Joyce Freed, Barton LaFon Wed in Eugene

Miss Joyce Freed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Freed of this city and Barton LaFon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack King of Seattle, Wash., were married Saturday evening in the St. Mary's Episcopal church in Eugene.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a brown print silk jersey dress with a matching brown hat and accessories, and a corsage of orchids. She was attended by a sorority sister, Miss Marilyn Marshall of Santa Monica, Cal. Miss Marshall chose a blue print silk jersey with blue hat and accessories and a corsage of Cecil Brunner rosebuds and bouvardia. Emmett Evans of Eugene was best man.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. E. S. Bartlam in the presence of relatives and members of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority and Kappa Sigma a fraternity, to which the couple were members. Organ music was played preceding the ceremony.

Among out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. King of Seattle, mother of the groom and his sister, Mrs. John Arnet also of Seattle; Miss Helen Thompson of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Fred, parents of the bride, and Don Younger, all of Medford.

Mrs. LaFon, a popular member of the younger set in this city, graduated from Medford high school, attended University of Oregon, where she was affiliated with Alpha Delta Pi social sorority and during the past year has been a student nurse at University of Portland, St. Vincent hospital. She is employed at the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company in Eugene.

Mr. LaFon is a member of Kappa Sigma social fraternity at University of Oregon and recently enlisted in the army air corps. They will make their home in Eugene at 1411 Agate street.

Prior to her marriage Mrs. LaFon was feted with a miscellaneous shower at the Alpha Delta Pi sorority house in Eugene Thursday evening and earlier in the week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. S. Rosencrans.

How to Live Happily Ever After

IN FAIRY TALES, the Prince arrives by carriage, but in real life little Johnny turns a cartwheel and says "Feel my muscle!" Right there Johnny bumps into an eternal truth. The reaction of his light of love will depend on whether he is boasting . . . or advertising. That's why Standard advertises . . . but never boasts.

From endless evidence we know that when Standard advertises, the public . . . our light of love . . . never peppers our claims with grains of salt. You're that way yourself (we hope). This slow-won public confidence reflects in both our advertising . . . and our products.

If we develop a new motor oil, for instance, the advertising copy must be passed by production chiefs who have full power of veto. They make the oil, but they don't have to sell it. Scientists all, they have George Washington's yen for truth. What happens to over-enthusiastic sales-talk is what happened to the cherry tree.

Further, to retain this public confidence, Standard has to live up to its advertising. Otherwise Standard Gasoline . . . horrid thought! . . . might be "unsurpassed" one year . . . and jolly well surpassed the next. But while the public assumes that, if we say so, it's the peer of the best . . . then, by gracious, sir, it shall be. That's our plan for living happily ever after.

News Behind The News

by Paul Mallon

Libya, with a strong plane force which accompanies and warns the British fleet, refueling it from underground storage. Malta has survived 1,200 bombings with its terrific concentration of anti-aircraft guns.

If it falls, the British will be able to get some ships around it, back and forth through the Mediterranean, but only with great danger.

REPORTS that the devastating typhus has reached Berlin are doubted here. There may be a few cases, but the delousing system and sanitary conditions in the Nazi capital make an epidemic unlikely. Throughout Warsaw and Poland the disease is spreading, but it has not reached an epidemic stage. If the Nazis are pushed back so fast that their sanitary facilities break down behind the lines, their army may suffer later in the winter. Virulence of the disease varies. In mild epidemics, the death rate has run below 25 per cent; in serious plagues, as high as 80 per cent. It spreads rapidly. While the body louse requires 14 days to infect the victim, after the tenth day all lice on the victim become carriers. The lice collect on fur clothing (widely used by the German army) and on tables, furniture, chairs.

The Russians are better prepared to fight the louse, through a long acquaintanceship. Previous infection also provides some immunity.

What has happened on the Russian front can be measured more accurately upon the map than from the florid phrases of the communiques. Hitler's advance into Russia averaged 400 miles, measuring from the original Russo-Polish border (Minsk line). The Russians have pushed him back an average of 40 miles (exactly that in the south, none at all north of Leningrad.)

Only one-tenth of Nazi-conquered territory, therefore, has yet been regained.

THE red campaign is not an ambitious drive to destroy the German army or invade Germany. Limited objectives are evident in the tactics employed.

One is the relief of Leningrad. This would reopen valuable supply railroads behind the lines, push the Germans back beyond easy bombing range of Moscow (close-in their pursuit planes could heavily protect their bombers.) More important, it would allow the reds to clear the Finns from the shortest rail line to the White sea and open a second route for our supplies. The Finns have cut the railway around Lake Onega.

The second grand objective is to clear the Black sea to insure its supply lines. The reds, fighting up through the Crimea, are seeking to cut in behind the German advance post between Mariupol and Taganrog (on the sea of Azov). Relief of the naval base at Sevastopol is in line with this coastal clearance.

Heaviest fighting of the rest of the winter will come in this southern region. It is no secret to the Germans that the reds are planning a great new effort there. Fighting on the Moscow front has already been conducted in waist-deep snow.

OIL FIRE, BLASTS NEAR SACRAMENTO CLAIMS 11 LIVES

Sacramento, Calif., Jan. 19.—(P)—At least 11 persons were injured and another was feared killed in a spectacular fire accompanied by earth-shaking explosions which swept through two oil company plants on the northern outskirts of Sacramento early today.

The fire started at the oil depots of the Weitz and Signal oil companies and spread to two nearby buildings. The high-shooting flames lighted up the surrounding area for miles, and explosions could be heard as far as Folsom, 20 miles away.

Five of the injured were firemen. Reports from the scene said three 15,000-gallon tanks of gasoline and three 8,000-gallon tanks of fuel oil were aflame at the Weitz plant. Large stores of lubricating oil were burning at the Signal plant.

Sacramento Fire Chief Torrence Mulligan reported at 5:30 p. m. (PST) that the fire was under control but would be allowed to burn itself out. This, he estimated, would take several hours. The blaze started late last night. Chief Mulligan said the amount of the damage was not yet determined.

by STUDENT REPORTERS

(By Thelma Kaplan)

The student council this week decided to change the A.S.B. dance scheduled for tonight to Saturday evening after the Marshfield game. The dance will be sponsored by the H-Y for the visiting team and students from both schools. Among additional business, Ned Liebman, John Court and Ray Casebeer were appointed to settle the price of the A.S.B. tickets for the new semester.

The 1941-42 basketball team was presented to the students by Coach Russ Acheson at the first basketball pep assembly last Tuesday during activity period. Its purpose was to arouse interest in the game to be played that evening between Grants Pass and Medford high. Several yells were led by pep leaders Jim Elliott and Nina Tuttle, after which Mr. Wilson Wait conducted the band in a couple of popular selections. Following this, members of the team were presented to the students. They included Bill Wall, Hank Herman, R. B. Webber, Darrell Monteith, Don Fawcett, Dale Niedermeyer, Hal Adams, Herb Edwards, Jack Kresse, John Ousterhout, Bill Bayliss, Ralph McElhose, Lee Reynolds, Alvin Weir and Ray McCallister.

To discuss plans for a new constitution was the purpose of the business meeting of the Latin club held last Wednesday. Bud Vandermark and Lorraine season were appointed on the committee to revise the old constitution. Arrangements were also made to have a full page in the Crater annual which will be published this spring.

A special meeting of the Spanish club was held last Wednesday noon to discuss selling felt pennants with "Medford" on them in the high school colors, red and black. Also, Dorothy Dodge and Jean Lillie were appointed on a committee to find a Spanish name for the club. Adviser Mrs. Wilma Kincaid asked members to notice the pictures of the Spanish pins displayed on the bulletin board in her room, as there will be a meeting soon to decide on the pins to be used by the organization.

HOPES FADE FOR FAIRVIEW PLANT

Portland, Jan. 19.—(P)—Mayor Earl Riley of Portland said today that plans to locate aluminum rolling mills at both Fairview, Ore., and Los Angeles, had been abandoned by the federal government.

The mayor, who discussed the plans with officials in Washington, D. C., last week, said facilities of the mills would be combined on one site. He said he hoped it would be at Fairview.

Riley also said the office of civilian defense soon would send medical supplies and fire fighting equipment to Portland. Promised are gas masks, 40,000 feet of fire hose, 80,000 small pumps and other equipment, he said.

Enjoyment of FINE WINES IS SO SIMPLE!

The rule is "Serve the type of wine you like in the way you like." The European etiquette of wine service is perfect for formal many-course dinners. But for the ordinary informal dinner of the American family, one carefully selected table wine served with informal graciousness is the easy answer.
