Women Voters Board Outlines January Meeting

Plans for a January members meeting of the Jackson County League of Women Voters were made yesterday when board members of the group met at the home of the president, Mrs. Leonard Carpenter. The general meeting will be Tuesday, January 27, at the Girls' Community club at 3 o'clock.

The league's program for the ensuing months will be discussed by Mrs. Carpenter, who last week attended a meeting of Oregon league presidents and state board members held in Portland. Reports were made at that time on a national council gathering held recently in Indianapolis where national league policies in keeping with the war situation were outlined.

M. D. Wooley, superintendent of the boys' training school at Woodburn has accepted an invitation to speak at a community meeting in the county in February according to Mrs. L. G. Lyman, chairman of a league committee making arrangements for his visit here. Announcement of the date and place of meeting will be made in the near future. Tentative plans were made also for a March meeting.

Mrs. F. G. Hughes was named chairman of a committee to draft a sample ordinance setting up city meat inspection.

MAY WIN WAR YET LOSE CAUSE PASTOR CLAIMS

Rev. Fred M. Weatherford, pastor of the local Church of the Nazarene, asserts that more Christians are needed to conserve nation's bulwark. His message follows:

We are in danger of losing the cause for which we fight unless we restock our spiritual assets by making more Christians. We are fighting for the freedom of Christian democracy, but unless people enlist in the cause of righteousness, when the church is calling for volunteers during the war, we may wake up to find our Christian forces insufficient to maintain freedom after the war is won. With such consequences we would win the war, yet lose the cause for which we are fighting.

The church represents the spiritual power by which the very principle of our freedom is sustained. Let us remember the fate of other nations whose spiritual bankruptcy cost them their freedom.

But a sufficient Christianity goes far beyond to guarantee democratic freedom merely. The Christian is given a joyful liberation from the blighting power imposed by sin, and a sweet conscious witness within that a place is reserved for him in heaven. This is the Christian's greatest asset.—Adv.

Graduate Nurses Hear Two Members Of State Board

Graduate Nurses, District No. 4, were complimented last evening on their organization in Jackson county and the part the district is playing in national defense by two members of the state board of nurses, Mrs. Minnie Laird and Mrs. Ethel Norene, both of Portland.

The visitors arrived yesterday from Klamath Falls on a tour of the state and were planning to continue to Grants Pass today where they were to meet with nurses of that district.

They pointed out that a shortage of nurses exists in the United States and said that the age limit for Red Cross nurses has been raised from 35 to 50 years, enabling many capable nurses to return to active duty.

Mrs. Norene discussed the organization of the state board and explained how important it was for nurses to keep in contact with the board. They congratulated the nurses on their participation in national defense and the fact that one nurse, doctor and dentist had been appointed to each casualty station in Jackson county. Doctors of the county are also assisting nurses in first aid classes which are being held weekly.

About 20 nurses attended the session at Sacred Heart hospital. Mrs. Norene and Mrs. Laird also answered questions regarding the state board.

Decorations carried out a pink and blue theme with pink sweet peas being used on the tables and the tallies and refreshments followed the same color scheme.
