Finishes Course—Pvt. Merrill C. Stanley, 343 North Ivy street, recently completed a wire chief course at the U. S. signal corps school at Fort Monmouth, N. J., and will go January 28 to the 54th signal battalion at San Bernardino, Cal., according to official word received here today. He is the son of Mrs. C. E. Stanley. Before being inducted last April 8 as a selectee, Stanley was employed by the Western Electric company as an equipment installer.

Slightly Burned—Mrs. James W. Grigsby was slightly burned on the hands and her eyebrows were singed by a sudden puff of flame from the sawdust furnace she was refueling in the basement of her home in Jacksonville Friday afternoon. Mrs. Grigsby, according to her husband, stuck a piece of paper in the furnace after putting in a quantity of sawdust, and the sudden burst of flame singed her before she could close the door. Her burns did not require medical attention.

Minor Accidents—Charles N. Hansen of 819 North Central avenue and J. A. Grigsby of 208 North Peach street drove cars involved in a minor accident on East Eighth street near Central avenue Saturday night, a report on file said today. Machines operated by Raymond Marx of 313 North Holly street and E. E. Vail of Ashland were involved in a minor mishap on North Riverside avenue near Jackson boulevard Saturday afternoon, according to a report on file today. Gertrude Essa Neff of 217 West Second street and Joseph M. Wendling of Jacksonville were drivers of autos involved in a mishap at Holly and Sixth streets Saturday afternoon, it was stated in a report on file today.

Returns—Dr. George C. Ruhle, Crater Lake national park naturalist, returned here Saturday by train after spending the past month in the east where he attended to official business in Washington, D. C., at the national park service office. While there he was guest at the home of Chief Justice Harland Fiske Stone. He lectured at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and Yale university, New Haven, Conn. He attended meeting of the American Anthropological society at Andover, Mass., the American Geological society, American Paleontological department and Society of Economic Geologists at Boston, Mass.

CITY'S STUDENTS LABOR ON FINAL SEMESTER QUIZ

With furrowed brows and much chewing of pencils, Medford's public school students buckled down today to take their final examinations for the first semester. The second semester will start next morning, February 2.

First-semester exams will take up the first three days of this week. There will be no school on Thursday, while teachers correct the exams, and on Friday afternoon the students will return to their respective schools to receive their final report cards. All students will be given their report cards at 2:30 p. m. Friday except those graduating into junior high school at mid-year. These pupils will receive their cards at 1:30 so they can hurry to junior high and register for the second semester.

Glenn L. Linn, principal of junior high school, requested all new junior high students from out of town to register for the second semester between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. any day from Tuesday through Friday, in order to eliminate any rush on Monday.

Weather Report—Weather report at Crater Lake national park for January 23 showed a new snowfall of 3.6 inches bringing the total snowfall to 58 inches at headquarters. Maximum temperature for the day was 30, minimum 25 degrees.

To Alaska—Harry G. Moore, former Medford resident now employed by the U. S. corps of engineers in a civilian capacity at Spokane, Wash., will leave the latter part of this month for Alaska where he will remain about three months on a special auditing mission, friends here learned today.

Wardens To Meet—Air raid wardens of precincts 32, 33, 34, 35 and 36 will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Lincoln school gymnasium and other interested persons of these precincts are invited to attend. Organization of the precincts will be explained and instructions given, said Frank Hull, civilian defense coordinator.

Skiier Injured—George N. Woodworth, Klamath Falls, was injured yesterday about 3:30 p. m. on Solinsky hill in Crater Lake national park when he fell on his skis and dislocated and sprained his right knee, headquarters here reported today. He received first aid from Mark Clark of the ski patrol and Ranger W. T. Frost and returned to Klamath Falls with Mrs. Woodworth.

Son Killed—Friends said today that Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Close of Medford received official notice Saturday night of the death of their son, Thomas, in the armed forces of the United States. Mrs. Close, prostrate over the tragic news, was taken to Community hospital where she was still receiving treatment today. Mr. Close could not be reached immediately for details of the tragedy.

DAMAGES ASKED IN AUTO SMASHUP

In a damage action filed in circuit court Saturday, Della Warren, former Ashland resident, seeks $14,500 general damages, and $500 special damages from Orrin Day, for alleged injuries sustained in an auto accident on the Pacific Highway on January 14, 1940. Day formerly lived in Eagle Point.

The complaint and amended complaint, filed by Attorney Don R. Newbury, alleges that Day negligently drove his auto from a side road onto the highway resulting in a crash, causing injuries to the plaintiff, while she was a passenger in another car.

Church Filled for Evangelist Quartet

The Edwards' ladies' evangelistic quartet were accorded the hearing of a full house both morning and evening yesterday in the opening of their southern Oregon campaign for a revival of Christian democracy, under auspices of the Medford Church of the Nazarene, Holly at First. Meetings will continue every night at 7:30, including Saturday night. Day services will be held Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 2:30 p. m. Children's meetings will be conducted at 4:00 o'clock every afternoon except Saturday.

M'KEE OPPOSES—Portland, Ore., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Paul B. McKee, president of Pacific Power & Light company, opposed yesterday a Bonneville administration plan to purchase Pacific Northwest Electric company systems.

YANKS AND DUTCH TAKE HEAVY TOLL IN JAVA DEFENSE

torpedoed it was so resisted that it was impossible for its command to determine the result of the hit.

The battle started on Thursday afternoon when Dutch airmen, roaring out from their jungle-shielded bases, scored 12 direct hits with heavy and medium caliber bombs on eight ships.

United States naval and air forces joined in the attack on the following day and the hot, equatorial waters of Macassar strait were churned by bombs and torpedoes from flying fortresses, light and heavy bombers, submarines, cruisers and destroyers.

Slight damage to one united nations warship was the only naval damage acknowledged so far as the cost of the attack. The losses inflicted on the Japanese were the heaviest of any counter-action since the Japanese launched their grand offensive in the southwest Pacific region on December 7.

Aussies Active—Linked with the battle of Macassar strait was fighting to the east between Japanese invasion forces and Australians defending the outposts of their territory in New Britain and New Ireland. The Japanese also have landed in the Solomon Islands and landings are threatened in New Guinea.

With the war thus advancing by these insular stepping stones toward the Australian mainland, the Melbourne war cabinet ordered immediate full mobilization of working and fighting manpower, requiring all men up to 60 years of age to register. Enrollment of women also is expected.

Australian militiamen were holding a hard-pressed line in the hills south of Rabaul, at the northern end of New Britain, where 10,000 Japanese troops are believed to have landed.

In two other important sectors of the battle of the western Pacific, the Philippines and British-Malaya, developments were mixed. Washington reported that General Douglas MacArthur's Filipino-American forces, having smashed the Japanese on the left wing of their Bataan peninsula line, now were confronted only by minor skirmishing action of the enemy. The British communiqué from Singapore said that Batu Pahat, western anchor of the defense line 60 miles from the Singapore base, had been abandoned, with British imperial troops falling back before the invader to new positions to the south.

CALIFORNIA HEARS STRANGE PLANES

San Francisco, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Southern California radio stations were silenced for nearly four hours today while unidentified planes cruised over the area.

An alert was given, calling radio stations off the air, at 6:45 a. m. (PST), when planes were first heard approaching the Los Angeles-Long Beach area. Broadcasters did not return to the air until 10:30 a. m., after the unidentified craft had left the area, and the interceptor command gave the all clear signal.

In announcing the flight of the planes, the western defense command did not indicate their probable number or direction. No air raid warning to the public was announced for any part of the territory over which the planes were known to have cruised. Their course was followed by ground listening posts, until they had left the area.

In "Skylark"

Claudette Colbert, as the long suffering wife, puts hubby Ray Milland through the hoops in "Skylark," the hilarious comedy-romance heading the program at the Craterian theatre until tomorrow night. A new March of Time, "Our America at War," and Ted Crawford in person at the console of the Wurlitzer, are added attractions.

Phillip Lowry Aids In Drafting Plan to Push Defense Bonds

Two University of Oregon law students, Phillip Lowry of Medford, and Don Walker, of Portland, have originated a plan for sale of defense bonds and stamps among college students of the nation. Already at work on the Eugene campus it is anticipated that the plan will be adopted on a nation-wide basis. The plan, outlined in a 20-page report with specific details on how it is to be put into effect, has secured the approval of University President Donald M. Erb, Governor Sprague and Palmer Hoyt, head of the state defense committee.

It has been sent to Ted Gamble in Washington, D. C., for approval of the treasury department. Tickets for one campus dance will be purchased with defense stamps and living organizations have been encouraged to buy defense bonds. Lowry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lowry, Bear Creek Orchards.

G. PASS TRAGEDY TERMED ACCIDENT

Grants Pass, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Dr. Joseph Beaman, Portland autopsy surgeon and criminologist, issued a report finding the death of H. E. Stewart, 67, was due to an accidental explosion of dynamite. Coroner Virgil Hull reported today.

Stewart's body, punctured by scores of small rocks, was found in a shallow pit. Dr. Beaman deduced Stewart staggered home, lay in bed for several days, contracted pneumonia from a rock particle piercing one lung, and fell in the pit when he finished.

Triple Slayer Gets Execution Sentence

Pendleton, Ore., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Circuit Judge C. L. Sweek this morning sentenced John Anthony Soto, 17, convicted of murder, to be executed in the state's lethal gas chamber on March 20. Soto was convicted of the slaying of Mrs. Cora Tobin, her son, Kenneth Gorsuch, and her nephew, Marvin Adams, on a farm near Hermiston September 25.

Air Cavalcade

The "roller-coaster" take-off of one of the earlier model "freak" airplanes which played such an important part in the progress of aviation, is one of the hundred and one highlights of "Cavalcade of Aviation," thrilling Universal Pictures feature which heads a bill of three big hits tomorrow and Wednesday at the Rialto theatre. This invention "laid an egg" as did many of the other hair-brain ideas that have been contributed to the great "cavalcade of aviation."

"New Wine," starring Ilona Massey, and "Sealed Lips," featuring William Gargan and Anna Nagle, will play as the two regular features.

Open Temporary Army Recruiting Booth At Rialto

All persons seeking information regarding the recruiting service of the United States army—regardless of whether they want to enlist or are just "in the dark" about certain questions—will have the opportunity of having them answered tomorrow night at the Rialto theatre, where the local army recruiting officer, Sergeant J. W. Cushman, will officiate in the lobby from 6:45 'til 8:00 o'clock.

Sergeant Cushman is setting up a temporary U. S. army recruiting station at the Rialto theatre between those hours in order to cooperate with the theatre's grand opening of the thrilling Universal Pictures feature, "Cavalcade of Aviation," which plays tomorrow and Wednesday. The film depicts the "cavalcade of aviation" from the first flight of the Wright brothers to our present-day flying fortresses.

Many persons will want to contact him at the theatre for information regarding enlistment in the army flying corps. He will be ready and willing to answer all questions put to him.

LEGION FOR MOVING ALIENS FROM FRONTS

Portland, Jan. 26.—(AP)—The executive committee of the Oregon American Legion proposed yesterday that all enemy aliens be removed from critical and strategic areas.

A resolution said the aliens are "a menace to the security of our nation."

Diet and Health

Some think of diet as a punishment. A normal diet with its consequent effects is a pleasure, compared to the many who "enjoy eating" and by it build up disease.

The proper diet for you may not be the proper diet for your neighbor. What do you wish to build? You cannot plant corn and grow wheat. Neither can you live on starches and proteins exclusively and have health. The right proportions of minerals and vitamins are essential in maintaining and in building health.

Normal circulation and nerve function enables you to properly assimilate these essential minerals and vitamins. Normal digestion is vital to health. Naturopathy improves the assimilation by producing better digestion.
