railroad tracks below.

64 ON CLIPPER
Sydney, Australia, Nov. 27.—(AP)—A record load of 52 passengers and 12 crew members in addition to a large load of mail was carried by Pan-American Airways' California Clipper plane today on its flight from Auckland, New Zealand, to Sydney.

PHILS NAME AGED HANS LOBERT TO REPLACE PROTHRO

By Judson Bailey

New York, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Within a day of each other a 24-year-old youngster and a 60-year-old veteran have been made managers of major league baseball clubs proving that whatever other qualifications may be necessary, age is no factor.

The Phillies picked genial old John Bernard (Hans) Lobert yesterday to run their ball club less than 24 hours after the Cleveland Indians named Lou Boudreau, who was not born until 14 years after Lobert made his major league debut with Pittsburgh.

The selection of Lobert was no surprise to anyone because he ran the National league's rear guard for a few weeks last season while Doc Prothro was out beating the bushes for talent and during those weeks the Phillies played their best ball.

Lobert, who resembles the immortal Hans Wagner in build and who received his nickname because he tried to play like Wagner when he broke in with the Pirates in 1903, will be second only to 79-year-old Connie Mack in age among the managers. His contract is for one year.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 27.—(AP)—J. M. Thompson (Doc) Prothro is back in Memphis as manager of the Chicks' Southern association baseball club—apparently to stay.

The 48-year-old former manager of the Philadelphia Phillies announced last night that he had acquired a financial interest in the club and would be a vice president.

"I'm leaving the Philadelphia club with all good wishes to Gerry Nugent," said Prothro, who succeeds J. Harry (Truck) Hannah at the helm of the Chicks.

Ex-Pelican Stars As Fliers, Tip San Jose

San Jose, Cal., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Moffett field's army football eleven scored as many points in the first period as San Jose State could gather altogether, and so defeated the Spartans, 22-13, last night to give Coach Ken Winkelman a victory over himself.

The general Arkansas directs both teams.

Halfbacks Walt Salsbury, formerly of Klamath Falls, and Larry Vonesh contributed the army's opening touchdown, the first on a 50-yard break off tackle, the second on a line plunge from four yards out.

During the siege of Boston, the American army used the Harvard buildings as barracks and the college moved to Concord, returning to Cambridge June 21, 1776.

Army Victim of "Old Army Game" as Navy Places Bets

By Dave Nopper
Annapolis, Md., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Navy's pulling that old army game—on the Army.

Each year midshipman cadet regiments wager bathrobes, sweaters, cuff links—and even full dress uniforms—on the outcome of the Army-Navy pigskin feud. And Saturday's Philadelphia classic is no exception.

Tradition dictates an even bet, regardless of the strength of either football clan. Navy is favored to take the colorful 42nd service clash and the middies claim that is why they're having difficulty getting the bets covered.

So they're using the old army game. To get wagers accepted, the sailors are telling the West Pointers to "put up or shut up." And you don't know your cadets if you think they won't take a dare.

That's exactly how the middies figure the graylegs will react. The middies have done a good job of accumulating army's gray bathrobes and black sweaters, with Navy gaining 10-0 and 14-0 victories the past two years.

The entire regiment of more than 3,000 blue-uniformed midshipmen will witness the game, parading in Philadelphia municipal stadium at 12:15 p. m. behind a 75-piece band. The gray-clad cadet regiments of approximately 1800 will follow.

Navy's 41 gridders will be given a rousing send-off by the regiment at 6:30 tonight when they entrain for Manufacturer's Country club, near Philadelphia. They will work out at the Temple university stadium tomorrow.

A joint session will be held tomorrow to hear Governor Sprague.

Football Briefs

Corvallis, Ore., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Bob Dethman, Oregon State's pass-throwing left halfback, will captain the Beavers Saturday as they attempt to put the clincher on the Rose bowl against the University of Oregon at Eugene.

Light exercise was on the card for today, yesterday's stiff scrimmage ending the body contact drill for the game.

The squad appeared to be nearing top strength with quarterback George Peters out of the hospital where he had been for a short time, and Coach Lon Stiner indicated that his regulars would be in the line-up at the opening whistle.

Eugene, Ore., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Special braces for half a dozen University of Oregon football cripples were being fashioned today by Col. Bill Hayward, veteran trainer, as Saturday's civil war game with Oregon State neared.

Injuries have played havoc with the line, Coach Tex Oliver said, but the backfield is expected to be at full strength.

Nearly 500 communities in all parts of the country release children from public schools during school hours for religious education.

Medford-The Dalles Game May Determine Mythical Prop Crown

By Gordon MacNab
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Two mythical state high school football titles may be decided Friday as the waning season ends.

At The Dalles there's a yes-and-no tinge to the championship angle of the night game between unbeaten The Dalles and once-beaten Medford.

Myrtle Point, which has laid its moleskins in moth balls, holds the "no" vote. Undeclared in "A" class play, it has a claim to a share in the title even if The Dalles wins from Medford. It will stand alone if the Indians are toppled by the Black Tornado.

There has been no dissenting voice raised thus far to the contention that the winner of the Friday game between Amity and Newport will have clear claim to the "B" title.
