Driving Course for Motor Corps Women Completed by Forty

The Red Cross Volunteer Motor Corps, Medford chapter, have completed the driving course given by C. D. French, of the Oregon state driving motor division. Forty women have attended these classes making the second largest class in the state. The Motor Corps is now receiving instruction in motor mechanics from William A. Young at his garage. All members are required to have both standard and advanced first aid training which they now are receiving.

The duties of the Motor Corps vary according to the needs of the community in which it is located. Here in Medford they will be mostly connected with the military reservation, Camp White, when it is completed. They will include transportation of workers, entertainers, supplies and convalescent soldiers to and from the camp. There will also be a program to provide outings for hospitalized service and ex-service men and women. In case of disaster the corps members are fitted for ambulance driving and will provide transportation for relief supplies and workers.

Bataan Defenders Rolled Back

Probability that the defenses on Bataan have been overcome was indicated by the war department in Washington on basis of General Jonathan Wainwright's report that the Japanese had enveloped the east flank (1) of his American-Filipino armies. General Wainwright was at Fort Mills (2), on Corregidor, which still commands the entrance to Manila Bay. It was not immediately known how many of the defending forces had been able to retire to the island fortress.

F.D.R. Surprises Stark

In a surprise ceremony at the White House, President Roosevelt pinned a gold star on Admiral Harold R. Stark (right) commander of the U. S. Naval forces in European waters. In recognition of Stark's "Exceptional meritorious service" as chief of naval operations from 1939 until a few weeks ago.
