EXEMPTION SLASH FOR MORE TAXES

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The treasury was reported today to have proposed substantially smaller individual income tax exemptions as one of many methods of bringing in $9,000,000,000 additional revenue proposed by President Roosevelt in the new budget.

Lowering of the present $1,500 exemption for married persons to $1,000, and reduction of the present $750 exemption for a single person to $500 was said to have been discussed in a preliminary conference of democratic and republican legislators with Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and his advisors yesterday.

HIGHWAY REVENUE

Salem, Jan. 10. — (AP) — The state highway department received net revenues aggregating $15,093,637.57 during the calendar year 1941, Chief Engineer R. H. Baldock reported today.

made before the war and which F.D.R. now considers "excessive."

If anyone thinks business generally is making any money out of this war, let him look at the stock market quotations, now depressed far below the pre-war level. Furthermore, most defense contractors are limited to 6 percent profit in government contracts, and few will make that much. Much business is going out of business.

That is why congressional tax bill maker Doughton's comment on the budget was limited to the observation that his committee would have to see that no one killed the goose that lays eggs.

Congress will not follow the vague Roosevelt tax recommendations. It never has.

MR. Roosevelt's budget left Treasury Secretary Morganthau and his 15 percent payroll tax out in the rain barrel under the ice. The president nonchalantly suggested only that congress might consider payroll and other taxes. That will not be enough White House pressure to float the plan Morganthau has been promoting around the house ways and means committee. Mark it dead.

A SERIOUS tie-up of freight west of Chicago to the Pacific coast has resulted from the concentration of traffic in that direction. Freight has occasionally been backed up all the way to Salt Lake City. Rail Defense Coordinator Joe Eastman is tackling this as his first problem and will have it straightened out shortly.

Much goods are likely to be routed hereafter on slower secondary lines and a reorganization of the existing military traffic system will come immediately.

Now each branch of the war department (air, engineers, ordnance, quartermaster, etc.) has a separate traffic director. Overall control is necessary.

WHAT this army needs as much as planes and tanks is a large number of officers with modern battle experience. It needs captains and lieutenants who have been there, who know actual conditions to be met by the American expeditionary forces which are to complete the encirclement of the axis.

Consequently a liberal number of junior officers will be in the first batches to be sent to Africa, Russia, the Far East, Ireland.

HUGE RADIO SUIT

NAVY SCHOOL IS CLOSED BY RUSH

Great Lakes, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The nation's largest navy school has been forced to close its gates because of the flood of incoming recruits.

Since Pearl Harbor, 650 men a day have entered the U. S. naval training station here and today Capt. T. D. Carr, executive officer, said it was possible no more volunteers could be accommodated until the next class graduates. The station gives a six week basic course before a sailor joins the fleet.

Capacity of the school is a naval secret. Until last November the average attendance was about 8,000. In World war days it reached 47,000.

Communications

DECLARES MRS. BULKIN MISTAKEN

To the editor:

A communication of recent date in your paper has been called to our attention wherein a Mrs. Bulkin complained that businessmen are sadly absent in the newly organized Oregon State Guard here. She criticized the businessmen because they had not responded.

Mrs. Bulkin has been misinformed.

More than half of the men and officers in headquarters company operate their own business establishments in Medford.

Company A has better than a fair share of businessmen on its roster.

Many businessmen were put on the reserve list or were rejected because of age or other disability. They certainly tried to get in.

Medford doctors gave freely of their time and equipment in giving physical examinations to the men. They receive no compensation.

Major Tengwald, battalion commander, is a Medford businessman.

Under ordinary circumstances, communications in newspapers based entirely on misinformation are ignored by those concerned, but in fairness to the men and officers in the Oregon State Guard here, we feel that Mrs. Bulkin's communication should be corrected.

Thank you,
James Grigsby, commander, Co. A.
Moore Hamilton, commander headquarters Co., First Btn., Oregon State Guard.
