Billy Hulen Says:

Slim Chance Prep Coach Will Get Washington Job

Despite the fact that almost never does a high school football coach make the gigantic jump into a head coaching post at a major college or university, without first serving as freshman or assistant tutor, some observers are inclined to think the University of Washington MIGHT dip into prep ranks for the successor of Jimmy Phelan, recently pink-slipped out of his job.

The feeling persists in the state of Washington, however, that the Huskies will not hire a high school coach, according to Fred Hampson of the Associated Press.

Hampson reports a rumor that "Leon Brigham, Seattle prep wonder-coach and Elmer Hugs, topnotch upstate tutor from Moquiam, have joined hands in stalking the University of Washington job. Each has bid himself in and each is said to have agreed to hire the other as his subaltern should he get the job. Both men are popular, with big personal followings putting on the pressure, but the feeling persists Washington will not hire from high school ranks. To this day the Bagshaw experiment is looked upon as unsuccessful by the waters of Lake Washington."

Offhand, we can think of only one high school coach who leaped directly into a head-coaching position with one of the major colleges, and made good. He is Paul Brown, present Ohio State mentor whose team finished second in the tough Western conference. It was Brown's first year in the big time, however, so the measurement of his success must wait for a few more years.

With the cantonment apparently assured, don't be surprised if long-absent Mack Lillard returns to Medford and promotes boxing. Hank Anderson, Baker high cage coach, claims his team is headed for the state championship if they develop the proper spirit—determination and self-confidence.

Al Gould, former sports editor of the Medford Hi-Times, has left for Portland to take a physical examination for enlistment in the U. S. Army air corps. . . three-fourths of Duke's football team, which found Oregon State too tough, plan to take on easier opponents shortly. . . they will join the country's armed forces to fight the Japs, Coach Wallace Wade says.

Hugh Fullerton, Jr., World Wide sports columnist, poses this interesting question: "Wonder if anyone has thought of the possibility that war conditions will help baseball and other spectator sports, instead of wrecking them. . . with no new cars and no time to take folks out of town, they're likely to turn for amusement to the places they can reach easily—the ball parks." . . .

REGATTA FIELD MAY BE REDUCED

New York, Jan. 9.—(P)—The Intercollegiate Rowing Association plans to stage the annual Poughkeepsie regatta this year, although the field may be reduced to five crews.

The association's board of stewards, meeting here last night with leaders of eastern intercollegiate athletics, has set June 15 as a tentative date for the rowing classic.

Capt. T. S. King of the U. S. naval academy, who was elected chairman of the stewards, said the board wanted to make sure observation trains could be obtained and work out other details before inviting teams outside the association.

Schools in the association are Navy, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Syracuse and Cornell. Last year's race was won by Washington.

SPEC KEENE TO SPEAK AT PILOT GRID FEED

Portland, Jan. 9.—(P)—The principal speaker at the University of Portland's annual football banquet next Thursday will be R. L. "Spec" Keene, Willamette university football coach, John Gloden, banquet chairman, said today.

Little Sons Sub for Salem Against Tiger Cagers Tonight

VIKINGS CANCEL SERIES BECAUSE OF BAD WEATHER

Road Conditions Force Up-staters To Call Off Trip—Game Starts At 8:00.

The Little Sons of Southern Oregon College of Education will clash with Medford high's Tigers here tonight, substituting at the 11th hour for the Salem high Vikings who were prevented from coming here for a two-game series by terrible weather conditions in the Willamette valley. The game will start at 8 o'clock. There will be no preliminary, and no game Saturday night.

Coach Harold Hauk of Acheson telephoned Coach Russ Acheson of the Tigers this morning and explained that because of the dangerous condition of the Pacific highway in the Willamette valley, parents of the Viking players refused to let their boys travel to Medford in private automobiles. He added that Salem couldn't afford to send the team by stage, and requested the two games, slated for tonight and Saturday eve, be cancelled.

Acheson, in a hurried search for an opponent for his team, contacted Jean Eberhart at S.O.C.E. and the latter mentor gladly agreed to send his freshman squad to Medford. Acheson said the cancelled Salem games would not be played later in the season, as both schools have full schedules.

Fresh Tough
The Little Sons, composed of former high school stars from various parts of the state, are expected to provide plenty of stiff opposition for the locals. The collegians have broken even in two tilts with the Ashland high Grizzlies, and have defeated Grants Pass high.

The Medford coach, saying his squad hasn't looked "any too sharp" in practice sessions this week, nominated Captain Henry Herman and Darrell Monteth to open at the forwards, Bill Wall at center and Don Fawcett, Lee Reynolds or R. B. Webber at the guards. The players are all in fine physical condition, Acheson said.

Thus far this season the Tigers have beaten North Bend and dropped decisions to Marshfield and Corvallis.

JUNIORS TO PLAY ASHLAND TONIGHT

The Junior high Bulldogs open their 1942 basketball season tonight against the Ashland Juniors in Ashland. The Bulldogs will be playing their first season under Coach Norman (Norm) Worthley, who has taken Riney Cook's place.

Coach Worthley announced the following boys would probably see action in tonight's game: Dick Fawcett, Bob Watson, Charles Stacy, Ronald Weatherford, Bill Plaskett, Derl Riggs, Dale Bruegger, Earl Barnhart, Larry Hayes, and Louis Cox. The Bulldogs will play the following schedule:

Jan. 9—Ashland at Ashland.
Jan. 16—Roseburg at Medford.
Jan. 20—Grants Pass at Medford.
Jan. 27—Gold Hill at Medford (Tent.).
Jan. 30—Roseburg at Roseburg.
Feb. 13—Ashland at Medford.
Feb. 24—Grants Pass at Grants Pass.

Fights Last Night

(By the Associated Press)
Highland Park, N. J.—Francisco Montanari, 147, New York, outpointed Six-Second Powell, 148, Philadelphia, N. J. (8).
Philadelphia—Mike Evans, 139½, Philadelphia, outpointed Billy Davis, Minersville, Pa. (eight).
Burlington, Vt.—Buster Beupre, 139, Vermont, gained technical KO over Ray Napolitano, 142, New York, who couldn't answer the bell for the fourth.
Fall River, Mass.—Willie Pepe, 129, Hartford, Conn., stopped Mexican Joey Cifers, 130, New York (4).
Elizabeth, N. J.—Joe Baksi, 207, New York, stopped Charlie Wright, 198, Newark, N. J. (3).
Rochester—Johnny Flynn, Rochester, stopped Dan Merritt, 204, Cleveland (6).
Nine towns in the United States are named Wyoming.

TOP AMATEUR—Soon after Leslie MacMittell, N.Y.U. Miller, had won this trophy, being presented by Laurence diBenedetto, for his mile at Sugar Bowl track meet in New Orleans. MacMittell was announced as 1941 winner of the James E. Sullivan Memorial trophy. Latter goes to nation's best amateur athlete.

CHAMPION 6 TO 1 CHOICE TO WHIP B. BAER TONIGHT

New York, Jan. 9.—(P)—Champion Joe Louis scaled 206½ pounds and Challenger Buddy Baer weighed 250 pounds today when they weighed in for their heavy-weight fight in Madison Square Garden tonight. Louis' weight was the heaviest of his fighting career.

By Gayle Talbot
New York, Jan. 9.—(P)—Jacob (Buddy) Baer, having been guilty of knocking Champion Joe Louis clear out of the ring in Washington last spring, probably will pay for his sins, with interest, tonight in Madison Square Garden.

This time the towering Californian faces a perfectly conditioned, fight-keen Joe Louis, impatient to wipe out any stigma that might have attached to his victory over Baer last May, when Buddy was disqualified for refusing to come out for the seventh round.

So impressive has the big negro been in his workouts that the bookmakers are offering only 1-6 odds that he is successful in the 20th defense of his world title; 1-2 that he stops Baer inside the 15 rounds. A good even bet is that Buddy can't wear as well as he did in Washington.

A crowd of perhaps 20,000, unusually rich in ermine, social distinction and uniforms, is expected to wedge itself into the big arena and contribute more than $100,000 to the naval relief society. They have been lured into paying a top price of $30 by the cause, rather than by the prospect of seeing a great fight.

SIRENS WELCOME VICTORIOUS O.S.C.

Corvallis, Ore., Jan. 9.—(P)—Returning Oregon State college football players continued the center of attention today although formal celebration of their Rose Bowl football victory over Duke has been postponed to January 17.

The squad, minus Coach Lon Stiner and several players who stopped to visit relatives en route home from Durham, N. C., was greeted by screaming fire sirens yesterday. Students and townspeople jammed streets in welcoming the team.

Classes were dismissed yesterday by college authorities who optimistically announced that they would be back on regular schedule today. The formal celebration was deferred until Stiner's return.

Kentucky has a town named Charlie and Texas has one named Charlie.

TWO TILTS OPEN NORTHERN CASABA BATTLE TONIGHT

Champion Cougars Favored Over Ducks At Eugene—Vandals Play Washington

By the Associated Press
Promising a whirlwind of action and bitterly contested battles, northern division Pacific coast conference basketball teams will open their season tonight as Washington State starts a defense of its championship against Oregon at Eugene and Washington meets Idaho in Seattle.

Observers who have seen Washington State play feel the Cougars are even stronger this year than last and are favored to take the Oregonians whose early season record has been only fair. Coach Jack Friel is expected to send Marv Gilberg, Al Atkins, Gail Bishop, Capt. Kirk Gebert and Owen Hunt in at the start for the Cougars; Hobson has not named his starting lineup.

Huskies Liked
The Seattle Huskies are favored to take the Idaho squad easily although Coach Hec Edmundson insists his men are not at the peak they attained in the eastern tour which recently drew the attention of the nation's sports fans when the Huskies whirled through an undefeated road trip and hung up new scoring records at Madison Square Garden.

Oregon State will take it easy tonight, opening its season Monday and Tuesday against the Cougars.

ASHLAND, 'PASS IN LOOP OPENER

Ashland, Jan. 9.—(Sp)—Ashland and Grants Pass high school basketball teams will open the 1942 district 4 championship race here tonight in the feature game of a jamboree that will pit Ashland and Medford junior high quintets in the preliminary starting at 7:30 sharp.

Gate receipts of the jamboree will be split three ways, with a third each going to the Red Cross, the Ashland high band uniform fund and the participating schools.

Other features of the casaba show will be performances of the Grants Pass high girls' drum corps, the Ashland high girls' drill team, the combined Ashland senior and junior high bands and special stunts by the Ashland Quarterback club.

ALIENS REMINDED OF LICENSE LAW

Attention of all aliens is called to the fact that before any alien is eligible to purchase a hunting or trapping license he must buy from the Oregon state game commission an alien gun license for the current year, according to a press release from the commission.

Gun licenses issued to aliens in previous years are no longer effective as the attorney general has ruled that a gun license is valid only during the calendar year in which it is issued and must be renewed annually.

Dog Lives 25 Days Without Food, Water

Seattle, Wash. (U.P.)—After spending 25 days trapped in an old well, Tuffy, a setter pup, was rescued by a searching party led by his mother.

The frantic barking of the mother, Gypsy, led Frank Nicholson, owner of the dogs, to the well. From the depths he heard the weak answering whine of Tuffy.

Neighbors immediately organized a rescue party, obtained a long ladder, and brought the puppy to the surface. Because Tuffy had been in the well for nearly a month without food or water, except for a little rain, he was exhausted and emaciated.

His first meal, on the advice of veterinarians, consisted only of a little warm goat's milk.

Tuffy was extremely fat at the time of his disappearance and this was credited with saving his life. Nicholson estimated that the little dog lost about a third of his body weight during the ordeal.
