KIWANIS WIRE CONGRESSMEN TO PRESS WAR LAWS

Immediate Legislation For All-Out Effort Urged—Ask Rotary Cooperation.

Following the suggestions made by H. C. Kaltenborn to a nation-wide audience Sunday, the Medford Kiwanis club at its Monday noon luncheon meeting drafted a telegram for each of Oregon's five legislators in Washington, D. C., asking that they sponsor immediate legislation designed to place the country on an all-out war footing.

The telegrams were dispatched to Washington yesterday afternoon, and the Kiwanis club plans to seek the cooperation of other local service clubs and organizations in flooding the national capital with similar messages.

Sent to Senators Charles L. McNary and Rufus C. Holman, and Representatives James W. Mott, Walter M. Pierce and Homer D. Angell, the telegrams read as follows:

"As our representative in congress, we ask that you sponsor immediate legislation for duration of the war.

"First, to control prices of all commodities, including farm products, in order to eliminate further inflation.

"Second, to control compensation of all classes of workers, suspend payments for all overtime and permit unlimited hours of work.

"Third, to make strikes in all industries unlawful.

"Fourth, to limit all industry to fair return on investment.

"Fifth, to eliminate all non-war essential governmental activities, bureaus and agencies.

"Sixth, to disregard all pressure groups and sponsor only legislation designed to win the war.

"We are not apathetic to the seriousness of the war. This is the wish of 100 per cent of the members of the Medford Kiwanis club."

Support of the Rotary club in the campaign was enlisted at its noon luncheon-meeting today. Rotarian Leonard B. Mayfield read a copy of the telegram, and after meeting with instant approval the matter was referred to a meeting of the directors tonight.

Otto J. Frohnmayer, spokesman for the Kiwanis club, explained that the plan tied in with legislation introduced in the house yesterday limiting profits of war contracts to a maximum of six per cent, and suspending federal statutes prescribing maximum hours of work.

The Kiwanis club, he said, is calling on all clubs, organizations and individuals in favor of such legislation as asked in the telegrams, to write or wire their congressmen immediately.

HOLDUPS FOILED BY NONCHALANCE OF STORE OWNER

Two young men, attempting a hold-up at the Beverage Shop, 124 South Central, last night, were apparently foiled by the nonchalance of the proprietor, Horace Turpin.

According to Turpin's report, the two men came up to the counter as he started toward the back of his shop. One of them, dark complexioned, with a revolver, said, "hold-up." As Turpin returned, "let's have it."

Turpin went on about his work, saying, "Help yourself." The men then turned and left without bothering anything.

The gun wielder was described by Turpin as not over 21, dark and smooth shaven. He appeared to be about five feet, six inches tall and to weigh about 140 pounds. He had a southern drawl and was described as good looking.

His companion, approximately the same size, was blond and had a pock-marked face. He was wearing a blue sweater.

Confirmation of Turpin's story came from Murray's Maid Rite, where, an employee said, men answering the descriptions had been shortly before the time they appeared at the Beverage Shop.
