HEALTH TALKS By DR. A. R. HEDGES, Chiropractic & Naturopathic Physician. Phone 3170 128 E. Main St.

HEALTH "A state of health consists in the power of all the different organs to perform, in an easy and regular manner, all their proper offices." Upon a state of health our happiness and success in life greatly depends. No one can expect to maintain or regain health by daily violating the laws of their being. Health is the result of living in harmony with the laws of your being and of the universe in so far as it affects you. Too many fail to place the proper value upon health until they have lost it. You cannot expect to live a life in violation of the laws of nature and then reap the benefits of their observance. If the destruction and degeneration of tissues have not advanced too far much may be done toward assisting their repair. Seek to regain your state of health before alleviation only can be attained.
