The Grange

Gold Hill Grange

Gold Hill Grange met in regular session January 1 with small attendance due to the holiday. Bertha Potter, Patricia Marsden and Katherine Hayes were obligated in third and fourth degrees.

Lecturer's program consisted of a talk by Master William G. Howes on agriculture, certified seed and marketing. A harmonica solo by Garland Lance was followed by a quiz. Doughnuts and coffee were served by John Gray and Jack Pinkerton.

Janie Marsden, Josephine Loeffler and Bessie Davis will serve at the H.E.C. meeting January 13 and Grange January 15 at the hall.

On January 5 between 65 and 70 Grangers and families and two visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Apollo, of Medford, met at Grange hall to enjoy the annual Grange New Year's turkey dinner. Jesse Fish was toastmaster and John Gray, lecturer, conducted the program.

Mr. Apollo favored with an accordion selection. After dinner the "Christensen Sisters Trio" played several accordion selections. Mrs. Wigle at the piano, Mr. Perry violin and Garland Lance, harmonica, played for the group to enjoy square dancing with John Gray as caller.

Pomona meets with Gold Hill Grange January 24 at 10 a. m. for an all-day meeting. All Grangers are urged to be on hand.

Upper Applegate Grange

Grange members and their friends enjoyed an evening of old time square dancing at Upper Applegate Grange hall, Jan. 3. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Gus Sanger of Jacksonville. Head caller was Jim Winningham assisted by Amos McKee and C. W. Culy.

Installation of officers will take place previous to the regular grange meeting Saturday evening, Jan. 10. All officers are urged to be present and please bring any manuals which may be at home. All ladies are asked to bring a half dozen cookies.

ROSEBURG STRIKERS RETURN TO SAWMILL

Roseburg, Ore., Jan. 7.—(AP)—All striking workmen at the Roseburg Lumber company mill here returned to work this morning after union committees and the management reached a working agreement last night on the dispute which resulted in a shut-down of the plant Monday. The one-day strike resulted from the discharge of an employee, Kenneth Ford, mill owner, stated.

How to Preserve Your Automobile During War Time

Ten Year Satisfactory Operation Possible If Owners Take Care In Servicing.

(Editor's note: Now that a lid has been clamped on production of new passenger automobiles, Wide World asked David J. Wilkie, veteran automotive reporter, to give the average car owner some advice on how to keep his car running longer.)

By David J. Wilkie

Detroit, Jan. 7—(Wide World)—If you are one of the 28,000,000 persons in the United States who own passenger automobiles, you would do well to treat your car with consideration because you are going to have difficulty replacing it.

You may not need that replacement for another year or for 10 years, depending on the general condition of the car you now own. It has been estimated authoritatively that the "average life of the average car," is about eight years, during which period the vehicle goes through several ownerships and varying degrees of judicious use.

Long Life Possible

But every car built in the last decade can be kept in satisfactory operation for at least 10 years if its owner so willed and was inclined to devote just a little personal attention to it each day.

This writer recently drove a car that for test purposes had been in daily operation for nearly a year and had piled up 93,000 miles. It had been given only the normal, prescribed maintenance, plus four changes of spark plugs, three fan belts, one valve reconditioning, one replacement of battery and ignition cables, two brake adjustments, one carburetor overhaul and one change of tires.

This may sound like a lot of service work on the car, but it is worth noting that the total mileage represented approximately nine years of average driving and the car in appearance and handling actually was "as good as new."

The normal, prescribed maintenance, included regular chassis and body lubrication, tire inflation, battery care, periodic replacement of the carburetor air intake cleaner screen, regular oil changes, minor tune-ups, changes of transmission and differential lubricants and general body care.

No New Tires

You will not be able to replace the tires on your car with new ones and you may have difficulty obtaining some of the other replacement parts under the impact of the war emergency. You will be able to get most of the service operations outlined, however, because many of the dealers who heretofore have relied on new and used car sales for income are emphasizing their readiness to repair and service any vehicles.

Moreover, there are going to be a lot of backyard repair shops, operated by competent mechanics thrown out of regular employment by the suspension of car production.

But you can avoid much of the expense and necessity for these services by following a few very simple practices in handling your car from day to day. Granted that your car is in "average" shape now, that your tires are in fair shape and that you can continue to get gasoline and oil you can reasonably count upon several years of essential use.

Prospect

Prospect, Jan. 6.—(Spl)—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Phipps were hosts for a watch party at their home on Ulrich road, New Year's eve. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Arant, Miss Ida Boothby, Ed Boothby, Mrs. A. H. Boothby, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bean and son Darwin, Waldo Nye, Ren Green, Nelson Nye, and Mr. and Mrs. David Neville.

Mrs. Mary E. Grieve entertained with a New Year's Eve party at the hotel, and four tables of pinochle were in play. High and low score prizes, respectively, were won by Mrs. Elmer Clemens and Everett Fraedrick, Mrs. Don Chase and Dewey Hill. Don Chase won the traveling prize. Supper was served at a late hour to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Middlebusher, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dinkens, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Artmire, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fraedrick Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clemens, Dewey Hill, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Grieve, and the hostess, Mrs. Mary E. Grieve.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jantzer had as dinner guests New Year's Day, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Vestal and daughter, Miss Kathleen, of Reese Creek, Ted Jantzer, S.O.C.E. student who spent the holidays here, David Vestal, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jantzer. All attended the theater in Medford in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Kelley had Saturday night's meeting of the Fortnightly Pinochle club at their home. Jan. 3. Mrs. Gus Ditsworth and James H. Grieve won high score prizes. Consolation awards went to Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fraedrick, and Elmer Clemens won the traveling prize. Supper was served by the hostess at midnight to Mr. and Mrs. James H. Grieve, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clemens, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ditsworth, Mary E. Grieve, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fraedrick, Dewey Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. Kelley.

Burton Broomfield and son, Robert, returned from their trip to Los Angeles, Dec. 27. Mrs. Broomfield and Burton, Jr., had to remain there awhile, as the latter took the measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Collingwood and baby son motored to Klamath Falls, Dec. 28, and visited relatives there until Dec. 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Artmire and son Frank returned from Indiana, Dec. 30, where they have spent the past six weeks visiting relatives and friends.

Edmund Pease probably narrowly escaped serious injury Friday when, as he stepped out of the door of the George L. Jantzer Lbr. Co. office, the cast iron heater exploded and threw pieces about the room; one fragment hit Mr. Pease on the ankle, causing a minor, but painful injury. The stove contained a coil that heated water for a shower bath in a room in the rear of the office, and evidently had frozen. After the fire was built, steam caused the explosion. The fire was quickly extinguished, and the damage was confined to badly scoted walls, and a damaged door casing.

Ladies of the foreign missionary society entertained the men that spent last Friday cutting wood for the Nazarene church with a potluck supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Dole, Jan. 2. Enjoying the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Glines and daughter Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rogers and daughter, Lillie Mae, Mrs. Sam Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Vale Johnson and children, Jimmy, Melvin, Delton, Ethel Mae, Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dunagan and sons, Eugene and Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dole and son, Jimmy, Miss Aileen Sherwood, and Joyce Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. William Herman and children, Arleta and Billie, spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Damewood at Selma, and then went on to California. They are vacationing this week in San Francisco.

Bill Grajkowske returned from Medford the last of the week where he has been receiving medical care for a burned leg, sustained Dec. 24, when he was helping repair the dry kiln at the Alley mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kludt are spending a few days in the bay cities in California. The children are staying with their grandmother, Mrs. Fadger, in Medford.

Sgt. Chauncey Glines of Fort Lewis, and his wife, who attends school at Jacksonville, are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Glines, this week.
