

"The Men in Her Life", Starring Loretta Young, Opens at Craterian

CONRAD VEIDT IN SUPPORTING ROLE BRILLIANT DRAMA

Dean Jagger And Otto Kruger In Picture Opening Three-Day Run.

"The Men in Her Life," new romantic drama of an exciting woman, opens today at the Craterian theatre with beautiful Loretta Young starred. The cast includes such well-known players as Conrad Veidt, Dean Jagger, John Shepperd, Otto Kruger and Eugene Leontovich. Story of a world-famed theatrical celebrity, "The Men in Her Life" is said to offer Miss Young an opportunity to display all the brilliant versatility which has made her one of the screen's most gracious, glamorous stars. Happiness and heart-break, tragedy and triumph—against the colorful backgrounds of the stage and the capitals of the world.

Until now one of the better "menaces" of the screen, Conrad Veidt is said to move into a sympathetic and romantic role with the ease of long years of stellar experience. Dean Jagger has been praised as similarly grand in a contrasting romantic role, his determined devotion in sharp contrast to Veidt's tender kindness. The other men in Miss Young's screen life also are contrasts in temperament. John Shepperd is dashing and impetuous; Otto Kruger, blundering and helpless.

Frost is unknown in Bermuda and vegetation remains green throughout the year, the department of commerce says.

"Birth of the Blues" at Craterian Wednesday

The boys and the girl who gave the blues that "certain swing" in colorful days of New Orleans when Dixieland jazz was fighting for recognition are re-enacted in the film-musical, "Birth of the Blues," which comes to the Craterian theatre Wednesday. Here the "Basin Street Hot Shots"; Bing Crosby, clarinetist; Brian Donlevy, cornetist, and Jack Teagarden, trombonist. In the inset is pretty Mary Martin, the band's hot-cha soloist. Rochester and little Carolyn Lee are also featured in the cast.

Nelson Eddy, Rise Stevens In Rialto Musical Production

Music lovers, regardless of their tastes, have a treat in store for them when "The Chocolate Soldier" opens for today and tomorrow only at the Rialto theatre. Starring Nelson Eddy and the new singing star, Rise Stevens, "The Chocolate Soldier" comes to the popular show-house as one of the most eagerly awaited pictures in months.

A brilliant production, musically and dramatically, the film is said to serve as an excellent vehicle to introduce the sensational voice of Miss Stevens, Hollywood's newest singing star who comes to the movies from the Metropolitan opera.

The producers have drawn from the popular Oscar Straus numbers, from opera and from classics, embellished with new and modern arrangements, to round out a musical repertoire for Eddy and Miss Stevens that will be sure to be the "it" of musicals for a long time to come.

The story is an old one so does not need retelling—that of a married couple who are the toasts of the musical world. They drift apart and are reunited when the husband masquerades as a gallant knight to win back the love of his lady fair.

Others in the cast are Nigel Bruce and Florence Bates with dozens of fine voices blended into a supporting chorus for the musical stars.

"Tanks A Million," heralded as the funniest army camp comedy since "Buck Privates" and starring James Gleason, William Tracy and Noah Beery, Jr., plays as the companion comedy hit with the Nelson Eddy song treat.
