

EDUCATION BOARD WILL STUDY OSC COURSE REQUEST

Restoration of Mining Engineering and Commerce To Be Reported On Later.

Portland, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The state board of higher education today referred to its curricula committee for study and "report at a later date" Oregon State college's request for restoration of degree work in mining engineering and commerce.

The request was presented at the regular meeting today after its first presentation Monday to the curricula committee. Willard L. Marks, chairman of the board, explained that rules of the body require that matters of major policy be presented at least one meeting in advance of final action.

Meanwhile, copies of supporting material presented yesterday by college staff members, alumni, parents and professional men will be supplied individual board members for study, the next meeting is January 27.

Attention Divided
Other business, mostly routine, was hurried through as members were dividing attention between their own docket and the latest war news.

A proposal to provide the government with a site at Oregon State college to establish a Pacific northwest electrodevelopment laboratory now under consideration was approved.

University of Oregon was authorized to resume publication of the monthly "Oregon Business Review," and to use some $2500 of civilian pilot training income to fit out quarters for that work.

Oregon medical school received approval in budgeting $10,285 obtained from the U. S. department of public health for training additional nurses.

President Marks was authorized by the board to appoint a special committee to investigate certain relationships between the school of forestry at Oregon State college and the lumber industry. Personnel of the committee is to be announced later.

JAPANESE BOAST INITIAL SUCCESS IN PACIFIC WAR

gan an attack upon the area of Singapore this morning and that many Japanese warplanes sweeping the skies had destroyed many British fighter planes at their Malaya bases.

Two contingents were reported by Domei to have completed occupation of Bangkok, Thailand capital, under terms of the new Japanese-Thailand agreement of protecting that country "against the democracies."

Domei said it was understood most British and Americans in Thailand were now in their legations, and said more than 100 Thais, including 40 police, were killed Monday night in a British attack on Thailand.

Aim At Burma Road
(A Berlin broadcast, heard in London, said the Japanese also had arrived in central Thailand, and from the northern part of the country already were launching an attack to cut the Burma Road, presumably by a drive through Burma.

(The Rome radio also reported a Japanese landing in north Borneo. (A British communique from Hongkong announced the Japanese yesterday launched an attack upon that stronghold at two places on the land side yesterday.

Nationals of Axis Proclaimed "Foes"; Conduct Prescribed

Washington, Dec. 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt placed Japanese, Italians and Germans in this country in the category of "enemy aliens" today and prescribed by proclamations the conduct they must follow.

In the case of the Japanese, the White House said an invasion had been perpetrated upon United States territory by their empire and in the cases of Germans and Italians it said "an invasion or predatory incursion is threatened."

The proclamations applying to Germans and Italians said that enemy aliens were "enjoined to preserve the peace" toward this country, refrain from crimes against public safety, violations of law, and from actual hostility or giving information, aid or comfort to enemies of the United States. All enemy aliens are liable to restraint.

The same restrictions apply to the Japanese. The proclamation applying to them had attached to it detailed regulations for controlling conduct and activities of enemy aliens, and these regulations are to apply to Germans, Italians and Japanese alike.
