

HEAR NO EVIL
Baltimore—(P)—A man handing out cards reading "I am deaf. Please help me," was brought into court charged with disorderly conduct. He might have beaten the charge, but a policeman dropped a 50-cent piece and the "deaf" man pounced on it. He paid $25 and costs.

23 LITTLE GIRLS NET BIG SUM FOR BRITISH AID FUND

The 23 little girls of the Jolly Rogers club netted $84.88 for war-wounded children of England with the production of their adaptation of Sir James Barrie's immortal "Peter Pan" at St. Mark's Guild hall November 15, it was announced today.

The financial success was greater than had been anticipated by the most hopeful and when one recalls that the play was presented on a rainy night after a stormy day, the returns are even more surprising. But the youngsters had a worthy cause, they had worked their little hearts out rehearsing the play and people who were touched by the youngsters' genuine spirit of charity packed the Guild hall beyond capacity. Result: the Jolly Rogers netted almost the state of Oregon's entire monthly quota of $100 for Bundles for Britain.

The money raised by the Jolly Rogers was to be earmarked especially to maintain two wards for war-injured children in the Royal Free hospital of London. Arrival of these good tidings just about Christmas time will have a cheering effect upon the little patients lying hopefully on hospital cots, the Jolly Rogers believe.

Chops Sizzle for Banana-Apple Ring

OUT of the broiler into the lime-light is the sweet, short story behind this new-come to garnish circles. A fat, tender apple ring is topped with flavorful banana slices, cinnamon, melted butter, sugar and salt play their part, and the result is a new companion for sausages, steaks and chops that will be tops in your house for some time to come. Here's the easy-to-do, tried and true recipe:

Broiled Banana and Apple Rings
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
2 apples, unpeeled
2 bananas
Salt
Cinnamon
Use all-yellow bananas. Mix together sugar and water. Bring to a boil and cook until sugar is dissolved. Core apples and cut crosswise into 3 thick slices. Add to syrup. Cook until tender, but still firm. Remove apples from syrup. Place on broiler rack or into pan. Peel bananas. Cut into thin slices. Cover apple rings with overlapping slices of bananas. Brush with butter and sprinkle with salt and cinnamon. Broil about 10 minutes, or until bananas are brown and tender. Serve hot with roasts or chops. Six servings.

REALLY PEEVISH

Portland, Nov. 28.—(P)—A guest at the Homestead cafe on the outskirts of Portland really lost his temper last night when his lady friend walked out on him, according to a Multnomah county sheriff's report. He stomped outside, got in his car and methodically rammed over the six posts supporting the porch roof.

MONOXIDE FATAL

In The Day's News

By Frank Jenkins

OUT of the mass of conflicting reports from the critical Libyan battlefield comes this (Thursday) morning a Cairo dispatch announcing that the British garrison battling its way out of Tobruk has made a junction with the British column that has been fighting its way up from the east and south.

That is important, because it means that step No. 1 of the British battle plan has been completed.

THE British plan involves: 1. Encirclement of the main body of German and Italian forces between the Egyptian-Libyan border and the general neighborhood of Tobruk.

2. A wider-scale, faster, THINNER encirclement of the entire Libyan area between the Egyptian border and the Gulf of Sidra. (Consult your map here.)

3. DESTRUCTION of the axis forces within this area.

THE plan of destruction is two-fold. It involves: 1. Actual destruction in battle, which is now being fought.

2. Starving out the axis forces by cutting their lines of supply.

AXIS forces in Libya must be supplied from across the Mediterranean. The job of the British fleet is to stop supplies from getting across. The job of the British army in Africa is to WIPE UP the axis forces.

That is the story in a nutshell.

FOR at least five months the British have been accumulating troops and supplies for this campaign. The Germans and Italians have been doing likewise, handicapped by the activities of the British Mediterranean fleet.

The battle is now being fought. It is a bitter and bloody battle. The Germans are well led and are fighting doggedly. There are conflicting reports about the Italians.

Reserves of men and supplies will probably decide its outcome.

THE fact that the British have gained their first objective, which was encirclement of the axis forces along the Mediterranean coast, is the highlight of today's news.

If they can MAINTAIN the encirclement, thus preventing reinforcements from reaching their enemies, and if they have the necessary reserves behind them, they will be able to drive the axis out of Libyan Africa.

The coming days will tell that story.

FROM Washington this morning comes this dispatch:

"The United States put the issue of PEACE OR WAR in the Pacific squarely up to the Japanese government today."

It was for Japan to accept or REJECT the formula of basic principles which the U. S. considered essential to the maintenance of peace and security in the Far East.

THE dispatch adds that restatement of basic principles by recommendations for their practical application by Japan in the Orient. Practical application, it is said, will involve:

1. ABANDONMENT by Japan of a program of aggression.
2. Withdrawal of troops from China and French Indo-China.
3. Inauguration of a PEACEFUL economic policy.

IN other words, it is Japan's move and no more quibbling. The news of today, you see, contains quite a little meat.

SOUND THE ALARM
Glen Burnie, Mo.—(P)—Grocer Carl Wagner was hard to convince that lightning would strike the same place more than once. But when burglars robbed his store three times Grocer Wagner decided it was time to do something about it. He installed a photoelectric burglar alarm and recently the alarm bell in the house set up a clamor. Wagner called the Ferndale police, who raced 2 1/2 miles in about two and a half minutes to capture a very surprised burglar hard at work.
