Drivers Cautioned—Local police today cautioned drivers to observe the regulations concerning funeral processions. Police said that motorists had interrupted processions on several occasions lately. Cars in a procession have their lights burning, police stated, and added that proper respect should be shown to the deceased.

Minor Accidents—Passenger machines of Robert Dale, 712 Palm street, and R. J. Arnold, 340 Haven street, collided at the intersection of Palm and Peach streets this morning, according to a report on file. The couples of Paul Michael, Route 2, and Frank Schubert, Riebe, Sprague River, were involved in a minor mishap at the intersection of Main street and Oakdale avenue yesterday. Reginald W. Wood reported that his truck was hit by another vehicle, unidentified, on Riverside avenue near Sixth street. Minor damage occurred in a mishap involving the cars of Mrs. Cindy Larsen, 607 West 11th street, and Nick S. Young, 509 North Riverside, in front of the north office.

At Hospital—Mrs. W. G. Friends of DeBar avenue, Howard district, underwent an eye operation at Sacred Heart hospital Monday and is reported to be improving nicely. She is able to have company.

Building Permits—Harold L. Wells, 210 West Jackson street, applied at the city building inspector's office yesterday for permission to make additions, valued at $800, to his residence. T. N. Cline applied for a permit to build additions, valued at $300, to his residence, 807 Pine street.

"The Bugle Sounds" Here Sunday

When the U. S. cavalry is replaced by mechanical forces, Sergeant Wallace Beery contemptuously calls the tanks "machine guns on kiddy cars." It happens in "The Bugle Sounds,"

"Call Out the Marines" Holly Opener

The "Sez you, sez me" boys—Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe, take up where they left off in "What Price Glory" and, in "Call Out the Marines," will inaugurate the re-opening of the Holly theatre Saturday. Binnie Barnes is the inevitable blonde between the boys.

"Freckles" Role

Johnny Downs portrays the immortal Gene Stratton-Porter character, "Freckles," in "Freckles Comes Home," which comes to the Rialto theatre for tomorrow and Saturday as the added feature with Clarence E. Mulford's "Secret of the Wasteland."

Drawing Crowds

Ginger Rogers is winning capacity crowds to the Craterian theatre with her grand portrayal of "Roxie Hart," the girl who became a national pastime. A Donald Duck cartoon, in technicolor, a two-reel technicolor musical.
