BAN PROSTITUTION IN MEDFORD AREA BECAUSE OF CAMP

District Attorney Says Suspected Places Given Word - Guard Against Influx.

One direct effect of the war here: known prostitutes have been notified by the police to close shop or move on.

Of course in a fair city like Medford there was really not much commercialized prostitution, District Attorney George W. Neilson intimated, and in Ashland and the rest of the county there hasn't been any at all.

Watch for Influx Sheriff Syd I. Brown said a sharp eye was being kept for any influx of prostitutes following cantonment workers or soldiers.

The order to the few places under suspicion to close up or blow was issued after a meeting here of law enforcement officers of Jackson and Josephine counties with a federal agency representative who explained the army's stand for positive repression.

Junior High Boys And Girls To Vie In Essay Contest

Medford Junior high school students are now hard at work preparing essays that will win for them free passes to the Rialto theatre and a grand prize, which is a personally autographed portrait of the famous screen team of Abbott and Costello.

The rules are simple. The essay must not be more than 500 words each and must be turned into the English department not later than tomorrow night, Friday, January 23.

The grand prize offered is a handsomely autographed portrait of Abbott and Costello and two passes to see "Cavalcade of Aviation." The next five best will receive double passes to see the aviation film and the next five will receive one pass each.

The winners will be announced in the Monday edition of the Medford Mail Tribune.
