

New Screen Version Of "Smilin' Through" Stars Jeanette MacDonald

BRIAN AHERNE IN ROMANCE OPENING CRATERIAN TODAY

Gene Raymond Is Co-Star—
Old Tunes Add To Show's Appeal.

Teamed together for the first time on the screen, Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond play the sweethearts of the immortal "Smilin' Through" also starring Brian Aherne which opens today at the Craterian theatre.

Photographed in Technicolor, the world famous love story comes to the screen with a rich musical score by Herbert Stothart as well as an all-star cast including Ian Hunter, Patrick O'Moore, Frances Robinson and little Jackie Horner.

"Smilin' Through" tells of an immortal love which not even death can kill. Not even the death of his sweetheart at the hands of a jealous suitor on the eve of their wedding can make Sir John Carteret forget the lovely Moonyean. Miss MacDonald is seen as both Moonyean and Kathleen, while Aherne plays Sir John Carteret and Gene Raymond Jeremy and Kenneth Wayne. Norma Shearer co-starred with Leslie Howard in an earlier version of the story in 1932.

Nine familiar tunes and old-fashioned ballads are sung by Miss MacDonald.

Charlie Chan and Comedy On Rialto Screen For Today

"Two major features on every bill" is again the policy of the Rialto theatre where two of the season's top-notch features open for today and tomorrow at the Main Street theatre. Returning by popular demand of Rialto patrons, the "two major features on every program" will play for all changes hereafter.

"Married Bachelor" heads the double bill for today and tomorrow with Robert Young, Ruth Hussey, Lee Bowman and Felix Bressart in the starring roles. Hilarious situations are said to be all through the film when Young attempts to pose as a bachelor authority on marriage, and keep his wife, Ruth Hussey, happy at one and the same time. It all happens when Miss Hussey tries to reform her husband, who is nothing but a beloved fraud. In his attempt to "go straight" he becomes involved with a gangster, his moll and the sheriff. Complications arise that make for one of the funniest comedies since the "Thin Man" series.

"Charlie Chan in Rio," starring Sidney Toler as the famous Oriental sleuth, plays as the companion feature with "Married Bachelor." The popular detective invades the South American continent and finds his most baffling case in the city of Rio de Janeiro.
