PALMYRA ISLAND 'OKAY' ON DEC. 10

Grants Pass, Dec. 22.—(T)—Mixed tidings came this Christmas week to Grants Pass residents. The war's first word from Palmyra, tiny naval pinpoint of land 1,000 miles southwest of Hawaii, arrived, and that word was "okay." Letters written Dec. 10, after the outbreak of war, and passed by naval censor, told families here of the safety of southern Oregon men hired to work on a naval base there. The blacked-out lines did not reveal whether or not there had been an attack. Meanwhile, Mrs. Lula J. Griffith received word today that her son, Sgt. John A. Wright of the marine corps, had been killed in action. Mrs. Griffith did not know whether he was called into Atlantic or Pacific waters. Albert Wall, son of Mrs. A. M. Wall of 628 McAndrews road, has been engaged on defense projects on Palmyra island.
