

Evening Classes at SOGE Start Jan. 5

Southern Oregon college of Education, Ashland, Dec. 17 (Special) Southern College of Education initiated evening classes at opening of the fall term, September 22 for elementary teachers. Additional classes are to be offered beginning, January 5, which opens the winter quarter at the college. These classes include three hours of Physical Science, six hours of Zoology and two hours of first aid. Credits of these classes will be acceptable and will apply on the Bachelor of Science Degree in Elementary Education which the Southern Oregon College of Education has recently been authorized to grant. Closing time for Classified Ads 9 a. m.—7 p. m. Late to Classify 12:30 p. m.

STORM AND TIDE HITS TILLAMOOK SECTION

Tillamook, Dec. 17.—(AP)—A heavy storm buffeted this section of the Oregon coast last night as the highest tide of the winter backed the Nehalem river onto streets at Nehalem. Torrential rains sent water over the coast highway at several points and caused slides along ocean cliffs at Bay Ocean. Winds blew a building down at the Foss CCC camp and toppled scores of trees.

LIFE SENTENCE

Portland, Dec. 17.—(AP)—A life sentence, mandatory under a second degree murder conviction, was imposed on Thomas P. Brennan, 55, by Circuit Judge Martin W. Hawkins today. Brennan was found guilty Thursday of shooting Alfred S. Cayo, iron worker, on September 20.
