TRIBUNE CARRIERS TOLD PHASES OF DEFENSE EFFORT

George T. Frey, Frank J. Van Dyke, Frank Hull Are Speakers Annual Banquet

A wartime atmosphere permeated the annual banquet for Mail Tribune carriers in the Hotel Holland last night as guest speakers dwelled on various phases of the national defense effort. Forty city, motor and outside carriers attended.

George T. Frey, manager of the Medford office of the U. S. National Bank of Portland, emphasized the importance of buying national defense savings stamps and bonds in order to provide the money to purchase the materials necessary to carry on the war. He pointed out that in buying defense savings bonds purchasers were not giving or donating money but were in fact making an investment which at maturity time would bring back not only the principal but also a sizable interest.

In a crisis such as now faces the nation, it is the patriotic duty of all business men, no matter how small their enterprise, to give part of their time to the government in helping to bring the crisis to an end, Mr. Frey declared. He complimented the Mail Tribune carriers for doing their part as independent merchants in selling defense savings stamps for the government as they conducted their daily business.

flux of construction workers and a rapid turnover in residences and because of the presence of a large number of soldiers if and when the cantonment is built.

Frank Hull, coordinator of the Jackson County Council of Defense, emphasized the seriousness of the problems of home defense and urged the carriers to unite in an effort to help in civilian defense as an organized group. Mr. Hull described the various phases of home defense and told of the experiences England has had. He painted a vivid picture of the destruction that can be wrought by incendiary bombs and explained the techniques that have been developed to suppress them.

Mr. Hull urged the public to be constantly ready for any emergency. Just 30 minutes' preparation, he asserted, would have saved many lives in the sudden Japanese attack on Hawaii.

George Bryant, carrier on route 7, entertained with solos on his electric steel guitar.

Non-Violent Gandhi Resigns As Leader To Keep Principles

Bardoli, India, Dec. 30.—(P) Mohandas K. Gandhi, long the leader of India's independence movement, was relieved today of his leadership of the All-India Congress party at his own request.

Gandhi decided to retain his freedom to oppose all violence and could not go along with the majority of the party's executive committee in a step toward cooperation in Britain's war effort.

Gandhi had written asking, "please relieve me of the responsibility laid upon me by the Bombay resolution of Sept. 16, 1940."

The executive committee of the party voted at Bombay last year to withdraw a previous conditional offer to cooperate with Britain in the war effort and invited Gandhi—who disagreed with the offer in the first place—to resume his party leadership with power "to guide it in any action that should be taken."

Now the party and Gandhi have differed again and the little leader in whom millions of Indians put their hopes for independence has stepped aside.

CEILING ON FAGS BALKS PRICE HIKE

Washington, Dec. 30.—(P)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson today balked a proposed increase in the manufacturer's price of Lucky Strike cigarettes by announcing a sales ceiling at the level prevailing December 26.

The American Tobacco company had announced Saturday that the price would be increased 57 cents, to $7.10 a thousand, Henderson claimed the increase was sought to maintain earnings at the current level in the face of higher taxes, but the company declared that increased manufacturing costs, exclusive of taxes, necessitated the rise.

Other companies manufacturing cigarettes did not boost their prices.
