MAMMOTH CROWD WATCHES PARADE, HEARS ADDRESSES

diers as they would like to have their own sons treated.

Solve Own Problems

Lieut.-Col. Furch cautioned Jackson county citizens that "it is the policy of the war department to let each community straighten out its problems of prices, rents, et cetera, but that the war department can and will step in and control such things if it is forced to do so."

Capt. Joseph P. Carson, U. S. engineers, commander of the Oregon State American Legion, delivered a ringing pledge in behalf of the Legion that "we are going to emerge victorious, and never again will we let ourselves become so weak that a barbarous and treacherous foe will attack us."

Frank Hull, coordinator of the Jackson County Civilian War Council, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced Mayor Deuel, who said, "In this life and death struggle our nation is in, nothing counts except victory." The mayor expressed his deepest appreciation to all who participated in the army day celebration.

Ashland Dedicated

Mayor Thornton Wiley of Ashland, introduced by Mayor Deuel, pledged "our community to be wholeheartedly behind America's armed forces in this war, and never was there a day when we all must dedicate ourselves so completely to emerging victorious in the bitter struggle ahead."

Also introduced were Maj. Bean, J. C. Boyle, chairman, Jackson County Civilian War council; W. A. Gates, Jackson county chairman, war stamps and bonds sales; R. G. Fowler, chairman Jackson county salvage committee and Lieut. Richard Roberts of the U. S. navy.

Mr. Hull personally thanked the many county air raid observers "who are giving of their time and effort every day, and every hour—night and day—week in and week out, all the time without pay" for their spirit of cooperation and sacrifice.

Bombs Demonstrated

Under the direction of Fire Chief Roy Elliott, a demonstration of the methods of controlling magnesium incendiary bombs was given after the bombs were placed in a frame structure in front of the grandstand.

Capt. S. M. Tuttle, commander of the air raid control center, announced the first aid demonstrations given by three teams to victims supposedly injured by bombs.

Among the many local organizations participating in the parade was Company A of the First Battalion, First Regiment, Oregon State Guard, making their first public appearance since replacing the Oregon National Guard as the official defense unit for Medford.

Profane Transient Assessed $10 Fine

Elmer S. Jones, transient, charged with disorderly conduct was fined $10 and costs in justice court yesterday. Jones, upon a complaint signed by his wife, allegedly used profane language while intoxicated in a local hotel.

Clyde S. Evans of Sacramento was fined $14.50 for having no PUC permit for his auto and $7 for having an overwidth load on his truck. Both fines carried $4.50 costs.

For failure to stop at stop sign Kenneth L. Kindred, Medford, was fined $1 and costs. Frank Chroninger was assessed $1.50 and costs for driving an auto with improper lights.

Retail Sales Tax Seen Last Resort

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—Rep. Treadway (R.-Mass.) told the house today he had come to believe that congress might have to resort to a general retail sales tax in order to raise the $7,000,000,000 in new revenue President Roosevelt has requested.

Month-long hearings by the ways and means committee, he said, have produced witnesses who have opposed almost every recommendation of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau to find the money.

Salem Will Hire Air Raid Chief

Salem, April 7—(AP)—The Salem city council approved last night a $250 expenditure to pay a full-time air raid precautions supervisor for two months, and tentatively approved a proposed ordinance to forbid the sale of fireworks for the duration of the war.

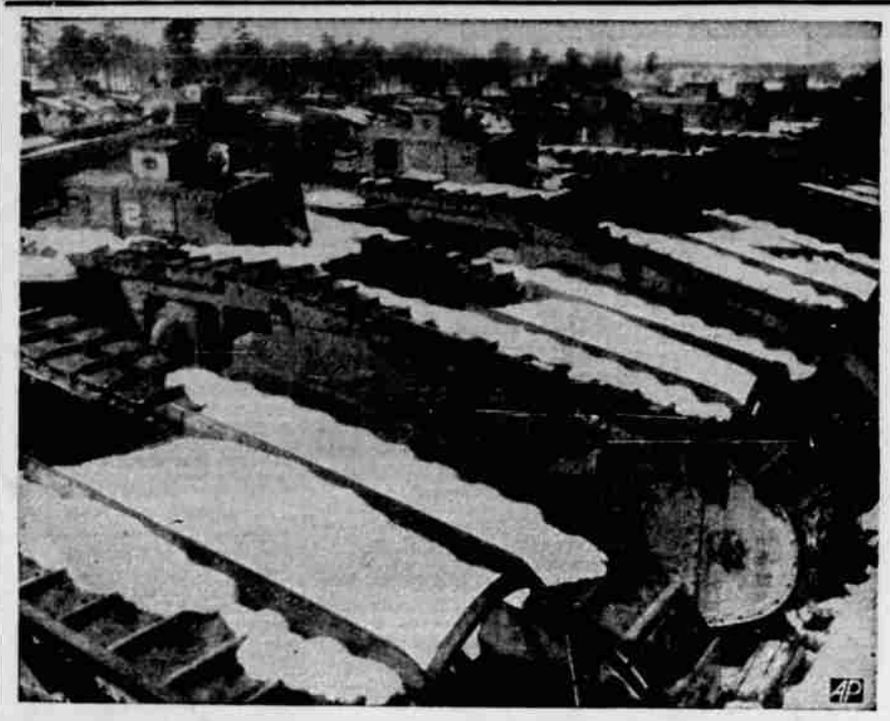
World War Tanks To Be Reborn



These tanks, built during the first World War, are to be reduced to scrap for use in current war industries. They are part of a group of 178 at Fort George Meade, Md., purchased from the army by a Baltimore scrap dealer.

Marvin T. Warlick, Bourbon Candidate, Is Medford Visitor

Marvin T. Warlick of Eugene, Democratic candidate for congress from the newly created fourth Oregon district, was a visitor in Medford yesterday and last night and attended the American Legion meeting.

Warlick, whose slogan is "a practical business man to handle the business of a busy practical people," lists the following four planks in his platform:

(1) Demand an end to excess profits and strikes; (2) no party politics at the expense of our country; (3) support the president; do something to win the peace, and (4) think of the next generation and not of the next election.

Warlick, who expressed his pleasure at the reception he received here, left for the north this morning.

Ballots Mailed for Election of 8 New Chamber Directors

Ballots were being mailed today to all members of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce for the election of eight new directors for the 1942-43 year. The ballot box is located in the chamber building and all must be deposited by noon Wednesday, April 15.

Seventeen candidates for the eight new directors posts were named in the preliminary election which closed at noon yesterday, and from this list the new directors will be chosen. There are nine holdover directors whose terms do not expire.

Named in the preliminary election were O. M. Anderson, Charles S. Adair, Lee P. Bishop, C. B. Collins, Charles Clay, C. C. Furnas, George Frey, W. A. Gates, B. E. Harder, Floyd Hart, Glenn L. Jackson, Karl L. Janouch, D. D. Kay, H. B. Murphy, A. C. Pierce, Eugene Thorndike and Capt. S. M. Tuttle.

ANTI-CUFF EDICT IRKS VAIN MALES

Vain males, smarting under the War Production board's edict banning cuffs on pants, have attempted to circumvent the wool conservation measure by buying pants too long and taking them to a tailor to be finished with cuffs, the board has discovered.

Although custom tailors and made-to-measure clothiers may finish suits previously ordered with cuffs and other furbelows, until May 30, it is unlawful for anyone to put cuffs on pants purchased from ready-to-wear stock, according to local interpretations of the WPB orders.

Construct Mill Pond For Plywood Plant

Work of constructing a mill pond is now underway at the plywood plant of the Timber Products company, under construction near the mill. The work of installing a "barker" is also underway. The "barker" strips the bark from logs.

Manager Floyd H. Hart said completion of the plant was indefinite due to delay in receiving machinery and equipment and lack of labor.

China and Vatican Will Swap Envoys

Chunking, April 7—(AP)—An exchange of diplomatic representatives between China and the Vatican has been arranged, A government spokesman announced today.

He said the Chinese government soon would send an envoy—as yet undesignated—to the Holy See.

(A similar exchange was arranged recently between Tokyo and the Vatican.)

BANK CALL

Washington, April 7—(AP)—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for a statement of the condition of all national banks at the close of business Saturday, April 4.

THEATER ROBBED

Portland, April 7.—(AP)—A poorly dressed patron forced his way into the balcony office of the Music Box theatre last night and robbed Kenneth W. Hughes, manager, of $200 from the office safe. Hughes told detectives the man had a revolver and forced Hughes and Frances Carlson, an usher, to lie on the floor while he robbed the open safe.

GYPSY OPERETTA THURSDAY NIGHT AT CENTRAL PT.

Central Point, April 7.—(Spl.)—"White Gypsy," an operetta in two acts, will be presented by students of Central Point grade school Thursday at 8 p. m.

The operetta is a thrilling tale of the adventures of a white princess among the Gypsies of the forest. The entire production is colorful, highly humorous and abounding in melodies and characterizations true to Gypsy tradition.

Miss Leah Etta Evans is directing the presentation with the aid of Miss Ruth Foster as dance instructor.

In addition to the operetta which is chiefly an upper grade project, the lower grade children and teachers have prepared several short preparatory numbers for the program. The primary rhythm band will make its first appearance of the year in interpretations of "March Winds" and "Amaryllis." A third and fourth grade chorus will sing several songs.

The public is cordially invited to attend. The program will be held in the Central Point High school gymnasium.

SETH BULLIS, JR. IN MARINE CORPS

Portland, April 7.—(AP)—Marine corps enlistments reported here today included Seth M. Bullis, Jr., Medford.

Bullis, the son of Seth M. Bullis, 15 Florence street, has been employed by the state police at Roseburg. Mrs. Seth Bullis, Jr., has taken up her duties at the local Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, having been transferred here from Roseburg. She is residing at the Bullis home.

George Harold Best Listed Among Lost

George Harold Best, son of Marie Best of Ashland and a former Medford youth, presumably was lost in the sinking of the U. S. Aircraft Tender Langley recently according to a telegram received by his mother from the navy department.

George, who attended Washington grade school in Medford and has many friends here, enlisted in the navy in June of 1939 and was a coxswain aboard the Langley, his mother said. The navy department telegram informed Mrs. Best that her son was among those missing from the Langley.
