Generous Response To Penny-a-Plane Effort, Say Redmen

Response has been generous so far to the "penny-a-plane" plan being sponsored here by the Redmen and Pocahontas lodges, a lodge spokesman said today.

Under this plan the public is asked to drop in tins placed around town the same number of pennies as enemy planes shot down by Americans the previous day. A sign on the can tells the number.

The lodges today expressed thanks to firms that helped them prepare for the "penny-a-plane" plan. These included Kay Lithographing, Inc., and the Klocker Printery, which supplied labels and cards, the Rogue River Valley Canning company, which furnished the cans, Hubbard Brothers, which provided the lids, and Hunt's specialty ice cream shop, which supplied the wooden sticks holding the cards.

The pennies thus collected are to be sent to Washington where a fund, similarly collected throughout the nation, will be used solely to build planes.

MEDCO EMPLOYE SEEKS DAMAGE

A personal injury damage suit for $27,029.59 was filed against the Medford Corporation by Reggy Drinkwater yesterday. General damages of $25,000 are sought for injuries allegedly sustained in an accident near Butte Falls, July 6, 1940, and special damages of $1,572.50 for loss of earnings and $457 for medical attention and an artificial leg. The complaint sets forth as the result of the accident, Drinkwater's leg was amputated.

Drinkwater was employed at the time as a logging truck operator. Shortly before the mishap he had arrived at the unloading platform with a load of logs and steps were taken to unload it. During this process, the "brow" log fell on the opposite side from the platform, striking Drinkwater, and injuring his leg. Negligence on the part of the defendant corporation is alleged.

High Court Upholds Conviction of Medic Who Stole Plumbing

Salem, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Dr. Louis K. Poyntz, former Portland physician who was sentenced to six months in the Multnomah county jail for stealing a small quantity of plumbing materials from the Montgomery Ward store, was ordered by the state supreme court today to serve his sentence.

But he won't have to, as he can't be served with the court order. He now is a medical corps major in the Canadian army.

The court, in a decision by Justice Rand upholding Circuit Judge Alfred P. Dobson, affirmed the conviction of Dr. Poyntz, who holds degrees in medicine and chemical engineering, who is an accomplished astronomer, and who also is a practicing attorney.

John Gottfried, a baker employed by the Cherry City Baking company of Salem who received a back injury when he stooped to pick up a bun he had dropped, lost his suit for workmen's compensation.
