

DRAFT BOARDS IN CALL FOR HELP ON COMING REGISTRY

The Selective Service boards of Jackson county announced Saturday that additional volunteers are needed to assist in the registration on Monday, April 27. Need for the additional volunteers has been created by the necessity of registering the workers at the cantonment. It is expected that it will take between thirty and forty additional registrars for this work alone. The boards request anyone who can give a few hours Monday, to call 4210 and leave their name and telephone number and the hours best suited for them to work.

The following locations have been designated by Selective Service Board No. 2 as registering places for all those who reside in the various communities:

Ashland—City Hall.
Butte Falls—Town Hall.
Eagle Point—Brown's Hall.
Central Point—Old City Hall.
Jacksonville—Old City Hall.
Applegate—Community Hall.
Prospect—Gymnasium.
Talent—City Hall.
Trail—Engineer's Office.
Rogue River—City Hall.

Prescott CCC Camp—Office.
South Fork CCC Camp—Office.

Cantonment—Either timekeepers' or engineer's offices in the various divisions.

The location for registration in Phoenix will be announced later.

Selective Service Board No. 1 will register all of the Medford registrants in the court house auditorium.

It is expected that at least 50 per cent more will have to register under this age group than registered on February 16 and due to this fact the boards request registrars who can to come as early as possible and also urge employers to lend their assistance by making it possible for their employees to have time for the registration. The registration booths will be open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.

All male citizens between the ages of 45 and 64 inclusive must register.

MATT SPRINGER RITES ARE HELD IN DALLAS

The remains of Matt Springer were forwarded to Dallas, Ore., by Conger funeral parlors, Friday evening for services and interment.

Mr. Springer passed away in a local hospital early Thursday morning at the age of 72. He had been ill but a few days. For the past eight years he had made his home near Provolt.

PREPARE TO OPEN ANNUAL RUST WAR

Appointment of Ross A. Youngblood as superintendent and William D. Jones as clerk to carry on the work connected with the O & C administration bluster rust control program was announced Saturday by Otto C. F. Krueger, district ranger. Mr. Youngblood has been connected with the O & C administration for the past two years as senior CCC foreman at Brice Creek and Williams Creek. Previous to that he spent one year as ranger inspector with the forest service and two years with the bluster rust service. Mr. Jones, in addition to several private positions, has been clerk and timekeeper with the bluster rust service and the Works Project administration in this locality.

The bluster rust program, under supervision of the O & C administration, will consist of one eight-man reconnaissance crew in the Mt. Ruben area and a 50-man control camp at Soldiers Camp in the Bunker Hill mining area near Galice. The reconnaissance is planned to start by May 1 and the control work by June 1.

NO DAMAGE FROM SATURDAY FROST

Smoke from a general smudge greeted residents of the valley yesterday morning as orchardists lit their pots for the fourth time this spring.

Yesterday's frost probably did no damage commercially according to forecaster Roy Rogers since the blooms are heavy. He said, however, that it would take a couple of days of warmer weather to check the extent of the frost.

Orchardists began to light about 2 a.m. in the coldest and lowest spots in the valley. Smudging was not general until after 3 a.m. Lowest temperature was 26.7 degrees.

Rogers last evening forecast danger for last night.
