Federalization of Employment Service Of All States Asked

Washington, Dec. 19.—(P)—President Roosevelt said today he had asked governors of the states and territories to transfer immediately to the federal employment service all separate state and territorial employment agencies.

Mr. Roosevelt added that the governors were giving full cooperation to the war effort.

The requested transfer, the president told his press conference, is designed to bring about utilization to the fullest possible extent of all man and woman power to increase the output of war materials.

FISH LAKE GETS HEAVY SNOWFALL

A heavy wind and snow storm swept over the high hills of Jackson county Tuesday and Wednesday, leaving 18 inches of snow at Fish lake, main source of irrigation water supply for the Medford irrigation district, and eight inches at Lake o' Woods.

The Fish lake caretaker reported by phone late yesterday that many trees had been blown down, some across trails and the phone line. The snowfall at Fish lake, the most substantial of the winter, was followed by a heavy rain that packed the snow.

Crews are now out repairing the telephone line from Klamath county, and from Butte Falls to Fish lake.

About a foot of snow fell in the Prospect and Butte Falls districts. There was also a considerable fall on the high ridges of the Applegate and the Siskiyou.

TRIBUNE 'ORPHAN' GIVEN GOOD HOME

Southern Oregon Humane society announced today that Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Withee of 713 West 11th street had provided a home for the female Irish setter that, apparently lost, hung around the Mail Tribune alley for three days early this week.

Meantime Mr. Withee is still trying to find his male Irish setter, Red, who joined another dog and departed on a hunting expedition of his own. Red has been reported in various parts of the county but Mr. Withee has not received the reports soon enough to catch up with him. His latest whereabouts were reported in the Ross Lane district. Mr. Withee would like to have anyone seeing the dog call him by name and try to keep him until the owner can call for him. A reward has been advertised for Red.

5,000 Italians Lost In Navy Engagement Off Tunisian Coast

Tunis, French Tunisia, Dec. 15.—(Delayed) (AP)—Approximately 5,000 Italian seamen lost their lives December 12 when British naval units sank two Italian cruisers, a destroyer and three transports off the Tunisian town of Kelibia on Cape Bon.

Some 1,000 Italians were rescued and are being treated for burns and other injuries in cities along the Tunisian coast. The Italian cruisers sunk were the 5,000-ton Giussano and Alberico Da Barbiano which normally carried complements totalling 1,000 men.

The attack was said to have occurred at midnight December 12.

(The British admiralty announced last Saturday that British and Dutch destroyers and a British submarine in two separate but related engagements apparently had sunk three Italian cruisers in the Mediterranean in a night battle).

Mrs. Lehman Does the Gracious Thing

To the editor:

To the wife of the reservoir caretaker, Mrs. Peterson, I don't blame you for being mad at me. I am mad at myself. I am ready to get down and eat humble pie. But I am glad you answered my letter. It just shows how we Americans are ready to get up and fight for our rights, and I also hope this letter will prove that we are ready to apologize when in the wrong.

I'm sorry but I didn't get to listen to the radio Friday evening and went to all the trouble to blackout when there was no blackout and didn't know the difference till Saturday night when they came to get my husband to help guard the reservoir.

I was in the wrong and I am sorry and hope my apology is accepted. If it isn't I guess I did all I can to make it right.

Mrs. Lehman, Rt. 4, Box 58-B.

P. S.: I stuck my neck out and got it stepped on.
