Crater Lake Guild Hears Book Review

Members of Crater Lake Guild of the First Presbyterian church were entertained Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Lausmann, West Main street. Guest speaker for the evening was Miss Cecelia R. McCorkle who reviewed the book "Still Small Voice" by August Dereth. The book concerned the life of Zona Gale, famed writer of the early twentieth century. The author showed how her mode of writing changed from romanticism to realism which gained for her fame and fortune. Born in a small town in the middle west she tried her "wings" in Chicago and later New York City but returned to her home town later in life after she learned by experience to write about something with which she was familiar.

The group turned in completed garments for the Red Cross and later a social hour was enjoyed with Mrs. Fred King and Mrs. Frank Hussong assisting the hostess. The next Guild meeting is scheduled for February 22 at the home of Helen Holt Wilson, 11 Corning court.

Music Program Presented To Church Circle

Merritt Circle members of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed an afternoon of music when they met this week at the home of Mrs. W. J. Burbridge on Willamette avenue. Luncheon was served to 22 members and guests. Mrs. O. C. Falling and Mrs. Dora Lane were assistant hostesses.

Following devotions by Mrs. John Gribble on "The Will of God" the music program opened with a vocal solo by Mrs. E. G. Randolph, "The Beatitudes." Mrs. Don Neeley presented two whistling solos, selections from the "Desert Song." Mrs. Burbridge sang two numbers, "A Perfect Prayer" and "God Bless America." Mrs. Falling was accompanist for the musicians.

Guests Visit At Inskip Home

Visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Inskip, Hillcrest road, are Mrs. August Grone of Portland, and her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Swan and young son, Stephen, of Iowa City, Iowa. Mrs. Swan has been a guest of her mother in Portland and the visitors motored south Tuesday with the Inskips.

Mrs. Swan and Mrs. Grone are planning to leave shortly for the east where Mrs. Grone will visit her son-in-law and daughter at their Iowa City home. Dr. Swan is a member of an eye clinic in the University of Iowa.

Regent Requests Written Reports

Daughters of American Revolution committees are requested by the regent, Mrs. C. M. Hurd to bring written reports to the chapter meeting to be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Hart home, 906 West Main street.

Mrs. McClain To Be Church Circle Hostess

Mrs. W. W. McClain will entertain members of Queen Esther circle of the First Methodist church tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. Dessert luncheon will be served.

P.-T. A. Activities

County All Parent-Teacher associations in the county are requested to appoint a defense chairman before Wednesday when a county P.-T. A. meeting is scheduled to be held in Lincoln school. The request is made by Mrs. A. E. Brookway P.-T. A. county defense chairman.

Howard Howard P.T.A. members served dinner to the Jackson County Schoolmasters club Monday at Howard schoolhouse. Music for the evening was furnished by a combined orchestra of 40 grade children from Oak Grove, Lone Pine, Griffin Creek and Howard schools, under the direction of E. C. Root. Speakers for the evening were Dr. Sherman L. Divine and C. R. Bowman.

Howard Defense committee has checked the first aid room at the school and reports that the room is inadequately furnished. Each family is asked to investigate at home and bring any of the following articles that can be spared to the school not later than January 17. Among the items needed are coats, blankets, hot water bottles, bed pans, gas lanterns or oil stoves.

College Women's Club Enjoys Luncheon Program

Miss Cecelia McCorkle reviewed "Still Small Voice," a biography of Zona Gale, by August Dereth at the luncheon meeting of Rogue Valley College Women's club Saturday at Hotel Medford. The book contains an accurate and inspiring resume of the life of the famous woman author who finally discovered that realism is true life as much as she enjoyed romanticism.

The speaker touched on quaint incidents in the life of this mid-western lady who turned to New York City life as a means of self expression only to find her love for a small town the greater. The inspiration given her by her parents proved an important feature in her career of writing and her father's sound philosophy was also important in forming her character. The book entails the life of an American author well worth observing.

The program closed with a musical program by Miss Mary Ann Gates. She sang several selections, among them "Dawn" by Curran and "Waltz Song" from "LaBoheme" by Puccini. She was accompanied by Mrs. Veri Felling.

The luncheon tables carried out a patriotic motif with red and white flowers and blue tapers on the speaker's table. Red and blue streamers and gold Victory "V's" and stars completed the timely decorative theme.

In charge of arrangements for the luncheon were Miss Vera Humphrey, chairman; Miss Ora Cox, Mrs. Joe Hubbs, Mrs. Ethel Chastain, Mrs. Iva Murray and Mrs. Margaret Porter.
