Billy Hulen Says:

Tigers Have Only Three Lettermen For Casaba Squad

Tiger basketball prospects could be brighter, much brighter, than they appear to the naked eye today, just three days before Russ Acheson calls the first official workout for his 1941-42 squad.

With a mere three lettermen available for this season's quintet, the Medford mentor is faced with the serious task of bringing up two members of last year's second squad to work with the trio of stripe-winners, not to mention the development of several capable varsity reserves.

All that remains of the squad that last year tied for the district 4 championship, only to lose in the playoff game to Roseburg, are Henry Herman, center and captain-elect; Bill Wall, alternate center and Lee Reynolds, guard.

In view of the fact that Ashland and Grants Pass are both lousy with experienced returning lettermen, the local situation doesn't look too rosy, so far as championships hopes are concerned.

Acheson, however, didn't seem down in the mouth when talking about the business. He mentioned, merely, that in all probability the Tigers would have only one first team this season in contrast to the 10-man varsity of last year, in which two quintets operated as a unit much of the time.

"It will probably be different this year," Russ explained. "I don't believe we'll have 10 players of equal ability, so we'll be forced to leave the starting five in there as long as possible and make single substitutions when needed."

Up from last year's second squad to make bids for varsity berths are 16 tossers, many of whom have been working out an hour daily for the past few weeks. They are Warren Holbrook, Don Fawcett, Darrell Monteith, Hal Adams, Alan Weir, Robert Stacy, Ike Orr, Bill Bayless, Ray McAllister, Norton Smith, Richmond Shelley, Dick McElhose, Herbert Edwards, R. B. Webber, John Ousterhout and Jack Kresse.

Harold Peterson and Errol Cooper are transfers from North Dakota, and newcomers to the game are Floyd McClanahan, Dillon Arnold, Charles Bucher, Ray Robinson, Bill VanDyke and Louis Powell. They've been practicing, and Acheson says some of them show possibilities.

The Tigers have 21 games slated, winding up with the Oregon State Rooks here March 7 and including 12 district 4 games against Roseburg, Ashland and Grants Pass, four against each. The two Klamath Falls titles will count in Southern Oregon conference standing, but not in district 4.

Dozen Class B Prep Quints Hold Jamboree Here Tonight

The new fan-shaped backboards will make their appearance this season, having been officially adopted by district 4. Medford's will be made of steel. All four district 4 teams are installing them.

The season will open the night of December 14, with a jamboree in the local gym involving Medford, Ashland, Grants Pass, Roseburg and Klamath Falls quintets. The five teams will play a round robin, all of them meeting the others in a six-minute contest, making a total of 10 games on the program.

Trophies will be awarded for the team winning the most games, for the team scoring the most points and for the team yielding the least points. There will also be a foul-shooting contest, with one player from each five shooting 20 times for a trophy.

TEXAS AGS. WSC CLASH SATURDAY

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 5.—(P)—Football fever engulfed this lumber capital today as Texas A. & M. and Washington State college, two of the glamor elevens of 1941, were scheduled to arrive for final limbering up drills for tomorrow's late season grid classic.

Washington State's Cougars, the down-and-out boys of September and the giant killers of November, will be seeking a second victory over a post-season Bowl team. W. S. C. rose to unexpected heights to defeat both Oregon State, the current season's winner of Rose Bowl honors, and Stanford, the Rose Bowl winner of last New Year's day.

Texas A. & M. comes west as the Southwest Conference holder and Cotton Bowl choice, although when the game was scheduled the Aggies looked like a certain also-ran in 1941 because of heavy losses from last year's title team.

STORM WARNING

San Francisco, Dec. 5.—(P)—The weather bureau ordered small craft warning signals raised at 7 a. m. today along the Washington coast and inland through the Strait of Juan de Fuca. Strong southerly winds, continuing into the night, were forecast.

Accidents Fail To Put Hunting Pooch In Grave

Du Pont, Ga., Dec. 5.—(P)—Grover Lee's hunting dog, "Sport," tangled with a train and lost one eye. Later, the dog met an automobile head-on and emerged badly bruised.

Three weeks later another automobile struck Sport, and then Mrs. Lee accidentally backed the family car over the dog.

Lee dug a grave, but before he could use it, he said, Sport was back on his feet again—later flushed a covey of quail that netted a bag of 17.

Tornado Grid Squad Feted By Elks Lodge; Each Given Picture

The Medford football squad and Coaches Russell Acheson and Ed Kirtley were guests of the Elks lodge last night. Each was presented with a large photograph of himself taken by Bill Barker. The players were presented their photographs by Chairman Dr. Edwin R. Durno, who made comment to each and their gridiron ability.

Chairman Durno regretted the absence of Coach Bill Bowerman, away for an army examination, and Curt Hopkins, injured and still in the hospital. Hopkins was described as "the inspiration of the 1941 team." He predicted he would be out for track again this spring.

Jean Eberhart of Ashland, coach of the Southern Oregon College of Education, main speaker and an official in many of the games this year, said he was impressed by the teamwork and clean sportsmanship of the Black Tornado. He said they had upheld the best traditions of Medford high school. He predicted their football training would stand them in good stead in life, and they would treasure the friendships and memories of their high school days.

Tribute was also paid to Bill Bowerman as a coach and a man.

Coaches Kirtley and Acheson each made brief talks. Following the lodge room ceremonies, the football squad was treated to a hamburger feed in the basement.

SPOKANE INFIELDER BOUGHT BY PORTLAND

Portland, Ore., Dec. 5.—(P)—The Portland Pacific Coast league Beavers today announced purchase of Henry Martinez, second baseman of the Spokane Western International league club.

Martinez was runner-up to Smead Jolley in hitting and was a fielding ace of the league during the 1941 season. He hit .339.

OSC COACH FLIES TO PASADENA FOR ROSE BOWL PEEK

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 5.—(P)—Head Coach Lon Stiner of Oregon State flies here today to take his first official peek at the Rose bowl, goal of most every major college pilot in the land.

Stiner, of course, has seen the big bowl many times, and probably has seen a number of Rose bowl games, but this will be the first time he's looked it over as the coach of a big bowl team.

Tonight, oddly enough, the affable Beaver mentor will be an honor guest at the football banquet.

quet of a university which temporarily detoured the Oregon State parade to the Rose bowl. That would be the University of Southern California, which upset O.S.C. 13-7 in the opening game of the season.

Locey, meanwhile, reported he was knee deep in ticket applications for the New Year's day game. He asked Oregon State alumni living in California to address ticket requests to Alumni Secretary Warren Reid at the Rose bowl and said the date of the public sale of seats would be announced within a few days.

RIDDLE IN FOLD; GARMS TO SOLONS

Pittsburgh, Dec. 5.—(P)—Debs Garms was back in the minors today—one year after winning the National league batting crown with an average of .355 in 103 games.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who bought him from the Boston Braves for a five-figure sum early in 1940, announced he has been sold outright to Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league.

Garms' batting ability was undisputed, but Frankie Frisch, manager of the Bucs, found fault with his fielding.

TROJANS FAVORED TO DEFEAT UCLA

Los Angeles, Dec. 5.—(P)—Southern California's Trojans will be heavy favorites to defeat U. C. L. A. Saturday, and they'll also be heavy.

The Trojan eleven averaged 197 pounds—204 pounds in the line and 184 pounds in the starting backfield. The Uclans have a line average 192, a backfield of 179 and a team average of 187.

Sam Barry, Troy's pilot, had his worries, however. Able in the past two games to set an offense going, he is again confronted with injuries.
