

EMERGENCY UNIT WILL BE FORMED FOR BOY SCOUTS

Older Members Must Pass Rigid Physical Exam And Hold Merit Badges.

An emergency service corps open to older members of the Boy Scouts of America will be formed for the entire Medford district according to S. M. Bullis, district scout chairman. Senior scouts of first class rank and 15 years of age or older will be eligible.

Those entering must pass a rigid physical examination, hold certain merit badges in first aid, firemanship, etc., and meet other specific athletic requirements.

The district corps will be made up of emergency service patrols drawn from regular scout troops in the entire district which includes Medford, Central Point, Gold Hill, Eagle Point, Butte Falls and Prospect. After the first few meetings the corps will meet monthly for specialized training including such subjects as fire suppression, communications, first aid, transportation, observations, etc.

Interest Grows

The first such corps were organized in the United States four years ago and interest in them has gradually spread, receiving added impetus by the American entrance into the war. Groups are also being organized at Grants Pass and in the southern part of Siskiyou county including Weed, Mt. Shasta, Dunsmuir and McCloud.

The local group will be under leadership of Lawrence DeLong, an engineer with the U. S. war department. DeLong has had many years of scout experience, being a former eagle scout and quartermaster Sea Scout from the Richard H. Dana, Jr. of Portland, Ore.

The corps members will wear distinctive emblems and operate under direction of the local Boy Scout council. In time of disaster or emergency they would operate directly under the Office of Civilian Defense in accordance with a joint agreement recently signed between the Office of Civilian Defense and the Boy Scouts of America, outlining responsibilities of the Boy Scouts as fixed in their federal charter from the United States congress.

Several other local scout leaders will serve as assistants in the Emergency Service corps and in charge of special branches of the work.

ENLIST IN NAVY AND STAY ON JOB UNTIL SUMMONED

Men may now enlist in the U. S. navy and retain their jobs until they are called to a training station, Jack M. Carpenter, in charge of the recruiting station in the Medford federal building, said today he had been notified by Lieut. G. F. De Grave, Portland, recruiting officer for the Oregon district. After they have been formally enlisted, the men will be on a leave status on pay while they continue at their present jobs, according to the new regulations.

Under this system, men accepted tentatively at the recruiting station here will go to Portland at government expense for their final medical examinations and if they pass they will be formally enlisted. They will then be ordered home on leave at government expense so that they can continue in their present jobs until ordered to a training station, travel to the station to be provided by the government.

"It appears as though this plan will continue for several weeks," Mr. Carpenter said. He emphasized that this ruling should not be confused with the recently promulgated order that applied only to high school and college students 17 to 20 years old. Under this plan, high school and college students between 17 and 20 are permitted to complete the present school or college term after they have enlisted.
