ANSWERING FALSE RUMOR
IT has been rumored that our mattress factories in 9 western states have closed down for the want of cotton, for making new mattresses. We do not know the status of any other than our status, but will say this: we have plenty on hand and have been notified from our source of supply that they have anything from 50 to 100 bales of cotton at our disposal.
Also spring units for inner spring mattresses, new or rebuilt.
Also we are still getting most all materials we need in our furniture upholstery dept.
Still calling for and delivering as long as present tires hold out.

Water, Water, Oceans of Water
PART of our secret of laundering soiled articles so well (and it's no secret that we do) is the liberal use of water—water, and lots of water.
AFTER washing in mildest and purest of soap, each article is rinsed in clean fresh water. Every trace of soap is removed by these "top-good-measure" immersions.
TREAT your fabrics to this fresh water cure. Send your soiled articles to us this week.
