STOMACH WEAKNESS
Diseases of the stomach are divided into many classes and called by various names, but back of all stomach weakness there is a cause that is common to all—nerve weakness. We have seen many types of stomach weaknesses and have never found one without some interference to the nerves leading to the stomach. Nerve interference lowers the vitality to any organ. Hundreds of people are enjoying stomach health today because of the scientific removal of nerve interference, after all other methods have failed. When we realize that covering the nerves leading to the stomach would cause the stomach to be paralyzed, then it is easy to understand that any interference to the same nerves would cause weakness in proportion to the interference. For this reason stomach weakness should be benefited by Chiropractic.

LOCAL JAPANESE STUNNED BY WAR; PLEDGE SUPPORT

36 Nipponese Here—19 Native Americans—Little Contact With Old Country

Meeting informally yesterday to make Christmas plans, Medford's Japanese colony was dealt a stunning blow by Japan's attack on America's Pacific bases and the outbreak of war between these two nations.

The Japanese here have had no organization since the death of their beloved leader, Masuzo Maruyama, a short time ago but the blow in the Pacific seemed to have united them again today.

Their first reaction was complete surprise at the turn of events, their second reaction one of sadness and regret which brought expressions of loyalty to this country.

Reaction of the Japanese here was epitomized today by the application of one of their native American sons for enlistment in the U. S. army. Kazu R. Maruyama, son of Mrs. Sadako Maruyama and the late leader of the colony here, was waiting at the army recruiting office when it was opened this morning. A graduate of Medford high school, class of 1938, Maruyama filled out his formal application which now goes through the routine channels. The 23-year-old youth has had two years of college study, one at Southern Oregon College of Education, one at Washington State where he studied engineering. When his absence at his place of employment, American Fruit Growers, Inc., was explained this morning the management and fellow employees sent him a message of congratulations and a pledge of complete support. Maruyama was born here January 9, 1919.

Gundi Fujimoto, owner and operator of the Hotel Holland coffee shop who now is spokesman for the Japanese colony here, was almost in tears today as he tried to explain that the adult Japanese living here have had no contact with the old world for 35 or 40 years. The second generation children, he pointed out, are native American citizens. At the request of the Mail Tribune, Mr. Fujimoto made a check-up and reported there were 36 Japanese in Medford, 17 of them natives of Japan and 19 native American children who now are going to school here or to college elsewhere.

The girls in the coffee shop had moist eyes this morning as they spoke of the kindness and generosity, the charitable and civic work of "Fuji" and other Japanese here. They expressed the hope that no one would feel antagonistic toward the Japanese here merely because they are Japanese.

Meantime the Jackson County Council of Defense urged everyone not to spread unfounded rumors or to pass slurring remarks about any aliens. Enemy aliens will be taken care of by the proper authorities and any specific evidence of conduct against the interests of the United States should be reported to city or state police or the FBI, the council said.

WELDERS STRIKE MAY COME YET

Washington, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The United Brotherhoods of Welders, Cutters and Helpers, an independent labor union, today rescinded an order of yesterday calling off a nation-wide strike and instructed all local officers to get their men ready "for a sudden and determined walk-out."

A strike which had been set for tomorrow was called off because of the war situation.

National leaders said the new call came because members of the union had been refused permission by members of the American Federation of Labor at two ammonium plants being constructed for the war department at Morgantown, W. Va.

Officials said a strike would involve 125,000 men throughout the nation.
